Lindgrens And Reynolds Honor Guests at Party

morning Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Olds and Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Green, who will leave La Grande the first of the new year, a number of their friends dined for a no-host dinner last night at the La Grande hotel.

Dinner was served at seven o'clock in the private dining room of the hotel, where one large table had been arranged and prettily decorated with miniature Christmas trees and holly. Covers were for 20.

After dinner the party adjourned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Williams, where a Christmas music and visiting was held until a late hour. Itay Williams, who was deceased as Santa Claus distributed the Christmas gifts which were found on the tree. The ring of the gifts caused much amusement.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Lindgren will leave the city the first of January, the party going to Klamath Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Lindgren to land. Mr. Reynolds has accepted a position as secretary of Klamath Falls Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. Lindgren will up his duties Jan. 3 as man-

Manager of the Insurance Department for the Equitable Savings and Loan company of Portland.

Dinner was served at six o'clock around a table prettily decorated in keeping with the Christmas season, a miniature Christmas tree serving as a centerpiece. Mrs. Kirby was assisted by her daughters, Dorothy and Marjorie.

After dinner the boys enjoyed a theater party at the Colonial theater.

Those present were Claire Perkins, Robert Stoddard, Max Stoddard, Everett Reynolds, Marion Reynolds, Donald Poarch, Russell Nelson, Sam Ashby, Robert Ramsey, Adolph Siegest and Virgil Kochensperger, and the honor guest.

Miss Cade Weds George S. Swanson

The marriage of Miss Cecile Cade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Osie E. Cade, to George S. Swanson, of Pendleton, was quietly solemnized yesterday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, at 501 Jefferson avenue. Only immediate relatives were present. The Rev. J. George Walz, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a frock of pale pink georgette, and carried a bride's bouquet of pink rosebuds and orchid sweetpeas. Miss Mary Johnson was bridesmaid and Frank Johnson, cousin of the bridegroom, acted as best man.

A short reception was held following the ceremony, when luncheon was served by the bride's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Swanson left last night for Seattle and other coast points on a short honeymoon trip. They will be at home in Pendleton at 211 Lillith street after Jan. 1, where Mr. Swanson is employed by the O-W company.

Mrs. Swanson has many friends in La Grande having made her home here for a number of years. She graduated from the local high school in 1925.

After West's pass, North, not having normal support in Spades, should deny the Spades and show his other strength by bidding two Clubs.

After East's pass, South should pass. He should not bid two No Trump as he would if North had bid two Hearts because, when North bid two Hearts over the Spade, North announced three things: First, lack of normal support for Spades; second, strength in Clubs; third, no help for a No Trump outside of Clubs. South knows, therefore, that at No Trump the Heart suit is defenseless against enemy attack; that a return to the Spades would be foolish because North has not more than two, and that the best chance for game—or at any rate for a good score—is to be obtained by playing with Clubs the trump.

It is important for a player, whose Major at a love score has been denied by a partner, to realize that when the denial is made in the other Major, the partner may have strength in one other suit; but when it is made in a Minor, the dealer has no strength in either the other Minor or the other Major. With a score, a Minor is bid as a Major would be at love; and consequently a partner deny-water while preparing the potato cases. Fill cases with creamed fish, cover with sliced potato and put corners up toward center. Drop a bit of butter on top of each to melt and brown potato. The potato should be piled up in the cases.

The question is: How should South (Dealer) and North (this partner) bid these hands, it being supposed that their opponents—West and East—pass whenever it is their turn to declare. Answer tomorrow. (Copyright John F. Dille Co.)

A number of new uses for wild animals have been found. At Hillsdale, Michigan, a mud turtle was used to burrow through a drain-pipe that had become clogged with silt; the Indians of Guerrero, Spain, have constructed sixteen to twenty feet long to kill rats, play with the children and guard the house; and in Venezuela a species of crane is used to guard sheep.

Collecting wild ferns has become a popular industry in Washington. A carload of ferns containing 750,000 plants is worth $3,000.
