

STRANGLER WINS WRESTLING TITLE

Defeats Joe Stecher Two Out of Three Falls in St. Louis Finish Match

By Charles W. Donkey
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 21 (AP)—The "Strangler" Lewis, of Kansas City, today won the undisputed championship of the wrestling world.

By defeating Joe Stecher, of Dodge, Neb., champion of the title, in a three-fall match at the Coliseum last night, Lewis ended the career that has related between them for seven years; since the time the "Strangler" defeated Stecher in New York in 1925.

Lewis won the first fall after more than two hours of dreary wrestling, pinning Stecher's shoulders to the mat with a bar-joint hold and scoring a fall on the arm, in 2:14.32. He captured the third and deciding fall in 12 minutes 54 seconds with a bar-joint or perhaps a double wristlock. Nobody was clear on the mat because of the excitement in the dramatically ended fight.

Stecher Takes Second

Stecher won the second fall in a dizzy mass of quick action, lasting only 56 seconds. Lewis, in a moment of carelessness, fell victim to a double wristlock and was pinned in such astonishing quick time that he was dazed.

In winning the second fall, Stecher, who had only lost two matches in fourteen years previous to last night's defeat, showed the only flash of aggressiveness that he displayed during the entire contest. He was outmanned, outmaneuvered, out-tricked and out-wrestled. Lewis, although past the 35-year mark, carried the battle to Stecher from the start. He displayed super-wrestling ability, trickiness and courage. He won fairly and decisively, never leaving a doubt as to the outcome after the men had been on their feet for an hour.

Dull, Dreary Contest

The contest was dull and dreary to all concerned. It was dreary for promoter Tom Parks because the gate receipts failed to come up to his expectations. The attendance was around 5,000 with the receipts according to Parks around $50,000—perhaps $60,000. The price of $5 to $15 for a ticket was the barrier to more customers.

Keep Your Elbows Off the Table, Folks

An elbow on the table would bring disaster to his little party in the Huntington hotel at Pasadena, Calif., but most of these people are society folk from the east and it is said they don't put their elbows on the table. In the center above is Stanton P. Welsh, Canandaigua, N. Y. Reading around the table to his right are Mrs. Welsh; Miss Irene Victor, Chicago; Miss Dorothy Workman, Long Island; Stephen Wheeler Hoyce, Pasadena; Miss Virginia Benton, London, England; Misses Elizabeth and Eleanor Bachborne, Greenwich, Conn.

INCOME TAX FACTS

No. 8

While all net income up to $5,000, whether actually earned or not, is considered as earned net income for the purpose of computing the 25 per cent credit, undeducted net income in excess of $5,000, part of which was earned income, and part of which was not earned. Following is an example of how to compute correctly the tax due on such a return:

A taxpayer, married and with no dependents, received in 1927 a salary of $4,000 and from a real-estate transaction made a net profit of $4,000. His personal exemption is $2,500. The tax rate is 14 per cent on the first $4,000, in excess of such exemption, and 2 per cent on the remainder:

Net income	$8,000
Less personal exemption	2,500
Balance taxable income	5,500
14 per cent on first $4,000	60
2 per cent on the remainder	15
Total tax	75

But of the $8,000 net income $5,000 is considered as earned net income. From $5,000, therefore, is deducted the personal exemption of $2,500, the tax on the remaining $2,500, at 14 per cent, amounting to $350. Deduct one-fourth of $350, or $87.50, from $75, leaving payable a tax of $82.50.

the long bones and areas of softening in the bones of the skull, obvious enough to the experienced, as symptoms of incipient rickets.

These are signs of a lack of Vitamin D, or an indication that the ultra-violet rays have not played their part. The ultra-violet light, or its equivalent in the oil of the liver of the fish, "mobilizes" the bone-making material and enables the body to use it to the best advantage.

The advantage of cod-liver oil is that it is both high and constant in the amount of Vitamin D that it provides, while eggs and milk vary to some extent with the conditions of production. As for sunlight, it is fugitive indeed. It is not only quantity of sunlight but quality that counts. Diffused sunlight, through the clouds that so often obscure the sun even at noon in winter, and the slanting rays of the late afternoon or of winter and early spring, are not powerful enough. The child might better miss all the visible rays of the sun than the one per cent of the rays that are ultra-violet.

Members of the National Puddle League convened in Philadelphia the other day. Maybe they're trying to find out why Secretary Wilbur is advocating a big navy program and Secretary Kellogg proposing to abolish submarines.

HEALTH

WHY BABIES NEED SUNLIGHT AND COD-LIVER OIL

By Surgeon General H. S. Cumming

A definite, wide-spread threat to the health of children, of rich and poor alike, lies in the many modern tendencies that work together to deprive them of their place in the sun and the health that comes from simple, natural living and eating. Dressed in many clothes, trundled into the park in his covered carriage, or taken out in the motor, or even sunned in a sun-parlor, the "poor little rich child" is as prone to rickets in some form or to probable teeth as is the little poor child of the dark tenements.

Why? There are a number of reasons. First, those invisible rays of the sun, known as ultra-violet, are filtered out, absorbed, by our window glass, and they or their equivalent are necessary to perfect health and growth. A sun-parlor under ordinary window glass has no value, as far as the prevention of rickets is concerned.

Then the milk, on which we have depended for the vitamins A and D that promote growth and prevent rickets, varies greatly in this protective value with the seasons of the year, whether the cows graze green feet of slugs and dry fodder, or is pasteurized in the sun-lab.

Pregnant women should receive simple, well-balanced diets, in which green vegetables are abundantly supplied, and cows with should be regularly taken. They should be kept a sufficient part of their time in the open air and sun. When their infants are placed in the direct rays of the sun for a part of each day and are fed cod-liver oil for the first two or three years of life, a great deal could be accomplished in regard to the prevention of decay of the teeth, and rickets would be abolished from the earth.

Think it over, and then decide whether taking time to sun the baby today a day and give a few drops of cod-liver oil isn't worth while in bringing about the blessing of sound teeth, free from decay, and a framework for the body that is straight and strong, sturdy enough to offer a high resistance to disease.

"Rickets" what is rickets? Rickets is a disturbance of nutrition that prevents or delays the depositing of lime and phosphorus necessary to sound bone formation. Actual deformity is the result of rickets in an advanced stage. There may be swellings at the ends of

Colima, Anderson To Fight Tonight

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21 (AP)—The "Fride of Whittier Cal.," and perennial favorite of Los Angeles—Ben Colima—will go to the post here tonight against formidable Joe Anderson, of Kentucky, and as usual will have the money as well as the good wishes of the fans behind him.

Despite the fact that Anderson has beaten both Leo Lemski and Tony Shado, who in turn have taken the Mexican's measure, Colima ranked a slight favorite with the general public last night.

"He's a man, son," said Clarence, "what is an optimist?"

"He's a man, son," replied his dad, "who thinks if he tells the back-seat driver to shut up, she'll keep quiet for the rest of the trip." —Cincinnati Enquirer.

Jill: No, there's so few people to pose.

If you smoke for pleasure

People might smoke some cigarettes for a lot of queer reasons, but they certainly smoke Camels for pleasure. And they smoke more Camels by billions.
