Mrs. Pattison Is Hostess To Club At Bridge Party

Three tables of bridge were at play yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Robert Pattison was hostess to the Thursday Bridge club. Presiding the card games, at 1 o'clock, luncheon was served by Mrs. M. B. Donohue at her home on First street, after which the party adjourned to the Pattison home.

Mrs. Emma Grady made high score during the afternoon's play. Mrs. W. H. Hohenkamp Sr., was hostess to the club next Thursday, Jan. 25.

An attractive bridge-dinner took place last evening at the home of Mrs. Wanda Fowler. Dinner was served at 7 o'clock with oysters laid for 12 at a table which was prettily decorated in a color scheme of pink and white. Sweetness followed the repast.

After dinner three tables of bridge were at play and high score among the women went to Mrs. Walter Perry and the men's prize to Lester Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gable will entertain the club at their next meeting Thursday, Feb. 2.

Members of the Alpha club were guests at a delightful bridge-luncheon yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Clyde Kiddle was hostess at her farm home near here. Luncheon was served at 1:15 o'clock, after which three tables of bridge were at play during the remainder of the afternoon.

Mrs. M. M. Day made high score among the club members, and the grand prize went to Mrs. Lyle Kiddle.

Miss Bertha Wallinger was hostess to the Wednesday Night Bridge club this week, when three tables of bridge were at play at her apartment in the West-deerbrook building. Mrs. P. S. Reinhardt made high score among the club members, and the grand prize went to Mrs. E. A. Epling.

The card games were followed by a two-course luncheon.

M. I. A. Green and Gold Ball Given

The annual green and gold dance of the Mutual Improvement association of the L. B. S. church was held last evening in the new recreational hall here with a large attendance, including representatives from every ward in this stake.

Mann's Imperial orchestra furnished music for the dance, and features included the forming of the letters M. I. A. on the dance floor by those in attendance, a contest with several young people from the Union ward and the color song of the M. I. A., which was rendered by Mrs. Nellie Bean.

The hall was decorated in keeping with the occasion in a color scheme of green and gold. During the dancing punch was served.

A large crowd of interested parents and members of the Eastern Star and Masonic lodges gathered at the Masonic hall here last evening for the public installation of the Order of Rainbow for Girls and the Order of DeMolay for Boys.

Miss John Hodgins, a past matron of the Eastern Star chapter and an honorary member of the Rainbow order, was installing officer for the girls' organization, and assisting her were Mrs. Andrew Loney, present worthy matron of the Eastern Star, as marshal; Mrs. Charles Graham, associate matron of the O. E. S., as chaplain; Mrs. Nettie G. Nell, pianist, and Mrs. Arch Bacon, recorder.

Carlis Barnes, a past master counselor of the Lewiston, Mont., chapter of DeMolay, was installing officer for the boys' organization.

The same officers who have served since the organization of the Order of Rainbow here were re-installed, including Miss Lois Nelson as worthy advisor; Miss Anita Robinson, worthy associate advisor; Miss Mary Vaughn, the Rainbow chapter, as Miss Lenore; Ely Hope; Miss Margaret Banks, faith; Miss Louise Wetzel, recorder; Miss Bernice Gaunt, treasurer; Miss Wilma Hansell, chaplain; the seven stations of the rainbow—love, religion, nature, immortality, fidelity, patriotism and service; Misses June Goodidge, Margaret Anthony, Seville Pratt, Vivian Hansen, Ina Robinson, Hazel McAllister, and Catherine Humphreys; inner guard, Miss Charlene Faus; outer guard, Miss Phyllis Lunn; pianist, Miss Mildred Bradshaw; choir leader, Miss Ava Williams; and members of the choir: Misses Dorothy Spencer, Jane Ravenscroft, Julia Smith, Peggy Bohlenkamp, Margaret Milne, Alice Milne, Ruth Cullen, Lois Hansell, Ethel Hansen, Ruth Harrison and Amy Brown.

Mrs. G. N. Tarkington was re-installed as mother advisor of the assembly, and members of the advisory board are Mrs. C. H. Eberhard, Miss Mildred Hoyt, Mrs. Carrie Steljeamp, C. M. Humphreys and Mrs. K. W. Ely.

Following the installation a program was given, including a reading by Miss Wilma Hansell, in which she wore a colonial costume, a piano solo by Miss Dorothy Brownson, a vocal solo by Tom Bruce, a saxophone duet by Henry Culp and Ben Osterling, and several numbers by the DeMolay quartet.

While members of the advisory board were installed Miss Grace Geibel sang "Someone is Looking to You." R. C. Ayres, advisor of the DeMolay chapter, spoke and Mrs. G. N. Tarkington talked briefly.

At 9 o'clock the two organizations joined in prayer for their mothers and fathers.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church south was entertained at the home of Mrs. W. H. Sturmer Thursday afternoon. There was a large attendance and Mrs. Buin Webb had charge of the program. Marking the 50th anniversary of the Woman's Missionary society in the church, the subject for study was "Gifts of the Seven Sabbaths of Years," which represented the gifts sacrificed during the 50 years, was divided into seven periods of seven years each.

