Elks Ball And Banquet Attended By 350 Persons

The 28th annual banquet and ball of the B. P. O. Elks lodge was held last evening and was enjoyed by about 350 lodge members and their families and friends. The annual banquet and ball is an outstanding social event and is one looked forward to from year to year by members of the lodge.

The banquet was served in the spacious ball room of the Scandinavia Inn, where long tables were arranged and were prettily decorated with bouquets of carnations. An excellent banquet was served, the menu including oyster cocktail, ripe olives, celery hearts, queen olives, sweet tart gherkins, fruit salad, consommé, roast young turkey with dressing, baked salmon o'Brien, cranberry sauce, giblet gravy, whipped cream potatoes, creamed carrots and peas, French rolls, braim lec cheese, salt, artichokes, baked ice cream, pastry, after-dinner mints, salted nuts and coffee.

Senator Fred E. Kiddie presided as toastmaster and during the banquet an interesting program of talks and music was given. Raymond O. Williams, baritone, sang a solo, A. T. Hill, president of the city commission, gave a toast to "Our City." H. L. Hess, a past excited ruler of the local Elks lodge, a toast to "Our Order," and ex-Governor Walter M. Pierce to "Our Sisters, Wives and Sweethearts." Julius Roesch, owner and builder of the Scandinavia Inn, where the banquet was held, was called upon and responded in a clever way with a short talk.

The La Grande Neighborhood club violin sextet (Mrs. Leo Miller, director, Mrs. Andrew Payne, Mrs. Roy Egan and Mrs. Emmett Smith, with Mrs. George Birnie as piano accompanist) played several selections. Mrs. A. K. Parker, soprano, of Wallowa, sang a solo and responded with an encore.

At about 10 o'clock the party adjourned to the ballroom of the Elks temple, where dancing was enjoyed until after midnight. The ballroom was decorated with purple and white streamers, the lodges colors, and bouquets of the season's flowers. A feature of the evening was a solo dance by Miss

Bethine Miller, of Union, Helm's dance band furnished music for the dance and accompanied Miss Miller.

The dancing started with the grand march, led by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh E. Brady. At 11 o'clock the lights went out and Mr. Brady, excited ruler of the lodge, gave the 11 o'clock toast to the memory of the dead members of the order, an annual custom of the lodge.

During the dancing punch was served.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

In the previous articles of this series we have discussed the requirements for original bids; and now we come to bids by the opponents of the original bidder.

At Contract there are many who, with moderately strong hands, always pass a suit-bid on the right, not realizing that failure to make a legitimate informative double or a sound following bid merely because the first bid does not seem to be dangerous, without valuable information from the partner. There may be a game in the two hands and if a player pass as if he had not the strength for even a following bid, his partner may pass and the opponents make a partial score. There is a vast difference particularly at Contract, between a game or partial score for your side and for the other; and frequently almost making following bids and informative doubles frequently causes this difference.

In the case of a one-suit bid (showing lack of strength for a following bid or a double), a pass or a jump by Third Hand, no fixed advice can be given upon the question then arising as to whether Fourth Hand should bid or pass when he holds moderate but not great strength. In the case of Third Hand's passing, Fourth Hand, knowing that the opponents cannot go game with their bid, and

"The voice is essential to stage work and its care one of the actor's greatest worries. During the course of some of my stage appearances, I am called upon at intervals to smoke a cigarette and naturally I have to be careful about my choice.
