Mrs. Miller And Mrs. Epling Are P. E. O. Hostesses

Mrs. William Miller and Mrs. P. Epling entertained the members of Chapter 1 of P. E. O. at a party appointed 1 o'clock luncheon yesterday afternoon at the La Grande hotel. The luncheon tables were decorated with bouquets of the season's flowers, which served as a centerpiece. Covers were laid on about 25.

After luncheon the guests went to the Epling home, where Mrs. Epling had charge of the afternoon's program. "Symphony Orchestra" was the program topic and Mrs. Stanchfield gave an interesting talk on the larger symphony orchestras of the United States and gave her hearers a glimpse of the symphony orchestra in general. Several records by the larger symphony orchestras were played.

During the business session, which preceded the program and was presided over by the president, Mrs. A. L. Richardson, Mrs. Clyde R. Seltz was selected as corresponding secretary to take the place of Mrs. A. V. Lindgren, who has moved to Portland to make her home.

Mrs. H. E. Dixon was hostess to the members of the Alpha club and a few guests yesterday afternoon at an attractive bridge-luncheon at her home on Second street. Luncheon was served at 1:15 o'clock at four small tables, where covers were laid for 15. Red and yellow lighted candles were used to decorate the tables.

Four tables of bridge were at play during the afternoon. The club prize was won by Mrs. A. W. Nelson and the guest prize went to Mrs. Hugh E. Brady.

Officers of the Pythian Sister lodge were installed last evening when a meeting was held for that purpose at the K. P. hall. Mrs. Vella Jones was installed as past chief; Mrs. Eve Koyie, most excellent chief; Mrs. Mary Berry, excellent senior; Mrs. Mable Jones, excellent junior; Mrs. Hene McDonald, manager; Mrs. Flora Riley, master of records and correspondence; Mrs. Mable Cook, master of finances; Mrs. Winnie Oliver, protector, and Mrs. Sarah McClure, guard.

Mrs. Carrie Cleavinger, Mrs. Della Harnden and Mrs. Lida Onel were the installing officers and after the new officers were in their places refreshments were served by three women.

Mrs. H. McGoldrick, of Hubler, and Mrs. Ray Buell were visitors at the meeting. Mrs. Whinnie Oler was present with a 25-year service. The presentation being made by Mrs. Vella Jones, outgoing chief.

P.-T. Association Meets at School

The regular meeting of the Willard Parent-Teacher association was held yesterday afternoon at the school with Mrs. John Bates, vice president, presiding in the absence of the president. After all joined in singing "America" and repeating the Lord's prayer, two songs, "The Ball Game" and "Durable" were given by Henry Stoddard, Eugene Smith, Frankie Smith and Harold Ray, pupils of Miss Beryl Jones' room.

Miss LaVeda Millering played a piano solo, "The Village Girl," and Dr. J. A. Wunderlick gave an interesting talk on health, prevention of disease and what a person owes to his body.

During the business meeting Miss Jones' room was given the picture for having the largest number of parents present for the meeting. Supplies for the emergency kit were ordered and the association decided to hold a social meeting and program Tuesday evening, Jan. 17, to make up the association's quota toward the Lowell Patton concert deficiency. The same plan as used at the Harvest festival will be carried out at this program. The membership drive, now being conducted by the association, will continue until March.

During the afternoon a silver offering was taken to purchase flowers for the president of the association, Mrs. H. E. Alexander, who is ill.

The regular meeting of the Fruitdale Parent-Teacher association was held yesterday afternoon at the school with about a dozen members in attendance. Because some of the parents were unable to attend the meeting when the children of the school gave their Christmas program, a part of the program was repeated.

A short business session followed the program, presided over by the president, Mrs. J. F. Salkfield. Refreshments were served before adjournment.

Plans were made for a dinner to be held in the basement of the church Tuesday evening, Jan. 17, when the Women's Society of the First Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Sydney Happerent yesterday afternoon. Sixteen women were present for the meeting, which was presided over by the president, Mrs. William Shade.

After the business session a social hour was enjoyed, when the hostess served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. H. P. Nelson.

A meeting of the women of the Central Christian church was held yesterday afternoon at the church, when the year's work was outlined by the pastor, the Rev. R. L. Putnam, and discussed. Mr. Putnam presided over the meeting and presented the work to do during the year.

