Dr. and Mrs. Bouvy Entertain Club At Bridge-Dinner

Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Bouvy entertained at an attractive bridge-dinner last evening at their home on O avenue, when members of the Clio club were their guests. Dinner was served at 7 o'clock at six prettily arranged tables. Red roses, in keeping with the approaching St. Valentine's day, were centerpieces for each of the small tables. In the living room bouquets of red carnations were used. After dinner six tables of bridge were at play. High scores among the club members went to Mrs. Chase Bohnenkamp and Walter Reuter. Mrs. Fred E. Lamer received the women's guest prize and the men's guest prize went to L. K. Kinzel.

The Thursday Bridge club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. W. H. Bohnenkamp Sr. as hostess. After a 1 o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. M. R. Donohue the party adjourned to the Bohnenkamp home, where three tables of bridge were enjoyed. Mrs. P. S. Robinson making high score. Yesterday's meeting of the club was the beginning of a new series. Next Thursday Mrs. George T. Cochran will be the hostess.

took place yesterday afternoon at the La Grande hotel when members of the Mc-Way-A-Tum Bridge club gathered there for a no-hostess party. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock in the hotel dining room, where covers were laid for 14 at a table which was attractively arranged with a bouquet of lavender chrysanthemums as a centerpiece.

After luncheon four tables of bridge were at play in the card room on the mezzanine floor. High score among the club members went to Mrs. Frank Poole and Mrs. Clyde Hoppel received the second prize. The guest prize was won by Mrs. W. L. Lane. Other invited guests present were Mrs. May Riley and Mrs. George Clark.

The next meeting of the club will be Thursday, Feb. 5, at the home of Mrs. Frank Poole, near Hot Lake.

Mrs. Herbert Pattison entertained at three tables of bridge yesterday afternoon at her home on Seventh street. During the afternoon's play high scores were won by Mrs. Colon B. Eberhard and Mrs. Lester Bramwell and the consolation prize went to Mrs. William Peare.

The hostess served a two course luncheon after the card games. Plans have been completed for the next regular meeting of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid society, which will be held Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 1, at the church. A program is being arranged which will be given after the regular business session. There will also be a social hour.

Members of the hostess committee are: Mrs. W. C. Crews, chairman, Mrs. Frank Ralston, Mrs. Walter Palmer, Mrs. G. R. Claycomb, Mrs. O. L. MacDowell, Mrs. L. M. Hoyt, Mrs. E. G. Henning, Mrs. A. J. Van Valkenburg, Mrs. Hanna Webster, Mrs. Mary Yesko, Mrs. Charles Thompson, Mrs. C. A. Hingaman, and Mrs. Thomas Budge.

Lutherans Plan 6 o'Clock Dinner

The Ladies' Aid society of the Lutheran church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Andrews on Cherry street with 35 persons in attendance. The Rev. L. H. Aase led in the devotional and gave two readings. Mrs. L. J. Ebert, president of the society, presided over the brief business session, when plans were made to serve luncheon Sunday evening at 6 o'clock in the church annex, when the Rev. P. S. Beitel, who will be in this city Sunday, will speak.

It was the regular social meeting day of the organization, and after the business session the remainder of the time was spent visiting. The hostess served refreshments before adjournment.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Matthes Jr.

whose marriage was a recent event, here, were entertained by friends for the first time since they have been in their new home at 2012 Third street last evening, when members of the choir of the English Lutheran church, of which Mr. Matthes is a member, and other friends gathered there for a surprise party. The evening was spent socially, and at an appropriate hour refreshments were served. The choir members presented the couple with an electric iron.

On Monday evening a miscellaneous shower was given for Mr. and Mrs. Matthes by members and friends of the church at the home of Mr. Matthes' parents on North Ash street.

UNION (Special)—A rather unique social was enjoyed at the high school gym last Wednesday evening by the members of the staff of students and teachers who are connected with the publication of the Union high school publication, the "U-HI." Room decorations, program, invitations, and all other features of the evening's entertainment partook of a newspaper atmosphere.

One feature of the program consisted of a costumeing stunt. All were furnished with newspapers and pins and told to make their costumes. Then they passed before a spotlight for the awarding of a prize, the honor going to Supt. Roy Conklyn, who dressed as Harry Lauder. Kiddle races, fortune telling, and similar stunts furnished much amusement for the staff and other invited guests. Following a literary program furnished by Jane Smith, Louene Hutchison, and Valrie Geertsen, heads of the various departments of the school paper furnished part of the program. Henry Reuter, editorial writer; Miss Brown, questions and answers; Ruth Nelson, poetry; and all heads of departments helped in the entertainment.

Running true to "type," the staff published an issue of "U-HI Slams" for the occasion.

ELGIN (Special)—The Epworth League and Christian Endeavor society gave a party last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Maxwell. A bobbed came to town to haul the young people to the party. The evening was spent playing interesting games, after which refreshments were served.

