UNIVERSITY HAS More Than 3000 Campus Students

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Jan. 9 (Special)—The increase of 164 new students at the start of the winter term here has raised the total registration on the Eugene campus to more than 3,000, it is announced by Earl M. Patton, registrar.

A total of 2,826 students were registered at the university for the fall term, and the addition of the 191 new-comers makes the new total 2,941 so far. A few more are expected to register for work this winter, and the number will be swollen considerably at the start of the spring term in April, it is stated.

The campus figures do not include...

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

HEALTH

PARENTS OFTEN NEGLECTFUL IN GUARDING HEALTH OF CHILDREN

By J. C. Irous, M. D., Dartmouth, W. Va.

Member Georgia Memorial Institute
Since the nation's greatest potential asset is the children of the land, the most insistent problem is the least means of developing and protecting their best physical and mental qualities. Children are permitted to grow up dwarfed, both physically and mentally, and instead of becoming valuable productive forces, are a tax upon the resources of the country. No thoughtful person can doubt that too little is being done to safeguard these wards of the nation.

This little care is shown in the early life of the child. Many of the afflictions which come upon the child, and which may impair its health permanently, if not destroyed its life, could have been early prevented if there had been reasonable cooperation between parents and the physician.

Children are permitted to be exposed to dangerous infections through the carelessness of those most vitally concerned. Health boards are not notified of the existence of contagious or infectious diseases, and quarantine measures, therefore, are not employed.

These neglects are often followed by most serious results. Some-times failures are due to carelessness of the physician, but more frequently to the ignorance or justice of possible quarantine on the part of the parents. Frequently, too, the disease may be of such a mild form that the physician is not called and the disease, though dangerous, is not known to exist.

One of the probable dangers to states which license various cults to practice is the permission of a class to treat disease who know little or nothing of diagnosis, and who are therefore unable to detect the nature of the disease or to apply any reasonable remedy. As a result disease may be communicated to many and often advances to such a state that medical skill is unavailing.

To safeguard our children, more care should be taken in enforcing preventive measures and in educating the parents or those in control of children as to their responsibilities. The Georgia Memorial real-izes that sickness can be largely prevented, and death postponed many years by education and cooperation between individuals and their family physicians.

"Liver—Nutritive Values and Ways of Serving," a booklet published by the department of home economics, Institute of American Meat Packers, 509 South Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Ill., is recommended by Mrs. Josephine Williams, instructor in foods and nutrition, in those interested in new and varied ways of preparing this food. Use of liver in the diet has increased due to its use in the treatment of anemias and kindred diseases.

OFFICE CAT

By Junius
Mabel and her boy chum Walter were packed on the settee in the parlor. They had been spooning and holding hands for more than an hour before they discovered that they were being spied upon by Mabel's little brother, Bill. Knowing little brother's reputation as a holdup and broad-chested and with a grin on his face, Walter called him aside, where the following conversation took place:

Walter: "The next time I go to town I'm going to buy a nice little ring."
Little brother replied: "I don't want a ring, I want a watch."
Gladys: Am I the first girl you ever kissed?
Fred: Of course you are.
Gladys: Well, the others certainly haven't been kissing much.

THE RETURN FROM ITALY
Mrs. Jones: To husband who has ventured to assert himself: "Now, George, understand, once and for all, just because you've been on a ten-day tour in Italy, don't get the idea that you are a second Mussolini."
DOING HIS BEST
We cannot all be famous.
We cannot all be rich and famous.
To give ourselves a name.
We cannot all expect to be distinguished from the rest.
But some reward is certain for the man who does his best.

As a La Grande husband and wife were walking down the street the wife said: "Look at that adorable hat in the window. Let's go buy it." And the husband replied: "Certainly, dear, right by it."

Farm Pointers

Each year about 2,000,000 lease contracts for the use of farm land are either made or renewed. It is safest for both tenant and landlord to have the lease in writing. If operating under a verbal lease there is all the more reason for a renewal in writing, for both landlord and tenant have had a year in which to forget the agreement they made originally.

The better the dairy herd the more need for care in the selection of a sire. With a herd of low-producing cows, whether purebreds or grades, any purebred sire is likely to breed daughters that will give more milk and more butterfat than their dams. But when a herd of cows averages a butter production of 300 pounds or more a year, further increases cannot be expected in the daughters unless the sire is of a high-producing strain and has been tested for the production record of his daughters. At the close of 1927 there were 200 "proved" bulls in the United States. About 2000 others were partially proved.

