Entertainment In Honor Of Cradle Roll Department

Honoring the first anniversary of the cradle roll department of the First Presbyterian Sunday school, Mrs. T. A. McKinstry, superintendent, entertained the children of the department and their mothers at a delightful party Saturday afternoon at the church.

This department of the Sunday school was organized a year ago by Mrs. McKinstry and during that time has made a marked growth, now having a membership of 41 babies from one to three years of age. New members are enrolled on the first Sunday of each month, but because Saturday was anniversary day three new members were added to the roll.

More than 50 mothers and children gathered for the party. A program was given in the main auditorium of the church during the afternoon and refreshments were served in the community room. Both rooms were decorated with bouquets of daffodils and roses.

Little Alice Marie Palmer, as a little pilgrim maiden, passed out the programs to each one present, which were in the form of a star, and little Mary Ingle took the part of the little flower girl and distributed tiny bouquets of sweetpeas among the guests as favors.

The afternoon's program was arranged by Mrs. Lynn Wright and included many interesting numbers. Miss Catherine Humphreys gave a reading and Mrs. W. H. Bohnenkamp Jr. sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Lynn Wright at the piano. Miss Mary Vaughn Hendrickson and Mrs. Lynn Wright each gave a reading, Robert Beck played an organ solo and Miss Lois Nelson played a piano solo. Mrs. Floyd Sherwood's name appeared on the program for a vocal solo, but she was unable to take part.

Time was allowed for making little baby dresses out of crepe paper and Dr. Margaret Ingle won first prize and the second prize went to Mrs. Clyde Webb.

Excellent refreshments were served after the program, which were prepared by Mrs. McKinstry. She was assisted in serving by Mrs. W. E. Buchanan, Mrs. John Thelton, Mrs. James MacKenzie and Miss Woodruff Buchanan.

About 40 young people of the Methodist Episcopal church south gathered at the church Friday evening for a program and social. It was the first program given by the Epworth League of the church and was very successful.

Following the program a social was enjoyed, with games and refreshments until a late hour.

The monthly business meeting of the Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church south was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. A. Hall with nine members in attendance. During the business session plans were made for a cooked food sale to be held Saturday, Mar. 17.

Mrs. Eula Webb had charge of the afternoon's Bible study, which was followed by a social hour.

The regular business meeting of the Fruitdale Parent-Teacher association was held Friday afternoon at the school. The attendance was small and only the usual business of the association was taken up. Plans were made for a cooked food sale to be held sometime soon, the date of which was not decided upon.

UNION (Special)—One of the most delightful parties of the early spring season was Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. W. M. Dohlin and her mother, Mrs. Mary Hutchinson entertained at an attractive 1:15 o'clock luncheon at the Union hotel. Covers were laid for 24 at one long table, which was prettily decorated with mixed bouquets of spring flowers.

Following luncheon six tables of bridge were in play in the hotel living room. Mrs. Tony D. Smith made high score and the second prize went to Mrs. William Hutchinson. Mrs. Roy Hard received the consolation prize.

UNION (Special)—Mrs. W. W. Stevens entertained the members of the Carnation club and a few guests Thursday afternoon at an attractive 1:15 o'clock luncheon at her home in South Union. Luncheon was served at three small tables, decorated with bouquets of the season's flowers.

After luncheon the remainder of the afternoon was spent visiting.

UNION (Special)—Mrs. Mary Derby, of South Union, aged 76 years, celebrated her nineteenth birthday last Wednesday, Feb. 23. A birthday dinner was given in her honor at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cleve Tallman, at 7 o'clock in the evening, with covers laid for members of the family at a table made attractive with spring flowers. A large birthday cake with lighted candles served as a centerpiece.

Mrs. Derby received many beautiful gifts in remembrance of her birthday.

MENUS

By Sister Mary
BREAKFAST—Apple sauce, cereal, cream, crisp bacon, sour cream waffles, maple syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Savory stewed eggplant in macaroni border, banana and peanut salad, gingerbread with whipped cream, milk, tea.

DINNER—Ham baked in milk, sweet potato apples, cold slaw, raisin custard pie, milk, coffee.

Mothers should insist that the lettuce used in a salad is eaten quite as well as the other ingredients. In the luncheon salad a banana is peeled, scraped and rolled in finely chopped peanuts. It is served on a bed of lettuce. Lettuce is necessary to bring the entire meal into perfect balance as well as to add attractiveness to the salad.

Sour Cream Waffles
One and one-fourth cups flour, 1-2 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 5 tablespoons melted butter, 1 cup sour cream.

Beat eggs until very light. Stir in sour cream and add dry ingredients mixed and sifted. Beat hard and add melted butter. Beat hard for two minutes and bake on a hot waffle iron.

If the eggs are beaten until very light it is not necessary to beat the yolks and whites separately. Be sure that the soda is thoroughly mixed with the flour before adding the dry ingredients. And keep in mind that a waffle batter is a "pour" batter.

