Candidates May File Friday, 13th But Will They?

SALEM, Ore., Mar. 14 (AP)—The final day allowed by law this year for the candidates to file with the secretary of state falls on April 13, and since that happens to be Friday the 13th, there is some speculation here whether there will be the usual crush of candidates clamoring to get themselves properly recorded before midnight of that date.

Politicians, like sailors and ball players, are known to be superstitious, and Secretary of State Kozor is wondering whether it will be necessary for him to keep his office open until midnight Friday, April 13, to accommodate those who wish to keep their candidacies in the dark until the last minute. He thinks it is pretty safe to bet that most of them will be in by the close of business on April 12th.

Secretary Kozor reports more activity among the candidates than at the corresponding date two and four years ago. So far 60 aspirants for offices have filed. On the same date four years ago, also a presidential year, there were 51.

There are 25,000 motion picture theaters in the United States with seats for 11,000,000 people, says a Hollywood statistician. Yet the precious pulp who must chatter with their movie fans to pick out the two just behind you.

A rolling stone gathers no moss, but those who are rolling in wealth stand no special need of moss.

No More Gas In Stomach and Bowels

If you wish to be permanently relieved of gas in stomach and bowels take Basalmin. Gas tablets, which are prepared especially for stomach gas and all the bad effects resulting from gas pressure.
That empty, gnawing feeling at the pit of the stomach will disappear; that anxious, nervous feeling with heart palpitation will vanish, and you will again be able to take a deep breath without discomfort.
That drowsy, sleepy feeling after dinner will be replaced by a desire for entertainment. Bloating will cease. Your limbs, arms and fingers will no longer feel cold and "go to sleep" because Basalmin's Gas Tablets prevent gas from interfering with the circulation. Get the genuine, in the yellow package, at any good drug store. (Price 5c). Always on Hand at GLASS DRUGS, Inc. —Adv.

Vast Open Spaces Filmed in Zane Grey Story

Zane Grey knows the West. Often in the past, he has proved himself a master of the yarns of the vast, open spaces as written for motion pictures.

Once again, this prolific author reveals his talents, this time in a new type of story which has been made into a Paramount film production, "Under the Tonto Rim."

"Under the Tonto Rim" comes to the Star Theater on Thursday for a three-day run and presents many fine characteristics, according to all reports.
First of all, an able cast was selected to personate the various characters in the tale, the company being headed by Richard Arlen and Mary Brian, and supported by Jack Lunden, Harry T. Morey, Bruce Gordon and many others.

Secondly, attractive photography is featured throughout, this feature of the picture being more interesting and entertaining than many another outdoor story that has been recorded of late.

Lastly, Grey's story is a vehicle with a plot that well fits the demands of the motion picture audience. While many of this author's writings have concerned the life of the cowboy, "Under the Tonto Rim" has as its locale and background the Tonto Basin in Arizona at the time gold was discovered.

Many thrills have been interwoven in the action, and the comedy element has not been neglected. Miss Brian and Arlen are the most-liked leading players in pictures. This is the first time they have ever appeared in a western story, and it is their first work together. Arlen has done a number of important roles, most notable of which were the leads in "Wings," "She's a Sheik," "Tolled Stockings" and in "Phibes Don't Lie."

Miss Brian has played in a number of Richard Dix vehicles since her debut as Wendy in "Peter Pan," and is ranked as one of Hollywood's most promising girls.
Herman Raymaker directed, J. Walter Ruben wrote the screen play, which C. Edgar Schoenbaum photographed.

Smith wins the ham and bacon when Mrs. Smith and Bubbs win the Mother and Baby Contest in the Laugh contest if you see "Smith's Holiday," the latest Mack Sennett Smith Family Pathécomedy which is the fun feature of the bill.

"Sorrell and Son" Coming To Arcade

Father-and-son love is the theme of "Sorrell and Son," Herbert Brenson's production of Warwick Deering's best-selling novel, made into a United Artists picture, and offered at the Arcade theater on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

H. B. Warner appears as Stephen Sorrell, and Mickey McBan and Nils Asther, each, respectively, the child Kit and the matured Kit Sorrell. The notable cast includes Anna Q. Nilsson as Dora Sorrell; Carmel Myers as Florence Palfrey; Norman Trevor as Thomas Roland; Alice Joyce as Fanny Gardiner; Mary Nolan as Molly Roland; and Louis Wolheim as Sergeant Buck.

Much of "Sorrell and Son" was filmed in England and with the aid of the author, Warwick Deering, all of the film "Sorrell and Son" is faithful to the spirit and letter of Warwick Deering's book, and the ending of the film is that of the book. Herbert Brenson, who made "Peter Pan" and "Beau Geste," says that "Sorrell and Son" is his best motion picture. A father's story, Mr. Brenson believes the story of "Sorrell and Son" is that of any father and any son, and that the appeal of the film as entertainment is supplemented by its spiritual effect on men and women who view it.