In almost all the United States west of the main western Louisiana to east central Nebraska and north to the lower line of the Great Lakes, spring transplanting of trees is preferable to fall. Transplanting should be done while the trees still are dormant. After planting it is wise to prune the trees to remove from one-half to three-fourths of the leaf buds. Broken places on root ends should be removed with a clean cut of a sharp knife. When ends are cut from branches the cut should be just above the bud and the remaining bud should point in the direction it is desired the limb shall grow.

Liquid "lice killers" widely advertised a few years ago as being effective when applied to the roosts of poultry houses, in a large measure have been withdrawn from the market because the department of agriculture tested them and notified the manufacturers they were not valuable and should not be sold as advertised. Now the department is conducting a similar campaign against preparations represented as killing lice and other poultry parasites when administered in feed and drinking water. These are ineffective and advertisements of such preparations are regarded as fraudulent.

AT THE THEATERS

"What Every Girl Should Know" At Colonial

"What Every Girl Should Know," the Warner Bros. production which comes to the Colonial theater today and Friday is an original screen play directed by Charles F. Reisner. This is the name Mr. Reisner who directed "Eye" Chaplin in "The Better Obed" and who shared the honors of authorship with Bruce Mitrusfather. For years before this success, Mr. Reisner had been famous inside of the picture industry as the man responsible for the funny gags in the Charles Chaplin comedies.

"What Every Girl Should Know" has proved to be a colossal triumph everywhere it has been shown. It produces the heart-throbs, fun and tenderness. The story deals with Mamie Sullivan, the little mother of two orphaned brothers. The big brother, Dave, driving a truck, accidentally runs down and kills a woman. Through circumstantial evidence, he is convicted of manslaughter and sent to jail. Mamie and her little brother are sent to an orphanage. They are adopted and develop themselves into happy young adults.

Mamie is played by Betty Ruth Miller and Mickey McLean and Cheryl Nyquist as her brothers. Mickey is the remarkable youngster who played the little boy in "Heavenly Bodies" who got a bullet in his leg, and in "The Return of Peter Grimm" the boy who gets into communication with an old Peter.

The leading man is Stan Keith, whose work in "The Prince of Temples" signalled him off for praise in hits devoted to the outstanding performances of the screen year.

Carmelita Geraghty, who, besides being a screen actress, is a well known amateur tennis player on the Pacific coast, appears as a girl tennis champion, who meets her match in Mamie Sullivan, the kid from the playgrounds. Others in the cast are Lillian Langdon and Hazel Howell.

Clara Bow Gives Lesson on How To Get Your Man

How to free a man one loves from a loveless betrothal of seven, fifteen years standing is shown in "Get Your Man" Paramount's latest starring vehicle for Clara Bow, which will be shown at the Arcade theater today, Friday and Saturday.

In the picture, Clara is a young American girl who has fallen in love with a French youth, Charles Rogers, who was engaged to another girl when five years of age under the French custom in which parents choose the mates of their children.

The efforts of Miss Bow to cause the breaking of this engagement supply many of the clever situations with which the picture abounds.

The plot carries one into a wax-works museum where the boy and a girl fall to exit at the closing hour and are forced to spend the night together in a room surrounded by mechanical figures which walk, wave their arms, roll their eyes, brandish swords and even execute murders.

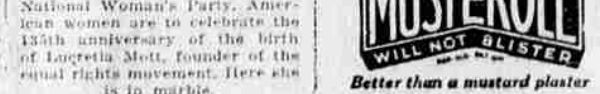

The girl, who was universally accredited being the outstanding possessor of "It" following her huge success in Ethel Gray's story of the same name, is said to have as great a role in "Get Your Man" as was given her in "It," "Rough House Rodeo" or "Tulu," her three previous starring vehicles.

Mothers, Do This—

When the children cough, rub Musterole on their throats and chests. No telling how soon the symptoms may develop into croup, or worse. And then when you're glad you have a jar of Musterole at hand to give prompt relief. As first aid, Musterole is excellent. Keep a jar ready for instant use.

It is the remedy for adults, too. Relieves sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

At meetings held all over the land under the auspices of the National Woman's Party, American women are to celebrate the 15th anniversary of the birth of Lucretia Mott, founder of the equal rights movement. Here she is in marble.

Pays Tribute To Memory of Leader

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 9 (AP)—The south paused today to pay tribute to Robert E. Lee on the 121st anniversary of his birthday.

While states declared legal holidays and banks and most other commercial institutions suspended business, veterans of the sixties, their sons and daughters and school children united in ceremonies of devotion.

In every state of the Potomac there were programs of formal praise of the confederate leaders.
