GIVES TESTIMONY IN BANKING TRIAL

Mark Skinner Is Witness for Government in Olmsted-Wheeler Case

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 25 (AP)—Taking testimony in the trial of Emery Olmsted and J. E. Wheeler charged with conspiracy to violate the national bank act, began today when the government called Mark Skinner, vice president of the Northwestern National bank, of which Olmsted was president. Skinner testified that he was questioned by United States District Attorney George Neuner, related a mass of detail in connection with checks deposited by Wheeler, as president of the McCormick Lumber company. The government charged that the bank suffered losses through Mr. McCormick Lumber company's checks that came back from eastern banks marked not sufficient funds. A feature of today's session was introduction of checks which had been deposited in the Northwestern National bank by J. E. Wheeler. Some of these checks were deposited while Emery Olmsted, president, was absent from the city, and Skinner was shown to have been approved by other officers of the bank than Olmsted. Approval by Olmsted of checks deposited by Wheeler was one of the points stressed by United States District Attorney Neuner, in outlining the government's case yesterday. $240,000 The Limit Under questioning by Neuner, Skinner declared that $240,000 was the limit under the law which could be loaned by the Northwestern National bank to any individual or concern. With minutes of the meetings of the executive committee and board of directors before him, Skinner related various methods under which the bank operated. A resolution was adopted by the board at which time Olmsted was present, related to disposition of the currency relative to Wheeler's alleged overdrafts. Chester A. Sheppard, representing Olmsted, cross-examined Skinner at length and endeavored to show that it was common knowledge around the bank that the Wheeler checks were being returned and that certain other officers keyed checks offered by Wheeler.

SCOUTS OF CITY CELEBRATE YEAR OF ACTIVE WORK

learning to swim during the camp period and others learning nature lore, woodcraft, trail building, etc. The camp was given a B-plus rating by national headquarters. A bird house contest was another feature during the year, which resulted in 200 bird houses being placed where they would be of use. Scouts aided the American Legion in their annual convention, were on police duty in Baker during the eighth of July celebration there, during the Elgin fair and the John Day and the Halfway fairs. They also talked in every school in La Grande and Baker during forest conservation week. Scout Executive Busy The scout executive, Mr. Scott, has traveled 12,000 miles during the year visiting the various counties of the council in the interest of scouting and he has conducted two leadership training schools, in addition to about 25 one-night training schools. Fifty-one boy scouts passed the first class test during the year. The second class test. Seven courts of honor were held during the year. Five of which were held in La Grande; 265 merit badges were awarded to scouts, about 150 going to La Grande boys, 12 boys became star scouts, and six life scouts. Two boys, Marshall Woodell, of Baker, and Willis Schuler, of Enterprise, were made Eagle scouts, and the next court of honor to be held here Feb. 9, at La Grande by Virgil Koehnsparger, will become an Eagle scout. Dr. W. T. Pihy is president of the council. Dr. Ray Murphy, of La Grande, N. J. Billings, of Wallowa and C. M. Safford, of Baker, are vice presidents; Sherwood Williams, treasurer; H. E. Dixon, chairman of finance; H. E. Cooridge, chairman of troop organization; A. F. Kerry, of Baker, chairman of the camp committee; Everett Crockett, of Baker, publicity chairman; Jack Peare, city secretary; the Rev. Oliver Hillyer, court of honor chairman; Walter Hunt, member at large; and W. C. Perkins, commissioner. These men compose the executive board of the council, and Dr. Pihy is regional representative.

WAGNER'S WIDOW CELEBRATES

RAINFALL IN 1927 HIGHER THAN NORMAL (Continued from Page One) More Than 5-Year Average Of the 12 months, five had less rainfall than for the five-year average—but the others certainly made up this deficiency. For example, the five-year average for September is 38 inches of rainfall but last year during that month 4.81 inches fell—November was nearly as bad by comparison. The November five-year average is 1.92 but 5.67 inches actually were measured. The months last year having less than normal rainfall were: March, April, July, August and December. The monthly record of precipitation follows: January, 5.46 inches; February, 1.99; March, 1.34; April, .48; May, 1.37; June, 2.13; July, .45; August, .77; September, 4.81; October, 2.29; November, 5.67; December, 1.85, making a total for the year of 26.47 inches in La Grande. This figure, compared with the rainfall for the last five years, was nearly four inches wetter than the second highest—1923, with 22.77 inches. In 1922 the rainfall was 15.43; in 1924, 15.92; in 1925, 21.67; and in 1926, 19.92.

KNOWS NOTHING OF INTENDED MARRIAGE

OXFORD, Eng., Jan. 25 (AP)—The former maharajah of Indore has not informed his son, the youthful maharajah, Yeshwant Rao, who is an undergraduate at Christ church, Oxford, of his possible marriage, Yeshwant Rao told the Associated Press correspondent today. The maharajah, who was seen at his palatial residence near Oxford, declared that he knew nothing of an intended marriage and denied that he had previously expressed his disapproval. He declared he did not know Miss Nancy Ann Miller, of Seattle, Wash., the lady in the case, and had not seen her, and at the present time had no intention of going to Indore for the marriage—"if any." When asked what he meant by the last two words he said: "I don't know a thing about it."

MARY ASTOR WILL WED KENNETH HAWKS

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 25 (AP)—Mary Astor, featured motion picture actress, and Kenneth Hawks, production supervisor at the Fox studio here, will be married next month. The bride-to-be, after refusing for some time to confirm or deny rumors prevalent in the film colony that she was engaged to Hawks, finally made a formal announcement of the betrothal yesterday. The date of the ceremony was set for Feb. 23 and will be performed at Miss Astor's home here.

SENATE DISMISSES VARE PETITION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—By a vote of eight to six the senate elections committee today dismissed the petition of contest brought by William H. Wilson, democrat, against Senator-Elect William S. Vare, republican, Pennsylvania. A healthy person never feels constantly tired. Being "too tired" continually tells of something wrong. When John H. Gordon, Danville, Ill., found himself "always tired at night" and burdened with backache, he took Foley's, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, and writes: "After a few doses, I felt better, could work easier, became stronger, and slept soundly." Men and women everywhere use and recommend Foley's. Satisfaction guaranteed. Ask for Foley's diuretic. Sold every where.
