A LARGE PLACE—I called upon the Lord in distress: the Lord answered me, and set me in a large place. The Lord is on my side: I will not fear what can man do unto me? Psalm 118:5, 6.

La Grande Air Field Personals

LA GRANDE AIR FIELD (Special)—On account of a big storm in the mountains between here and Pasco, Pilot George Buck was delayed at the emergency field several hours Sunday when on his way from Boise to Pasco with the airmail. "It has been raining in Boise four days continuously and I have been tied up there three days on account of it. I should have left there Friday," declared the aviator when relating on account of the storm. "There is water everywhere. In the North Powder country streams are rampaging and water is running over plowed ground and over hay meadows.
There are a great number of straw stacks and hay stacks in the valley and consequently many of these are standing in water." Pilot Buck, who was injured in an airplane accident at the field here some time ago, resumed duties on the Varney airmail route about two weeks ago, this making his fifth trip since that time. About noon when the clouds broke and the fog lifted, he took off from the field and continued his flight on to Pasco.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Sherwood were Sunday dinner guests at the Robert Masterton home.

Mrs. Lucy Graham has gone to California to visit with her sister, at Riverside for a month or two.

tives and friends in La Grande and vicinity spent Thursday at the Wm. Hughes home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stultz, of Jordan Valley, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hagey a few days last week. Mrs. Stultz is Mr. Hagey's sister.

Odd Incidents Connected With Dam Disaster

SANTA PAULA, Cal., Mar. 14 (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Thelma McCauley, of Fillmore, who was ill in bed with the measles when the St. Francis dam deluge struck the town, was in the water 12 hours and a half buried in silt when found late yesterday. Doctors who gave her emergency treatment early today said she probably would survive. Her mother and father are among the missing.

Nick Baxter, of Santa Paula, saved three lives and recovered three bodies, at his yesterday's work. He plunged in the raging torrent early in the day to rescue Soledad Luna from a tree. Then he plunged back again to rescue Magdalena Luna from a roof. Mrs.
Luna and three children floated out of a wrecked home on a feather mattress to safety. The Luna family had arrived here from San Bernardino but a few hours before the flood came.

Rosa Simango battled the flood two hours with her aged mother in her arms. She won her fight and reached shore. The mother was dead; her father is missing.

colony of citrus growers who formerly lived in Missouri were wiped out southwest of Santa Paula.

One of the odd incidents, which rouned laughs from grief-burdened ranchers; a four-room house floated a mile without one piece of its furniture being disarranged. Even the table lamps were found upright in their places.

Two million dollars worth of oranges ready for market were lost at Riverside, opposite Fillmore, where they probably will be a total loss.

Fillmore faces a possible water shortage. Municipal supply wells in the river bottom were destroyed.
All but one well of a private water company were also wrecked.
