GAME FAST, CLEAN

Both games were refereed by Jimmy Rosenbaum, of La Grande. Mr. Keene declared that the new gymnasium, his friends in La Grande, and the fine hotel facilities all played a big part in bringing about the game here.

Offering to college conditions, he said that athletes generally are better students than the average boy, contrary to some contentions. Mr. Keene did not hesitate to express his disapproval of the proposed change in basketball rules doing away with the dribble. "Instead of hindering teamwork, the dribble helps it," he said. "Basketball is an increasingly popular college sport and has gained favor, especially in the last five years," he concluded.

Ornamented With Jewels
The queen wore a tight fitting necklace and gold garters around her knees. Over the upper part of the body was a cloak entirely covered with beadwork in vertical rows and horizontal groups and fringed with dangling gold rings. The cloak was fastened to the right shoulder with three gold and lapis pins, in each of which was fastened a cylinder seal. On one of the seals was inscribed the queen's name.

Those who buried Queen Sargon, the report states, following the prior death of the king, could not resist the temptation to break into the tomb of her husband and rob it of its great treasures.
