200 Persons At Piano Recital in La Grande Hotel

About 200 persons gathered in the ballroom of the La Grande hotel yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock when Mrs. Lee Reynolds presented 12 of her piano pupils and two students of Mrs. E. L. Evans in recital. It was the first student recital to be given in the new hotel, and the interesting and varied program was enjoyed by those present from the opening numbers, "The Canon in D" and "Pavane" by John Williams, played by little Grace Helen Robinson, to the closing groups which were played by the more advanced pupils and brought out excellent technique and expression.

Glen Fox and Dorothy Lee Reynolds were the students of Mrs. Evans who took part in the program, and Mrs. Reynolds' pupils were Grace Helen Robinson, Josephine Fisher, Mary French, Helle Clegg, Roy Johnson, Fern Broomfield, Gladys Johnson, Helle Eakin, Katharine Wadler, Miriam Hanna, Miss Clyde Webb and Miss Mildred Spencer.

Each of the students announced their own numbers, which they played in a very capable manner, which showed much training. The more difficult numbers by the advanced students were especially well played.

The stage was effectively arranged with floor lamps and bouquets of red flowers, and formed a pretty setting for the program.

The Greenwood Parent-Teacher association met Friday afternoon at the school with Mrs. E. M. Peterson, president of the association, presiding. The program opened with music by an a cappella quartet, consisting of Cleland Wallinger, Henry Culp, Benjamin Osterling and Edwidge Hoffman.

The numbers played were "Medley of Old Fashioned Tunes," "The Mouth Piece and Reed March," and "Somebody's Children" was a variety of popular songs.

Mrs. Nell Thacker sang "A Rose in the Garden," by W. H. Neillinger and "When Love Is Done" by Alfred Schmitt, accompanied by Mrs. Lillian Green at the piano.

Colon H. Eberhard made several remarks, showing the development of the La Grande public school system up to the present.

The picture, "The Home of the Hero," went to the rooms of Mrs. Thacker, Mrs. Green and Miss Michael Cusley, to be kept for a time in each room.

The book exchange committee, with Mrs. Charlotte as president, reported that nine films had arrived for the picture projector machine, and the use of books in the school was discussed.

It was decided that the next meeting of the association would be an evening meeting, to be held Feb. 17.

Party Compliments Miss Blokland

Miss Hilda Blokland, whose marriage to W. H. Perry, of Island City, will take place early next month, was the inspiration for an attractive evening given Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. C. Coleman. Twenty-two friends of the bride-elect were guests.

The home was prettily decorated with bouquets of pink carnations and potted plants. Appropriate games were enjoyed during the afternoon. While Mrs. Alice Robertson played the wedding march, little Miss Mary Lee Keeney in the bridegroom and Margie Messers as the bride entered the room, bringing gifts for the honor guest, which were tied in dainty pink and white packages.

At an appropriate hour the hostess served luncheon.

An enjoyable time was spent Friday evening when Mrs. J. A. Howell entertained at dinner party honoring Mrs. Zilpha Howell, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. The table was tastefully arranged with a large decorated birthday cake as a centerpiece. A color scheme of green and white was carried out throughout the dinner. Only members of the family were present.

The honor guest received many lovely gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark S. Padlock entertained at a delightful party Saturday evening at their home in the Landis Court apartments. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Orson J. Brandt, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Kime, Calvin Horn, Miss Lenore Gibson, Miss Lou Nelson, P. J. Heussen, and the host and hostess.

Games were played during the evening. Miss Lenore Gibson winning the first prize and the consolation prize going to Orson Brandt. After the games the hostess served refreshments.

All-Day Party At J. D. Dobbin Farm

Once each year several La Grande friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Dobbin, meet at their farm home for an all-day gathering with breakfast and dinner and a visit over the farm. Yesterday was the day for the gathering and at about 11 o'clock in the morning Mrs. Dobbin served a waffle and sausage breakfast, after which Mr. Dobbin's purchased sheep and other livestock were viewed by the guests. At 5 o'clock a delicious dinner was served by the hostess.

Those enjoying the day with Mr. and Mrs. Dobbin were Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phyle, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Durland, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Crows and Miss Pauline Lester.

Mrs. Giles Harnden was hostess to the Millington Phoebe club Saturday evening at her home on N. avenue. Four tables of pinocle were at play during the evening, and high score went to Mrs. William Harnden and the consolation prize to Mrs. J. J. Pearson.

At eight o'clock the hostess served refreshments.

Mrs. W. E. McClure will be the next hostess to the club.

A delightful party took place on Wednesday evening honoring Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Helane at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilkerson on M. avenue. Mrs. Helane was formerly Miss Irene Ferguson and her marriage to Mr. Helane was an event of the Christmas holidays.