The story of "Sorrell and Son" is that of a British war veteran whose wife deserts him and his six-year-old son. The veteran, Captain Stephen Sorrell, M. C., thereafter struggles against poverty, poverty, vice and physical exhaustion to rear and educate his beloved son, in whom he is ultimately well pleased. Interwoven with the story of father-and-son devotion are the sub-plots of Stephen Sorrell's friendship with Fanny Gardiner; Kit Sorrell's love for Molly Roland; Roland's kindness for Stephen Sorrell; Sergeant Buck's enmity for Sorrell; Florence Palfrey's scorn of her drunken husband and angry passion for Captain Sorrell; and Dora Sorrell's bitter struggle to win from her husband the love of their son, Kit.

Mystery-Romance Closes Run At Colonial Today

"George O'Hara," in featured in "Ladies Beware," F. O. Z. starting mystery-romance, which is showing today for the last time at the Colonial theater.
The story, which deals vitally with the question of criminal reform, is filmed in a brilliant setting of elaborate apartments and beautiful country estates. Many of the beautiful scenes of the picture were filmed at Lake Arrowhead, one of the most entrancing scenic wonderlands of Southern California.

Beautiful gowns and ladies, representative of figures who move prominently through the social life of exclusive metropolitan circles, lend materially to the charm of this absorbing screen romance in which mystery starting action and delicious comedy situations vie for interest.

Included in the splendid cast supporting O'Hara in the leading role are Nola Luxford, Florence Wit, Kathleen Myers, Marie Carlisle, Allen Brooks, Byron Douglas, Bud Jamison and Jimmy Aubrey. Charles Glynn directed and the story was adapted by Edith Hubbard from Fred Jackson's original, "The Jack O'Diamonds."

Logger Drowns In Rescue Attempt

SALEM, Ore., Mar. 14 (AP)—While trying to relieve another logger who was in distress George J. Schumacher was drowned yesterday in the Santiam river at Mill City. Raymond Minto, Schumacher's brother-in-law, was trying to free a log jam, when he slipped into the water. Schumacher rushed out upon the jam to aid him when a log slipped and threw him into the stream. Minto was able to swim and saved himself. Schumacher could not swim.

SCHAEFER IN LEAD

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 14 (AP)—Champion Jake Schaefer played superb billiards to overcome Challenger Edouard Horoman's big lead and win the third block of their championship play by the score of 90 points to 55. The block required four hours and 10 minutes to play and ended at 12:40 a. m. today.

Perhaps it's because there are so many other ways to waste money that fewer men are engaging in the fancy chicken business.

An old gentleman went to a barber shop to get a haircut. He was bald and only had hair around his ears.

He took his hat off and got into the chair. The barber looked at him and asked: "Did you say you wanted a haircut?"

"Yes," answered the old man.

"Well, then you will have to take your collar and tie off, but you can keep your hat on."

A police man on the beat was puzzled by the appearance of a house. It was a large place, and although well past midnight, every room from attic to basement was well lighted. At last he thought he would make inquiries.

"It's quite all right, constable," said the man who came to the door. "Nothing to be alarmed about. You see, my wife's been away for a month and, of course, I've written and told her how lonely I've been. Well, I'm making sure the electric meter doesn't give me away."

An honest speeder had just hit a dog and had returned to settle his damages if possible. He looked at the dog a moment and addressed the man with the gun.

"Looks as if I'd killed your dog."

"Certainly looks that way."

"Very valuable dog?"

"Not very."

"Will five dollars be enough?"

"Well—I guess so."

"Sorry to have broken up your hunt," said the motorist pleasantly as he handed the owner a crisp five dollar bill.

"I wasn't going hunting—just going out in the woods to shoot the dog."

"Smile and the world smiles with you."

Kick and you kick alone; But the cheerful grin will let you in. Where the knocker is never known."

Magistrate—"You are charged with being drunk. Have you anything to say?"

Colprit—"I've never been drunk in my life, sir, and I never intend to be—it always makes me feel so bad in the morning."

Marie—"There is only one thing more surprising than the readiness with which Dick gave up smoking when we became engaged."

Glady—"And what is that?"

Marie—"The rapidity with which he took it up again as soon as we were married."

The Scotch grocery salesman hailed a cab.

"How much to take me to the Majestic Hotel?" he asked.

"41.75."

"And how much for my suitcase?"

"Oh," said the cabman, "I'll take those for nothing."

"Fine! Take the suitcases, I'll walk."