The work of the first seven years was reviewed by Mrs. Effie Heivry, the second seven by Mrs. J. A. Hill, the third by Mrs. Baker, the fourth by Mrs. Hicks, the fifth by Mrs. Sturmer, the sixth by Mrs. Walter Wilburn and the seventh by Mrs. Buin Webb.

A trio, composed of Mesdames Webb, Hicks and Sturmer, and accompanied by Mrs. Fred Wend at the piano, sang.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Baker.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected Wednesday afternoon when the Missionary society of the English Lutheran church met at the home of Mrs. N. Nelson. Mrs. Oscar Thompson was elected president of the society to take the place of Mrs. Ferdinand Johnson, who has resigned; Mrs. Orville Webber was elected secretary to succeed Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. N. Nelson was re-elected treasurer of the society.

The reading course for the year was outlined during the meeting, the society having five books yet to finish.

MENUS

By Sister Mary
BREAKFAST—Stewed prunes, cereal, cream, ham, toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Steamed spinach with creamed oysters, brown bread, celery hearts, coconut cookies, milk, tea.
DINNER—Consomme with noodles, roast chicken, mashed potatoes, corn croquettes, grape fruit salad, pepperoni ice cream with chocolate sauce, milk, coffee.
When noodles are served in consomme they should be cut in extremely fine strips. They will then make an inviting garnish to the clear soup. If a strained and clarified consomme is used, the noodles should be cooked in boiling salted water for 15 minutes and drained before adding to the consomme to serve.

Steamed Spinach With Oysters
Three cups minced cooked spinach, 4 tablespoons butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons milk, 1 pint oysters, 1/2 cups cream sauce.
Chop spinach in a chopping bowl to make it very fine. Beat eggs with milk until very light. Add to spinach with salt, pepper and butter and mix thoroughly. Turn into a buttered ring mold and steam one hour. Turn from mold onto a hot serving dish and fill center with oysters in the cream sauce. Wash and parboil oysters before adding to sauce.
This is an excellent dish for children as well as adults.

Bridge Pointers

By Milton C. Work
CONTRACT BRIDGE

At the conclusion of yesterday's article, we were considering initial suit-bids of one at Contract. In that consideration I made no specific reference to vulnerability, having discussed that subject somewhat when considering initial No Trump bids of one. Whether greater strength would be required for a suit-bid when vulnerable is a question still extensively debated. I am inclined to believe that no distinction is needed between vulnerability and non-vulnerability in the convention governing original suit-bids of one, if the player making the bid be of unquestioned ability and the partner be dependable; but for a player who is apt to lose a trick or two in the play, or a player facing a partner who is prone to overestimate the strength of an initial bid and to raise or jump too freely, light initial bids are dangerous when not vulnerable and much too hazardous to venture when vulnerable. Yesterday I suggested caution if either of these conditions exist for a bidder whether vulnerable or not. Today I urge that if vulnerable and subject to either of these handicaps, at least an initial King or its equivalent be considered a requisite for a bid. In other words, with the first hand given yesterday, which was a five-card suit headed by an Ace-King and nothing on the side, I would not bid if vulnerable with either of the partnership disadvantages above named, unless the side hand contained at least a King; and with the second hand given yesterday, which consisted of an Ace-King and two others (a four-card suit), one side Ace and no other strength, I would not bid unless the side hand contained at least a Queen in the suit in which the side Ace was located.

For players fully able to take care of themselves in the play and facing dependable partners, the initial suit-bid is of very great advantage. It produces so many partial scores and gives such valuable information that it is worth the slight risk involved. It is indeed rare that an initial bid of one is penalized severely even in Contract, and with most of the games we have been mentioning in an initial bid of one—even when jumped one by the partner, provided the partner has the requisite strength for the jump—apt to result seriously. It is the game-going bids with light hands which produce, when they work badly, the terrific losses for which Contract is noted; and therefore if the partner be dependable and the bidder himself feel that in the event of a jump by the partner he will be able to control his desire to bid for game, the one-bids are apt to be profitable and not apt to be expensive.

A partial score in Auction Bridge is of material value only in twenty-one hands; but in Contract a partial score is of material value to its holder every time in the bidding of the succeeding hand, and therefore it is worth some risk to obtain it.

ARMOR-LIKE CLANK PART OF FASHION

PARIS (AP)—Many well dressed Parisians consider a metallic clank and tinkle an important factor in their style success.

Gestures are back in fashion since women took to wearing quantities of bracelets which jingle every time they move their hands. Even the new scarfs are trimmed with hundreds of pieces of metal or source metal sequins that give out a little tinkle with every movement.

Now a designer of shoes is putting fingers of metal mesh on the toes of dancing slippers. They make a metallic swish with every step.

One thing that makes the worm turn red with rage is the sight of an angler boring his holes in antique furniture.

We all like to feel that we are useful, but we can't get that feeling unless we are willing to work.