These waffles are deliciously crisp and tender.

SUGGEST FLAX INCREASE

HEALTH

DIABETES
By Elmer Hess, M. D., Erie, Pa.
Member Gorgas Memorial

Since the discovery of insulin by Dr. Banting, the problem of the diabetic patient has been greatly simplified. However, a warning is necessary to those who are using insulin. This drug should be administered only under the supervision of a competent medical advisor, preferably one who has made some special study of this condition and who thoroughly understands the nature of the disease.

Diabetes, sugar diabetes or the sweet sickness, as it is ordinarily called, usually creates a voracious appetite, and thirst, accompanied by the passing of great quantities of irritating urine. There is, as a rule, a rapid loss of weight; there may be various kinds of skin eruptions; there may be dizziness and headaches, and as the disease progresses the patient loses weight more rapidly, becomes more hungry and thirsty, grows weaker and until finally he becomes mentally stupid and goes to sleep. This terminal condition is technically called diabetic coma.

With insulin, many of these patients can still be aroused from their coma, and the progress of the disease can often be stopped and the disease controlled. Do not forget, I do not say cured. Once a diabetic, in the majority of cases, always a diabetic.

I have been asked by patients who have no symptoms but whose urine is found to contain sugar if they have diabetes. If there is sugar in the urine, the most likely cause for that sugar is diabetes.

There is, however, a condition in the kidneys which the scientific physician recognizes as a low threshold kidney and this type of kidney will, from time to time, spill over sugar from the blood. This patient will have no other symptoms as a rule. Then I am asked how you can tell whether sugar in the urine is true diabetes and serious, or not diabetes and not serious. If a physician finds sugar in the urine, he is in duty bound to have the blood examined for sugar. If sugar is found in the urine and a normal quantity of sugar is found in the blood, obviously there is no diabetes but if sugar is found in the urine and the quantity of sugar found in the blood is above normal physiological limits, there is no argument, the patient is diabetic and needs treatment, care, and supervision. It is more important to make a complete blood sugar test on a patient than it is to do a sugar test on the urine, because many diabetics will have high blood sugar and be in grave danger and sugar will only appear at irregular intervals in the urine.

A complete sugar test is a very simple one to make, requires only a few drops of blood taken from a vein in the arm and in a few hours, at the most, a competent laboratory can present your physician with a report. This test has become so important that in a great many hospitals it is a routine test on all patients who are admitted.

The important thing to do, therefore, if you are at all suspicious of your condition, is to have a complete blood sugar test made. If sugar is found in your urine, it is imperative that this test be done.

Bridge Pointers

By Milton C. Work

This week we will give three more illustrations of hands in which the Declarer may gain material advantage by carefully planning his campaign as soon as the Dummy is exposed. How should the Declarer plan to play today's hand with Spades the contract?

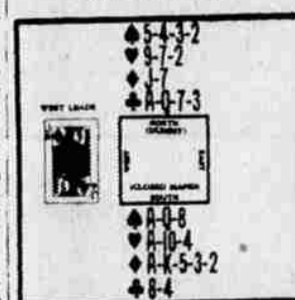

It is evident that Declarer can take every trick, except possibly the King of Diamonds, if the distribution of adverse trumps be normal. He can capture that King if it be on his right and therefore would plan to finesse Diamonds. One finesse, however, will not accomplish the purpose, unless the six adverse Diamonds are unexpectedly divided four small in the West hand and King and one small in the East. East probably has three Diamonds, possibly four; if West have the King, it could not be captured unless a singleton; and the odds against that 5-1 division are so great that it would be folly to think of playing the Ace with the hope of dropping a lone King in the West hand, when there is an even chance of finding it in the East hand and catching it by finesse. The point of the hand is to be sure to catch the King if East have it; and to do that three leads from Dummy may be needed.

Declarer probably can secure three leads from Dummy, by the following procedure. He should ruff the first Heart with a Spade honor, not with the Deuce. He then should lead two Spade honors from the South hand and on the third round of Spades, the Deuce from the South hand, taking it in Dummy with the Ten. If the adverse trump distribution be normal, this will exhaust the enemy's trumps.

To trick 5, Declarer should lead a Diamond from Dummy and finesse. If that finesse win, he then should lead the King and Queen of Clubs from Closed Hand, watching carefully to see if both adversaries follow. If they do, eight Clubs will have been played and then he can lead the Jack of Clubs from Closed Hand, overtake with the Ace in Dummy and try a second Diamond finesse. If this win, he will have the Six of Clubs in Closed Hand to put Dummy in with the Seven of Clubs for a third entry and thus obtain a third Diamond lead from Dummy. Of course if either adversary should fail to follow to the second Club trick, he would not overtake the Jack with Ace as doing so would make good an adverse Club and in that case he could give Dummy only two entries.