During the afternoon it was decided to change the name of the Loyal Sisters to the Loyal Sisters' aid, which will continue to function under the same officers and will include all of the women of the church in its membership. The aid has been divided into five divisions and a joint meeting of the five groups will be held once each month. Each of the divisions will also meet during the month for work.

Bible Class Will Resume Sessions

The Community Women's Bible class will resume its regular session tomorrow at 2:15 o'clock in the Neighborhood club rooms. For the remainder of this year the class will study the International Sunday school lessons, in their internal of symbolic sense, thus supplementing the literal sense that is taught in all Sunday schools.

Memory work for this meeting will be Isaiah 12, first verse. The reading and discussion of the book "Christ of the Indian Road" will be continued. Visitors are invited to attend the class.

COVE (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Conley entertained at dinner on New Year's day at their home west of here. The house was gay with holiday decorations and covers were laid for 48. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Grau and son, Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gray and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Gray and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller, Gilbert and Richard Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Childers, Iola Childers, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Millering and two children, of La Grande, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Webb, of La Grande, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gray and two daughters, Mrs. Lemon, Harry Mitchell, Mrs. M. Ayres, A. L. Puckett and Ray Hartley.

COVE (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. George Miller celebrated their 42nd wedding anniversary on New Year's day. Mrs. Miller crossed the plains with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Conley, in 1873, Mr. Miller being a member of the same party. They have made their home at Cove since their marriage and have nine children, 27 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Miller have purchased a home in a suburb of Pasadena, Cal., where they are spending the winter.

COVE (Special)—Mrs. A. H. Orton and Mrs. W. J. Hallmark entertained the Ladies' guild at the home of the former, on Thursday afternoon. The time was spent at three tables of bridge, Mrs. T. C. Helly making high score, after which a two-course luncheon was served.

Those present were Mrs. T. C. Helly, Miss Bess Kelly, Mrs. William Bradner, Mrs. R. L. Barkers, Mrs. G. E. Barker, Mrs. E. S. French, Mrs. Lulu Gayette, Mrs. A. G. Conklin, Mrs. J. R. Pries, Mrs. Bessie Fletcher and Mrs. C. E. Bertsch.

Announcements

The Parkdale club will meet for luncheon at 1 o'clock Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Garret Blackland. The younger members of the club will be hostesses to the members more than 50 years of age.

The Martha Bible class of the First Methodist Episcopal church will meet in regular session Monday evening in the basement of the church. There will be a potluck dinner at 6 o'clock for all members of the class and their families, followed by the regular business session and program.

Members of the American Legion auxiliary will meet at the home of Mrs. C. N. Palmer, 703 Adams avenue, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock to see on a layette. All members are urged to attend, as there is much work to do.

The meeting of the Mother's Self Culture club announced for yesterday was postponed because of illness.

MENUS

By Sister Mary
BREAKFAST—Sections of grape fruit, cereal, cream, raised buckwheat pancakes, rained buckwheat pancakes, rained sausage, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Vegetable soup, whole wheat rolls, cream cheese and date salad, milk, tea.
DINNER—Chateaufosse of veal and rice, French fried onions, omelette salad, canned peaches, cookies, milk, coffee.
 Small children should not be allowed to eat the buckwheat cakes suggested in the breakfast menu. Crisp toast and a soft egg can be provided for school children under 10 years of age. However, since this is buckwheat season the rule for raised pancakes follows:
Raised Buckwheat Cakes
 One yeast cake, 1/2 cup lukewarm water, 1 cup water, 1 scant teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon soda, buckwheat flour.
 Boil water and cool to lukewarm temperature. Dissolve yeast cake in one-quarter cup while other two cups are cooling. Add water and stir well. Add salt and enough buckwheat flour to make a thick batter. Cover and let stand in a warm place over night. The crock in which this sponge is "set" must be of good size, for the sponge rises during the night. In the morning dissolve soda in one-half cup warm water and beat into the sponge. Beat hard and let stand 15 minutes. Bake on a hot well-greased griddle.
 Save about one cup of batter to use as a "starter" for another breakfast. No fresh yeast will be needed for two or three times.
 The law providing for the punishment by fine of anyone who killed his horse on Main Street, enacted in Fredericksburg, Virginia, in 1787, is said to be the first speed law.

