Delightful Party At Ingle Home On Second Street

The eighth birthday anniversary of Miss Frances Singleton was the occasion for a delightful party given yesterday afternoon from 3:30 until 6 o'clock by Dr. Margaret Ingle at her home on second street.

The affair was in the form of a "dress up" party, and the children came in costume. Games and contests were enjoyed during the afternoon, prizes being awarded to the winners.

The guests at the party included Wilton Baker, Martha Ellen Gutridge, Wilma Gekeler, Ruth Stoddard, Grace Helen Robinson, Betty and Helen Stoddard, Jan Williams, Elaine Ely, Stella Jean and Mary Ingle, and the honor guest, little Miss Singleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Skiff entertained the members of the La Petite Bridge club at a delightful party last evening at their home on Oak street.

MENUS

By Sister Mary BREAKFAST—Stewed dried peaches, cereal, cream, chopped meat in cream on toast, popovers, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Salt codfish hash, corn bread, hearts of lettuce with French dressing, jellied oranges and bananas with whipped cream, milk, tea.

DINNER—Stuffed mutton cutlet, new potatoes in parsley butter, dandelion greens, peanut and banana salad, canned cherries, spice cake, milk, coffee.

When dandelion greens are very young and tender they can be cooked like spinach in the water that clings to the leaves and their own juice. A hot dressing of lemon juice, butter and eggs is particularly good over the greens.

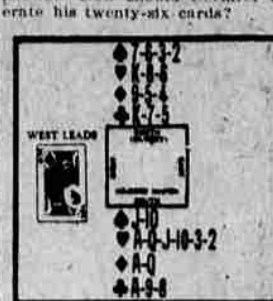

Salt Codfish Hash One cup flaked salt codfish, 3 cups diced potatoes, 1 tablespoon butter, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons diced fat salt pork.

Cover fish with cold water and put over a very low fire. Let stand one hour without letting water boil. Drain. Boil potatoes until tender. Drain and force through a ricer. Beat in butter and add prepared fish and pepper. Turn together lightly with a fork. Try out pork scraps. Add fish and potato mixture and stir two or three minutes. Then pack in frying pan and brown underneath. Fold and turn out on to a hot platter. Garnish with a ring of hot pickled beets and serve with lanches of fresh watercress.

with watering of the eyes, running of the nose, sneezing and coughing, and, for a day or two, even the most expert medical diagnostician might be unable to decide which it is. Yet, even at this stage, the disease is highly contagious. It is chiefly because of this and the entirely neglectful attitude of people toward colds that it seems necessary for everyone to get the measles at least once in his life. This being apparently almost a necessity, it is highly desirable that children should not get the disease while very young or when feeble, because in such cases measles is far from being the joke it is thought to be by some. For, though it is a fact that measles in itself is practically never fatal, it is liable to serious complications and sequelae, such as broncho-pneumonia and tuberculosis.

Bridge Pointers

By Milton C. Work Yesterday's problem was: Contract Hearts; South Dealer, North Dummy; the initial lead is shown. How should Declarer operate his twenty-six cards?

Declarer will note that he must lose two Spade tricks and one Club trick. Whether he can win both Diamond tricks, he knows not—it is an even chance that the King is held by West and a lost Diamond finesse would mean a lost game in spite of Declarer's great strength.

Of course if the adverse trumps prove to be divided 3-1 instead of 4-2, Declarer's elimination scheme must be abandoned as, after exhausting the adverse trumps, Dummy would be left trumpless.

with watering of the eyes, running of the nose, sneezing and coughing, and, for a day or two, even the most expert medical diagnostician might be unable to decide which it is. Yet, even at this stage, the disease is highly contagious. It is chiefly because of this and the entirely neglectful attitude of people toward colds that it seems necessary for everyone to get the measles at least once in his life.

A child with measles should be given the benefit of medical care, and, until such is secured, kept in bed at absolute rest in a moderately darkened room. Other children should be kept away from him, not only to protect them against the measles infection, but also to protect the child with measles from other infections, to which measles seems to predispose him.

The child may be coming down with the measles. This disease, as every experienced mother knows, starts just like an ordinary cold.
