Founders' Day Is Observed Here by P. E. O. Chapter

Founders' Day was observed by members of chapter 1 of P. E. O. with a luncheon at 1:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the La Grande hotel. During the luncheon, which was served in the club room on the mezzanine floor, the seven women who founded the P. E. O. sisterhood in 1876 were memorialized through the novel candle lighting ceremony, which is a custom of P. E. O. This service was in charge of Mrs. E. P. Mossman, toastmistress, assisted by Mrs. Robert S. Fakin, Mrs. Harley Richardson, Dr. Margaret Ingles, Mrs. Lynn Wright, Mrs. Fritz Lotties, Mrs. E. A. Epling and Mrs. Clyde J. Seitz.

Louises were given by Mrs. Lucy Stanchfield to the founders of the sisterhood, by Mrs. J. K. Wright to P. E. O. Ideals, and by Mrs. A. L. Hunsdon, president of chapter 1, to friendship.

Mrs. Harley H. Richardson played a piano number, "Lullaby" by MacLadden, and Mrs. W. H. Holmkamp Jr. sang "Amen" by G. W. Chadwick and "Shine First I Met Love" by Rubenstein. As an encore she sang "Annapolis Lullaby" by Klemm.

After the program there was a short business session. The only guest present for the luncheon was Mrs. Marjorie Metcalf.

The Happier Homes club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ayars, 1262 Z avenue. One visitor, Mrs. Kila Koter, was present for the meeting, which opened with a short business session.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent sewing quilt blocks, a prize being awarded to Mrs. Juan Stittler, and a consolation prize was given to Mrs. Murray.

At the close of the afternoon the hostess served refreshments.

The Young People's Sunday school class of the Central Christian church met last evening at the home of the teacher, Mrs. R. L. Putman. About 25 members were present and early in the evening a business meeting was held, presided over by Miss Manis Allen.

After the business session the social committee took charge and games were enjoyed until a late hour, when refreshments were served.

An interesting afternoon was spent yesterday by members of the Mother's Self Culture club when they met in regular session at the home of Mrs. Watter Palmer. For the past year the club's study has been along the lines of nature, and the last two lessons have been on birds. Yesterday afternoon each member gave the description and habits of one bird, and Mrs. John Houlton spoke on the subject "The Economic and Aesthetic Value of Teaching Children to Know and Love Birds." Mrs. Dick Lindsay spoke on "The Glory of Lindbergh and What Went Before."

Bridge-Dinner Is Given at Hotel

Mrs. L. M. Hoyt and Mrs. Grace Snyder were hostesses at an attractive 7 o'clock dinner last evening at the La Grande hotel, when they entertained the members of the Island City Bridge club. Dinner was served in the hotel dining room, where one long table was arranged and prettily decorated with bouquets of phloxanthemums. Covers were laid for 24.

After dinner the party adjourned to the card room on the mezzanine floor, where five tables of bridge were at play. Mrs. Albert Wardell made high score among the women players and the men's prize went to Fred H. Kiddle.

Three tables of bridge were at play Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Lester H. Bramwell was hostess to the Jolly Bridge club at her home on N avenue. The rooms were attractively decorated in a color scheme of lavender and pink, bouquets of sweet peas being used.

Mrs. William Wilson made high score among the club members and the consolation prize went to Mrs. Ed Stravens. Mrs. Boyd Paddock received the guest prize. Mrs. Charles Millner, of Caldwell, Ida., was an out-of-town guest.

Following the card games the hostess served a two-course luncheon.

Those present were Misses Bernice Wilson, Edna Mae Wilson, Barbara Hiatt, Mildred Smith and Leah Bramwell; Lawrence Bay, Leslie Ketter, Henry Culp, Franklin Eberhard and Robert Beck and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Baxter.

Plans have been completed for a Leap Year dance to be given by the B. P. O. Elks lodge Wednesday evening, Jan. 25, in the ballroom of the Elks temple here. The dance is one of a series being given by the lodge for its members and friends during the winter months.

Birnie's orchestra will furnish the music and supper will be served, members of the committee in charge announce.

Mrs. L. J. Gates, piano teacher and pupil of Edmon Morris, appeared in piano recital last night at her home at 2194 Greenwood street. Mrs. Gates plays with good technique and her entire program, of six numbers, was enjoyed by

Earns Living With Traps

Trapping has proved a profitable venture for Miss Helen Witzel, daughter of a farmer near Hatfield, Wis. She has been running an eight-mile trapline in the vicinity of Black river and this winter has caught 38 musk, 161 muskrats and 22 weasels. She expects to clear about $1200 for the season.

The 40 guests who had gathered to hear her.

Among the numbers played were "Autumn" by Chamblade; "Barcarolle" by Tchaikowsky; "Album Leaf" by Grieg; "Dance" by Schumann; "Ballad" by Massenet.

