Butter Prices
Drop Again In
Portland Mart

PORTLAND, Ore., Mar. 23 (AP)—Butter prices took another sharp drop today following the falling off of outside demand, which has been moderate the last few days. Butter prices today were 10 to 15 cents lower than yesterday's prices.

Country demand and poultry markets were looking better today with trading moderate. Demand for light hens continued light, although prices were heavy and considerable speculation was reported. Quota. House were unchanged but prices were that lower prices will prevail within a day or two. Receipts of mail were moderate today and nothing steady at 17.50 for best offerings. Eggs were held steady at 14.50 with demand fairly active. Lard was unchanged.

Shot Down While
Kneeling in Prayer

CHICAGO, Mar. 23 (AP)—John Infante, kneeling in his prayer, was shot and killed today—three bullets in the back. He was the second Italian to fall before assassins within 24 hours.

"The Doctor," as they called Infante, was shot in the back Wednesday night with 54 shotgun shells in his body. Whether his death and that of Infante were connected, police said they did not know. Coming so closely together, the one a waiter asked to the other, police are pursuing a theory that the slayings were woven on the same loom.

BROCCOLI YIELD

ROCKFORD, Mar. 23 (AP)—Local broccoli shippers today announced a revised estimate of the number of carloads of broccoli to be shipped from the Chicago valley during the season, placing the maximum at 400 instead of 500 as previously announced. Some believe that the total yield will not reach more than 250. With 225 carloads shipped up to the present, time the peak seems to have been reached and shippers are looking for a decline in volume, tapering off to an occasional carload by the middle of April. Shipments are now being made at the rate of from ten to twelve daily but the tendency during the past few days has been downward.

Any woman will tell you that soap is sure to be dislodged this spring.
