INSULT APPOINTED AS WORLD FAIR CHAIRMAN

CHICAGO, Feb. 23 (AP)—Samuel Insull, utility magnate, has been appointed chairman of the finance committee of Chicago's proposed world's fair in 1933.

"Chicago world's fair—centennial celebration," has been chosen by the trustees as the new name for the fair, which shortens the former title of "Chicago's second world's fair and centennial celebration."

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion soothes, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthmal, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

AT THE THEATERS

Duncan Sisters Make Film Debut In Comedy

Two of the best known and richest sisters in the entertainment world will appear in the same picture for three days starting today at the Arendse theater, when the Duncan Sisters make their screen debut in "Topsy and Eva."

The success of Rosetta and Vivian Duncan after an up-hill fight is one of the most inspiring sagas of dogged perseverance.

Ten years ago Rosetta began her stage career as a yodeler in San Francisco and when the call of further fields tempted her, she took Vivian along and the two sisters sang and danced their way throughout the country and Europe.

Four years ago they conceived the idea of basing a musical comedy on the old classic by Harriet Beecher Stowe, "Topsy's Cabin." The girls put their entire savings in the play which they called "Topsy and Eva," but while it was an immediate success on its initial presentation in Los Angeles, the sisters made no money because of managerial mistakes over which they had no control.

They then assumed active management of their own show, attending to bookings, transportation and hiring and firing of members of the company. It was a difficult job for young girls, but they stuck together through a disastrous year and found their first success during a long run of the musical comedy in Chicago.

It is estimated that the Duncans have made half a million dollars in the venture already. This money is carefully invested by them in real estate and sound bonds.

"Topsy and Eva" on the screen is essentially the same as the musical comedy. The greater flexibility of the pictorial presentation, however, has given the Duncan Sisters more opportunity to get over their contagious buffoonery.

The picture was directed by Del Lord for United Artists.

In the cast are Gibson Gowland, Marjorie Daw, Nils Asther, Myrtle Ferguson, Noble Johnson and Henry Victor.

"Rubber Tires" At The Colonial

What is a "tin can tourist?" "Rubber Tires," at the Colonial which features Bonnie Love and Harrison Ford, discloses the secret, according to Alan Hale, director of the screen version of Frank Condon's humorous story of auto camp life.

The typical "tin can tourist" is never quite sure of his exact destination. He motors on day by day, stopping at the auto camps along the way, ever in search of new fields to conquer.

He has no responsibilities, probably all that he owns are his car and the clothes he wears. He is a sort of elevated hobbo, who motors from town to town rather than use the brake beams as his predecessors did.

"Rubber Tires" deals with a family of "tin can" tourists, the chief member of which is a vivacious and resourceful daughter, Bonnie Love, as Mary Ellen Stack, is the brains of the family, its