Those present were Misses Gertrude Dawes, Louisa Hixby, Elizabeth Brewster, Ina Scott, Geneva Taylor, Frances Cates, Ruby Scott, Esther Witty, Ida Philipp, Gita Sias, Agnes Wagner and Helen Bungardner. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Daron, Stanton Maxwell, Melvin Schmore, Edwin Beem, Jack Downing, Ray Scott, Bob Knappin, Murray Durham, Leneau Tucker, Harold Blanchard, Leonard Cates and Albert Rasmussen.

His Stepsons Are Sons-in-Law

After four daughters of Charles W. Slesley of Alliance, Nebr., had married four sons of Mrs. N. O. Golerick, Mr. Slesley and Mrs. Golerick, widower and widow were married, too. Which makes Mr. Slesley's stepsons his sons-in-law, and Mrs. Slesley a mother-in-law and step-mother to the four brides.

MENUS

By Sister Mary BINEAKEAST—Grapefruit sections, cereal, cream, soft cooked eggs, cornmeal waffles, sirup, milk coffee.

LUNCHEON—Bean soufflé, brown bread and butter sandwiches, apple and celery salad, grape tapioea, milk, tea.

DINNER—Hamburg roast, potatoes baked with cheese, stewed tomatoes, orange puff pudding, milk, coffee.

When grapefruit is removed from the shell and served ready to eat without danger of "souring" it is usually exceedingly popular with all members of the family. The easiest way for the cook to prepare the fruit is to cut it in halves and remove the seeds. Then with a strong teaspoon scoop out the pulp between the membrane. Sprinkle with sugar before serving.

Grape Tapioea One and one-half cups grape juice, 1 cup water, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup sugar, 1/2 cup minute tapioca, 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Combine grape juice, water and sugar. Put over the fire and bring to the boiling point. When boiling, stir in tapioca. Add salt and cook, stirring to prevent sticking, until transparent. Remove from fire. Stir in lemon juice and turn into a mold. Chill and serve without or with whipped cream.

This is an excellent dessert for small children as well as adults.

RECKON HURRICANE COST TALLAHASSEE, Fla., (AP)—Cost of the great Florida hurricane of September, 1925, to fire, marine and storm insurance companies is revealed in the annual report of the state insurance commissioner at $12,095,413. They had received only $1,120,500 in net premiums.

A good night's sleep has been known to solve many a perplexing problem.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

Having considered original Contract bids of one No. Trump and two No. Trumps, we today take up the question of bidding three No. Trumps originally. Just as in the case of the original two No. Trump bids, it does not matter which seat at the table the player is occupying. When the original bidder's hand may be strong enough to produce a game even if the partner be Aceless and without the strength for a jump from two to three, three No. Trumps should be bid. Should the original bidder content himself with two and the partner have strength enough to make the combined hands good for three-odd, the two-bid would cost game whenever the partner felt too weak to jump to three. To bid three No. Trumps originally the hand should contain:

(a) Every suit safely stopped;

(b) A holding which may be depended upon to take at least seven tricks unassisted, unless it encounters a weak distribution;

(c) A holding which, with a normal break and a little help from partner will produce game.

The 4-3-2-1 count is not always a dependable guide in gauging a three No. Trump bid, but using it a count of 23 may be considered the minimum, it being understood that with some hands a higher count is required. There are a number of high-card combinations, such as A-J and K-J, which are inalterably strengthened by a Ten, so that at times the presence or absence of that non-counting card may determine whether a 21 hand should bid two or three No. Trumps. Unless a better suit-bid be available, a count of 22 with four suits stuffed generally should be bid three No. Trumps regardless of Tens; and a count of 21 fully justify the bid. But with a distribution unfavorable for a No. Trump, a suit-bid is apt to be safer even with a No. Trump count.

The following hands have the strength for an original bid of three No. Trumps at contract.

No. 1	No. 2
Suit 1 A-Q	A-Q-X
Suit 2 A-J-10	A-J-10
Suit 3 A-J-X	A-J-10
Suit 4 K-Q-10-X-X	K-Q-X-X
No. 3	No. 4
Suit 1 A-Q-X	A-K
Suit 2 A-J-X	A-X-X
Suit 3 A-J-X-X	A-X-X-X
Suit 4 K-Q-J	A-K-X-X

Lightly Clad Girl Warmer, M. D. Says
PARIS (AP)—Lightly clad women really are better protected from the cold than men, says Doctor Leon Bernard, professor of the Medical Faculty of Paris. "Their clothes may seem thin," he explains, "but the goods—silk, satin, linen and fine, thin wools—are more closely woven and insulate the body better." Also, he remarks, women usually wear heavy garments or furs apparently for style, but nevertheless keeping them warm. The quicker movements of women, he adds, stimulate circulation. So long as the women keep their feet dry he feels sure they stand cold weather quite as well as men.

"Please Pass the Bread"
In hundreds of homes where Golden Crust Bread is served you will hear this phrase repeated over and over again. Why?—because Golden Crust satisfies.
Run your knife through one of these temptingly toothsome loaves, notice how cleanly it slices, how delightful its aroma is. There is the proof of honest quality, pure ingredients, correct baking.
The next time you are ordering your groceries, make sure of the best bread you can buy. Specify Golden Crust Bread and then hear your family say, "Please pass the bread."