This is the seventh Saturday Auction Bridge article written to meet the demands of the novice. The reader of this series, even though at the start he be totally unfamiliar with Bridge, should be able to acquire quickly and easily all that it is necessary for him to know concerning the fundamentals of the game. Those who follow the series are advised to keep the articles for ready reference, preserving each chapter so that it may be referred to when necessary.

The Game of Auction Bridge Chapter 7

After the original lead by the adversary on the left of the Declarer and after Dummy has exposed his cards, the expert Declarer stops for a moment before playing from Dummy to determine how he best can manage the two hands he is to play with a common purpose. In other words, he plans a campaign. We are not concerned just yet with bidding or playing methods, but are merely explaining the mechanics of the game; so a description of how he should plan is not yet due, but it is important for the inexperienced player to understand that if Declarer touch a card in Dummy, that card is played and cannot be recalled. The law which covers this point was drafted to sharpen up the play and prevent the delays and confusion which are liable to ensue when a player draws one card out of Dummy, puts it back, and then draws out another. Because of this law, the Declarer should do his preliminary planning before and not after he touches a card in Dummy.

Declarer is not obliged to play a card from his own hand merely because he has exposed it. Exposing a card from Declarer's hand does not give any beneficial information to Dummy, because Dummy has nothing to do with the play; it is harmful only to the Declarer's side as it shows something to the adversaries. A different rule prevails, however, when either adversary exposes a card. If an adversary card is dropped, or lowered so that the partner of the holder of the card sees any portion of its face, it is "exposed" and the Declarer, whenever it is the owner's turn to lead or play, can "call" it; that is, demand that it be played on that trick, unless some other suit has been led and the holder of the exposed card is obliged to follow suit. The exposed card is set face up on the table until played, but while the Declarer may call it, he cannot prevent its owner from playing it at any time he wishes to do so. Until it is played it may be called by the Declarer any number of times; after any call its holder must play it unless he has to follow suit.

Next week the description of the play will be continued.

New Hats of Straw Have Velvet Trim

By Hazel Reavis

(Associated Press Fashion Editor)
 PARIS (AP)—Winter time is spring hat time for the Paris milliners who decide what shall be worn at Easter. They have already presented some spring models of straw which have attracted attention.

Combination of velvet and straw is the surprise of these first spring hats, which will be worn on the Riviera, at Palm Beach and winter resorts where summer clothes are in order.

Camille Rogier shows some pretty models which combine velvet and straw. Some of them follow the winter line of felt hats and are cut up in front to disclose one eye only. Molyneux shows fairly large hats of straw and velvet, with the velvet used in flat bands around the brim and repeated in a band and bow.

Jane Blanchot is showing a great deal of navy blue in her new spring models. The hat which Mistinguett, the music hall artist, wore at a millinery competition recently was made of dark blue grosgrain ribbon in a cap shape fitted closely to the sides of the face covering the ears. On one side was a large white velvet flower fixed so that it fell against Mistinguett's cheek.

PARIS (AP)—Parisians would wear red lobsters in their button-holes if someone in authority told them it was being done. One dress-maker launched bunches of miniature yellow lemons as the newest and smartest shoulder flower and signed for evening wear.

new half a dozen imitators have taken up the lemon vogue and threaten to supplant flowers as the buttonhole accessory. The lemons range from tiny bead confections for wear to tailored suits to large taffeta fabrications designed for evening wear.

HOW TO GET FULL VALUE FOR THE LIGHTING CURRENT YOU USE

1. Use Mazda Lamps. The most economical lamps are Mazda lamps because they produce the most light for the least money.
2. Use Lamps of the Right Type. There is a right type of Mazda lamp for every type of fixture.
3. Use Lamps of the Right Size. Every socket requires a particular size (wattage) to give right light.
4. Use Lamps of the Right Voltage. Our circuits require lamps of a particular voltage. Wrong voltage lamps will either burn out too quickly or else will not give enough light for the current they use.
5. Clean Lamps and Shades Regularly and Replace Blackening Lamps. Dust and dirt on lamps reduce the amount of light by as much as 25 per cent. Blackening (partially burned out) lamps use just as much current as new lamps without giving the light.
