YANKEES PAY BIG SUM FOR PLAYERS

Lary and Reese, of Oakland, Purchased for $150,000, Part Cash

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—The New York Yankees are looking to the future when some of the cogs in the machine that ran rough shod over the rest of the American League last summer become a bit rusty.

Replacements were added yesterday when announcement was made of the purchase for 1929 delivery of the crack keystone combination of Lyn Lary and Jimmy Reese of the Oakland Pacific Coast league club.

Unofficially it was understood these two youngsters will cost the Yankees $150,000 in cash and players. That sum would represent a record outlay by the Yankees for any one deal. The $125,000 they handed the Boston Red Sox for Babe Ruth was the previous high water mark.

Now: How to Use Them?
Just how the two coast league stars were to fit into the lineup, was puzzling Yankee baseball followers, however. Shortstop Mark Koenig, and Second Baseman Tony Lazerri now do what is to be done around the keystone sack just about as well as any pair in the big leagues. In addition both are young and should show no signs of slowing down for some years.

Joe Dugan, who grows no younger, is the one doubtful member of the Yankee's infield and another year may see Miller Huggins confronted with the problem of filling a hole at third base. Reese or Lary, or both, may break into the lineup if such a situation develops.

Reese, who is 22, set a new coast league fielding record for second baseman last year when he accepted 1,275 of the chances that came his way. Lary, the shortstop who has just reached his majority also is strong at field and both are hard, timely hitters, although neither rates among the .300 batsmen.

Several Big Deals
The Yankees-Oakland arrangement adds another to the growing list of "big money" deals between the major and minor leagues. Recently the Chicago White Sox gave $123,000 in cash and players for "Chalmers" Cassel, Portland, Ore., infielder. Connie Mack dug down for $101,600 before Baltimore gave him "Lefty" Grove. For a thousand dollars less the White Sox got Willie Kamm, third sacker and the Pittsburgh Pirates, Paul Wagner and Hal Rhyne, from the San Francisco club. When Paul Strand came to the Athletics, Connie Mack handed the Salt Lake City club $75,000 and the New York Giants made a similar outlay for Jimmy O'Donnell, San Francisco outfielder. Baltimore demanded and got $65,000 from the Giants for Southpaw Jack Bentley.

JACK SHARKEY FAVORS HOME FOR FIGHTERS

BOSTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Jack Sharkey, heavyweight contender who is to meet Tom Heeney in New York next week, thinks it would be a good idea if promoters of championship bouts, were to set aside five per cent of title gates for a fund for aged fighters.

"I have been thinking of the poor fighters who pass away in poverty," said Sharkey while he gave a sparring partner a rest. "If I am named Tunney's opponent I will try to get Rickard and Tunney to agree that a certain percentage be set aside for such a fund."

"A five per cent fund of a $2,000,000 gate would insure $100,000. Adding to it all the time would soon bring enough to have a home and a hospital erected."

LAVIN PROPOSES JOCKEY DRESSES

PARIS (AP)—The nearest thing to a jockey's costume that has invaded French drawing rooms is the Jeanne Lanvin model of black tulle which has sleeves slashed and striped like a jockey's blouse. The dress is collarless and the wide sleeves are trimmed with white. Lanvin calls her creation "Good Luck."

Whether Coolidge is out of it or not, the delegates to the Republican national convention will need somebody to keep them cool in Kansas City in June.

Gene May Fight In Chicago Some Time Next June

CHICAGO, Jan. 5 (AP)—The Chicago Herald and Examiner in a copyrighted news story today said that definite plans are being formulated to Gene Tunney to defend his heavyweight championship belt some time in June.

Antone J. Herman, president of the Cook county board and a personal friend of the champion, Edward J. Kelly, president of the South Park board controlling Soldier Field where the fight would be held, and Michael J. Izon, a member of the South Park board, have been working out arrangements for the fight for more than a month, the Herald and Examiner said.

"Tunney" was understood to have tentatively agreed to meet the first opponent available under certain conditions. The two entered the last month when the champion attended a Christmas charity banquet here.

The newspaper explained that the proposed bout would be held in conjunction with the democratic national convention should it be held here.

George E. Brennan, national committeeman, will go to Washington, according to Cermack, prepared to offer the bout as an inducement to the convention makers.

Uzcudun Signed To Meet George Godfrey Feb. 14

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—Paulino Uzcudun, the "Hitting Inquirer," is going to do his own heavyweight eliminating.

Following Jack Dempsey's example, Paulino has broken from the ranks of the flock of heavyweights Tex Rickard has been juggling around in his effort to find a "logical contender" for Gene Tunney's crown.

Announcing Paulino's decision, Al Mayer, who heads the league's board of strategy, said Paulino would meet George Godfrey, the latest so-called "black mouse," in a bout at Los Angeles, next month. While contracts have not been signed, the terms have been agreed upon, Mayer said, and there remains now only to fix a definite date. The promoters have settled upon Feb. 14, Mayer said, but he prefers Feb. 21.

"Godfrey seems to be generally recognized as a heavyweight contender," said Mayer. "Other title contenders appear to be avoiding him and the intimation seems to be that the present heavyweight champion would not meet him under any circumstances. Paulino is willing to meet Godfrey or anybody else."

Best in League Lomski To Have Chance at Belt Tomorrow Night

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—Less than a month since he clinched his rights to the crown, Tommy Loughran, of Philadelphia, will be called upon tomorrow night to defend his light heavyweight title against the damaging fists of Leo Lomski of Aberdeen, Wash. in a 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

The "tittle shot" climaxes a sensational climb to first rank rating by Lomski whose vicious body punching has won most of his fights for him.

Loughran pits his boxing skill against the coast contender's stinging ability and most of the experts have established him the favorite. So have the betters at 7 to 5 here and at 2 to 1 in Philadelphia, the champion's home town.

Loughran won undisputed recognition as champion when he defeated Jimmy Slattery, of Buffalo, in a close match here last month. Slattery up to that time had been recognized as the title holder by the national boxing association.

The world will be without royalty in a hundred years, says an author. Who'll fall off the horse then?

Indian Attacks Woman On Stage

KIAMATH FALLS, Ore., Jan. 5 (AP)—Passengers on the Klamath Falls-Chiloquin stage, probably saved the life yesterday of Adelle Williams, Klamath Indian woman, who was stabbed five times by her companion Edward Lett, alias Ed Barclay, Alaska Indian, before men in the stage pulled off her assailant.

Stage passengers found it necessary to knock Lett unconscious to keep him from fighting. The attack occurred in a rear compartment of the stage.

Miss Williams, a young woman, was rushed to a Klamath Falls hospital where it was announced she would recover if no complications set in. Lett was arrested. He could describe no motive for the attack but officers believe he was insanely jealous over Miss Williams. Charges will probably be filed today.

For every man who is making history, there are a thousand to agents to sell it.