Cards and other games were enjoyed during the evening, after which the honor guests were presented with a beautiful cutglass and silver dish by the teachers of Greenwood school, who sponsored the party. At an appropriate hour refreshments were served.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Green, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hutchins, Miss Bernice McKinney, Miss Beryl Jones, Miss Grace Snook, Miss Mabel Cusley, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dumar, Mrs. Nell Thacker, Miss Vina Conley, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Landry, Edwidge Hoffman, Walter Nibel, Mr. Phineas Robert Williamson, Miss Ruth Garrick, Miss Lorine Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Towler and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wilkerson.

A number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ruth McKinnon gathered at their farm home Friday evening, where an enjoyable time was spent at bridge. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bramwell, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank George, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Buckman, Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson, Clyde Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Boylen and Mr. and Mrs. McKinnon.

At a late hour the women of the party served a two-course luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook Entertain Club

UNION (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cook entertained the members of the T. R. club Wednesday evening at their home in North Union. Four tables of bridge were at play during the evening, with high score among the women players going to Mrs. Fred Fox and the men's prize to L. Z. Terrell. Mrs. George Winship received the consolation prize. The rooms of the Cook home were prettily decorated with potted plants. Following the card games, luncheon was served by the hostess.

UNION (Special)—Members of the Lucky Thirteen club and a number of guests were delightfully entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. W. H. Phillips at her home served at 1:15 o'clock at five small tables. The occasion was a party for the afternoon. Mrs. Phyllis Collier made high score during the afternoon's play and Mrs. W. W. Stevens received the consolation prize.

UNION (Special)—Mrs. George Seidel was hostess to members of the Capri club and a number of guests at a dinner party at her home in North Union. Lunch was served at one large table where covers were laid for 17. Bouquets of sweetpeas in the pasted studies were used to decorate the home and furnish a pretty centerpiece for the luncheon table.

A short business session followed the luncheon when officers were elected for the coming year. Mrs. Frank Struett was elected president to take the place of Mrs. Bert Knight, president last year. Mrs. S. E. Miller was elected vice president and Mrs. Dora Myers, secretary-treasurer. After the business session, the rest of the afternoon was spent visiting.

The next meeting of the club will be Thursday evening, Feb. 2, when the hostess will be entertained at a 5 o'clock dinner.

UNION (Special)—Complimenting Miss Marcia Pihy, whose marriage to Paul R. Spencer, of Denver, was an event of Sunday, Dr. and Mrs. Mark Pihy, of Hot Lake, entertained at a family dinner Friday evening at the Union hotel. Bridge Pointers

By Milton C. Work

One of the great charms of both Auction and Contract Bridge is that new combinations are continually turning up which afford players opportunities to develop their hands in a manner somewhat different from that generally employed. It is usually advisable for Declarer to exhaust trumps so that none of his high cards will be lost by having the adversary ruff them; but there are some hands in which, regardless of the length or strength of the Declarer's trumps, an early trump lead is inadvisable. Generally this happens when Declarer sees an opportunity to utilize one or more of Dummy's trumps for ruffing purposes and thus make the trumps in his two hands separately. When the adversary have the Ace of trumps it may be that the trump lead should be postponed because it is important for Declarer to discard before leading trumps. But still other opportunities for varying standard play present themselves, as in the following hand which I saw played recently:

Turkey Known As "Foreign Devil"

FOOCHOW, Jan. 23 (AP)—A new bird for some is a "foreign devil chicken". To properly observe New Year's missionaries in the interior city of Peking, 18 miles from Foochow, ordered a turkey from Shanghai. Arriving at Foochow the fowl was placed in a large cage, attached to the end of a carrying pole over the shoulder of a husky coolie and began the journey to Peking. En route hundreds of Chinese who had never seen such a bird before, gazed at the turkey. Many asked the coolie what he was carrying. He had one reply "it's foreign devil chicken for the foreign devil".

It's The Money You Spend Wisely That Counts

Someone has said that a rich man has more fun keeping a budget than a man of moderate means. Because the money he saves is tangible, he can see it and invest it, and put it to work. Be that as it may, a budget is an invaluable help to anyone.

A budget helps you keep the right proportions between expenses, prevents you from spending more than is best for food and rent, or crimping more than you should on entertainment and luxury. But a budget is not a reason for getting cheap things, things in which you forfeit quality by attempting to save on price. A budget says to you: "Here is the amount of money you should spend for this. Spend all of it, but don't spend more." And it is up to you to get the best that can be got for that amount.

The person who spends his money wisely, who likes to get the utmost for it, always finds out from advertisements how he can spend it to the best advantage.

It is surprising how much more wisely you can buy if you make it a habit of reading advertising. A little more value here... a little better workmanship there... in this thing slightly more durability... that product perhaps a bit finer. And every cent of money you spend for advertised merchandise will bring you greater comfort, a higher quality of goods, and a standard of excellence that is nationally recognized.

It certainly pays to read the advertisements