After the program refreshments were served.

COVE. (Special)—Four carloads of young people motored out to the Frank Wells' ranch Wednesday evening for a skating party. After about two hours of skating the party returned to the house, where refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening was spent singing and playing games.

Those present were Dorothy Barker, Estelle Blank, Gene Weimer, Russell Ward and Bob Paigo, Edward Bristow, Dean Puckett, Mack Rees, Edward Bloom, Gordon and Herbert Barker, Jay Martin, Lester Peterman, Parker Severs, Royal Borkgreen, Victor Neiger, Melvin Hundell, Calvin Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells.

The Parkdale club will meet Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 25, at the home of Mrs. Victor Beckley at Fruitdale. Mrs. Clyde Webb and Mrs. Frank Wood will be the hostesses. All members are asked to come in old-fashioned costumes.

The Blue Mountain Grove of the Supreme Woodmen Circle will meet in regular session Jan. 23 at Eagles hall.

Mrs. Lee Reynolds will present a number of piano pupils in recital tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock in the ballroom of the La Grande hotel. The public is invited to attend.

Bridge Pointers

By Milton C. Work

This is the ninth Saturday Auction Bridge article written to meet the needs of the novice. This series is prepared for those who never have played the game, but who are anxious to do so; and is written with the hope that it will enable many to acquire quickly and easily all that they need to know concerning the fundamentals of Auction Bridge. Those who follow the series are advised to keep the articles for ready reference as situations may arise in which they may wish to re-read one of the earlier chapters.

The Game of Auction Bridge Chapter 9

The subject today is the revoke. To revoke is to renounce and fail to correct the error in time to avoid the penalty; a renounce is the failure of a player to play a card of the suit led when he has one or more cards of that suit in his hand. A renounce is a serious mistake, but if it is corrected in time the penalty for it (card played in error may be treated as exposed, or highest or lowest card of the suit led on which the renounce was made may be called by Declarator) is not nearly as severe as it is when the correction is not made in time and the renounce becomes a revoke.

A player who renounces may withdraw the improperly played card and substitute a card of the suit led, provided he does so within the time limitation that the law provides. That limitation expires when the renouncing player or his partner leads or plays to the succeeding trick. When the renounce has been made by the Declarator, his opportunity to correct it and save himself from a revoke expires when he leads or plays a card to the next trick either from his own hand or from Dummy. Before the Code of 1924 became effective, the turning and quitting of the trick on which the renounce occurred established the revoke, but now the remaining player has an extended time. A trick may be turned and quit, and yet any player may examine it provided neither he nor his partner has played to the following trick. One of his adversaries may have led to the next trick, but nevertheless he may examine the trick and correct his error, by substituting a card of the suit that was led to that trick. However, the moment that the renouncing player or his partner leads or plays to the succeeding trick, the statute of limitations has run, the revoke has become a revoke and cannot be corrected.

There not being space today to describe fully the revoke penalties and the way in which they can be claimed, that subject will be considered on Saturday next. (Copyright, John P. Tulle Co.)

MAY END COMPETITION
CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 21 (AP)—Competition of the various Protestant denominations of the country in the field of home missions work would ultimately be eliminated under a five-year continuity program which was placed before the National Church county conference here today.

MENUS

By Sister Mary

BREAKFAST—Orange juice, cereal cooked with dates, cream, French toast, syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Creamed salmon on toast, head lettuce, canned peaches, margerites, milk, tea.

DINNER—Hungarian goulash, baked squash, home and cottage cheese salad, Washington cream pie, milk, coffee.

Home made pickles or a relish of some sort might be added to the dinner menu with good effect. The goulash is highly flavored but some quite tart food will add interest to the meal.

Washington Cream Pie

One cup grated coconut, 1-1/2 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 egg, 1 cup flour, 1/2 cup milk, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 3 tablespoons powdered sugar.

Cream butter and sugar. Beat yolk of egg, until thick, with half the milk. Add to first mixture and beat well with egg beater. Mix and sift flour, salt, baking powder and add alternately with remaining milk to first mixture. Add vanilla and beat until perfectly smooth. Pour into an oiled and floured shallow cake pan and bake 20 minutes in a moderately hot oven. Add one tablespoon very cold water to white of egg and beat until stiff and dry. Gradually add powdered sugar, beating well. When cake is cool, split and spread lower half with the frosting, sprinkle with coconut and cover with remaining cake. Cut "pie fashion" to serve.

France is perfectly willing to end wars of aggression, Ireland writes. Do you suppose that fellow has been reading the news from Nicaragua, and must have his little joke?

DEAD MAN IDENTIFIED
PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 21 (AP)—Through army finger print records, police today identified the man shot to death here the night of Jan. 16, by Michael Matulewsky as Charles Medford. Matulewsky shot the man who tried to hold him up at his home.
