WEATHER HURTS SHOTGUN SQUAD

La Grande Club Turns in 71, Losing Three of the Four Matches Sunday

La Grande trapshooters, of the Wing Pine and Pleasant club dropped into the second division in the Oregonian telegraphic tournament Sunday as a result of losing three and winning but one match. The weather was poor, in fact at Union, it was so bad that none of the trapshooters of that town shot.

La Grande's win was over Arlington, in a hold-over from Mar. 18 when both teams turned in a straight 75. La Grande's three high men were: A. J. Stange, 24; C. Hohenkamp, 24; and J. H. Smith, 23.

Souminen Still Retains Lead In Pyle's Marathon

GRANTS, N. M., Mar. 26 (AP)—Six days having passed without withdrawal, 96 runners in the cross-continent marathon left here today for their twenty-third control at Old La Grana, a distance of 42 miles.

Arne Souminen, leader for the 772.1 miles now covered from Los Angeles, with an elapsed time of 131:04:25, struck off at a steady pace after expressing a determination not to relinquish the leadership to others of the band.

Peter Gavuzzi, England, led into Grants from Thorsau, N. M., Sunday, a distance of 50.6 miles in 3:49:45.

De La Salle High Wins Tournament

CHICAGO, Mar. 25 (AP)—De La Salle high school of Joliet, Ill., shattered traditions last night by winning the national Catholic high school basketball championship for the second consecutive year.

The Joliet team overwhelmed St. Louis university high school of St. Louis 32 to 11.

It was the fifth annual Catholic tourney and the first time a champion has retained its title.

McTigue Fights In New York Tonight

NEW YORK, Mar. 26 (AP)—Mike McTigue, former world's light heavyweight champion, returns to the metropolitan fistic strife tonight in a ten-round struggle with Tony Marullo of New Orleans at St. Nicholas arena. This will be McTigue's first appearance here since he was defeated on October 7 for the light heavyweight title abandoned by Jack Delaney.

RADIO-GRID COMPARISONS

PORTLAND, Ore. — Because folks stay home to hear the big games on the radio when otherwise they would go, to the little ones some of the graduate managers of northwest college athletics wish broadcasting of conference games discontinued. Jack Henfield, of Oregon, said that when Southern California played Notre Dame at Chicago the radio crippled attendance at every other game in the country (Jack, the Army-Navy game was played in New York, the same day, and love and money would not buy a ticket.)

Tough Hombre

Here's Gama, the Punjab wrestler who recently threw the veteran Stanley Zbyzsko in 30 seconds in a match in India. The Punjab is shown here with the trophy awarded by the Maharajah of Patiala for winning the bout.

Promising Crew At Washington; Eyes Olympics

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — With the Olympic games as the ultimate goal, the University of Washington varsity crew, three times intercollegiate rowing champion, and last year second only to Columbia, is showing terrific driving power and beautiful form in early season practice.

Its first race is against California here April 6. California won last year's event.

The chances of the Huskies, working under Coach Uthrickson, their new coach, appear unusually bright. Only three seats of the 1927 varsity shell need to be filled and Uthrickson has last year's junior varsity champions to select from with the exception of one man lost by graduation. With these men and a horde of last year's freshmen fighting for a seat in the first shell, the five regulars are having to exert themselves to keep their positions.

The 25-year-old Washington coach who stepped into the shoes of "Rusty" Callow when Callow went to Pennsylvania at a salary purported to be the highest ever paid a crew instructor, is pointing for three races. They are the duel with California, the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie and the Olympic trials.

The Husky mentor's most difficult problem at present is choosing a stroke. He has four men including last season's varsity pacer who probably could handle the first shell in a creditable manner but he hasn't decided which one he will use. Ellis MacDonald, Hal Philbrick, Ray Morse and Stan Valentine comprise the quartet seeking the coveted seat.

MacDonald stroked the varsity on the Hudson last year. Philbrick stroked the junior varsity at Poughkeepsie and Morse the junior varsity against California. Valentine is a new man.

Rounding into shape, the crew often takes pulls of six to eight miles on Lake Washington—open the year around—and their stroke now is being raised gradually, trials usually ending in a snappy heat of 30 or more a minute.

Aviation Moves Ahead Quickly In Oregon City

PORTLAND, Ore., Mar. 26 (AP)—With a rush that scarcely is believable in those not in direct touch with the infant industry, aviation has taken its place in the commercial life of the country, and Portland has made great strides in this new activity.

Characteristic of the swift flight of an airplane, and setting the pace for a new age into which the world suddenly has been advanced, this business has not had to go through a long period of pioneering. Within the comparatively few years that the whir of the airplane has been heard overhead, there has come a big development, and already great fortunes are invested in plants turning out flying machines of all kinds.

The airmail which now covers the country like a network, has almost overnight become an indispensable adjunct to modern business. Air travel is rapidly becoming a necessity, as need of rapid locomotion is being felt. Air touring—travel and flights for pleasure—is quickly gaining in popularity, as safety has become a prominent feature to be relied upon.

One concern in Portland, which operates an airport and during the month of January 26 airplanes. These went to all parts of the Pacific northwest. This flying service reports that during the past few weeks it has turned down orders for 30 or 40 planes which could not be supplied. The planes sold were about evenly divided between commercial and pleasure craft. An official of this company estimated that there would be market for 300 to 500 airplanes a year in Portland. Most of the planes sold had three and five seated cabins.

Target Practice Cause of Death Of Man, Aged 62

EUGENE, Ore., Mar. 26 (AP)—A small lead bullet fired from a .22 caliber rifle in the hands of two small boys caused the death of A. M. Gray, 62, of Mapleton, on March 15. This was definitely established in Portland when Robert H. Craddock, ballistic expert for the Portland police department, identified the ball that killed Gray as having been fired from the rifle. P. W. Rogers, deputy sheriff of Lane county, in charge of criminal investigations, announced the result of the inquiry.

The discovery brought to an end, he said, a week's investigation into Mr. Gray's death. The man was struck by the bullet as he stepped off the porch of a neighbor, A. J. Mann, whom he had been visiting.

Neither Sheriff Frank Taylor nor Deputy Rogers revealed the names of the boys who had been engaged in target practice on the banks of the Siuslaw river. The lads are 9 and 12 years old. It is not known which boy fired the shot that killed Gray, as each fired two shots. The shooting was accidental, the sheriff is certain.

GLITTERING ROOFS

LIMA—If a newspaper here is advised correctly, in the Peruvian mountains there is an ancient city look like glittering roofs. El Tiempo says it has been informed by a representative of the British museum of the discovery at Huayabamba.
