Miss Miller and C. D. Griffiths, of Pocatello, Marry

Surprising her many La Grande friends the marriage of Miss Isabella Miller, daughter of Mr. M. Miller, of this city, to Cyril D. Griffiths, of Pocatello, Idaho, was quietly solemnized at a pretty wedding at the home of her mother yesterday afternoon at about 2:30 o'clock.

The season's flowers in many beautiful colors were used to decorate the rooms and formed a lovely setting for the wedding. The impressive ring ceremony was read by the Rev. J. George Walz, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Only the members of the family and a few immediate friends were present.

The bride was attractive in a blue tailored costume with hat to match. She carried an arm bouquet of roses and sweet peas.

After the ceremony the guests went to the dining room where refreshments were served. Mrs. A. C. Miller, of Enterprise, poured and Miss Gladys Miller and Miss Hilda Anderson served. The wedding cake, which was made by Mrs. William Miller, was cut by the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths left this morning for Portland, where they will visit with her brother, Robert Miller, and her aunt, Miss Isabella Geides. From there they will go to Seattle, Wash., for a short visit with Miss Mabel Bennett, formerly of the city, and Miss Hyatt, daughter of Mrs. A. C. Miller. They will return to La Grande Friday night and will spend one day here before going to Pocatello to make their home.

Mrs. Griffiths made her home in La Grande most of her life and has a wide circle of friends here. She was graduated from the La Grande high school, after which she attended the Oregon Normal school and the normal school at Cheney, Wash. She is also a graduate of the American Conservatory of Music of Chicago, where she took a course in the supervision of public school music. She was a primary teacher in the La Grande public school system for one year, and for three years was music teacher in the high school here. For the past year and a half she has been music instructor in the Franklin Junior high school at Pocatello, Idaho. She has resigned her position in the school there.

Mr. Griffiths is a member of a prominent Pocatello family and is active in the Masonic and Shriner lodges. He is employed in the offices of the Union Pacific Railroad company there.

Bridge Pointers

By Milton C. Work

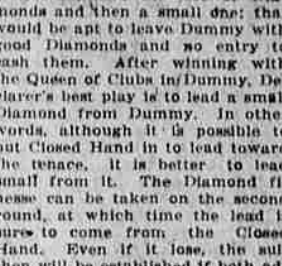

This week we shall give three more illustrations of hands in which the Declarer may gain material advantage by planning his campaign as soon as the Dummy is exposed. How should the Declarer plan to play today's hand, with a No Trump contract?

Declarer sees three sure tricks in Clubs and three more with his other three Aces. Three more (odd) tricks and game could be acquired by finessing Queens if every finesse won; but an attempt to establish Dummy's long Diamonds is more apt to succeed, the odds being very long against finding all three Kings on the right of the Ace-Queens. If four Diamond tricks can be made, Declarer need not try either Major finesses; if three can be made, only one of those finesses need be successful. It is perfectly obvious that one diamond trick must be lost, so it does not matter whether that trick be the first or the second.

Of course it would be the limit of folly for the Declarer to lead a Diamond from Closed Hand, finesse the Queen in Dummy and, if it won, lead the Ace of Diamonds and then a small one; that would be apt to leave Dummy with good Diamonds and no entry to cash them. After winning with the Queen of Clubs in Dummy, Declarer's best play is to lead a small Diamond from Dummy. In other words, although it is possible to put Closed Hand in to lead toward the tenace, it is better to lead small from it. The Diamond finesses can be taken on the second round, at which time the lead is sure to come from the Closed Hand. Even if it lose, the suit then will be established if both adversaries have followed to both Diamond tricks.
