The committee in charge of the Eagle dances, which are for the benefit of the state aerie fund, has arranged for another dance April 25, and have arranged for the Round Up orchestra to again play at that time. Members of the orchestra are members of Pendleton local No. 273 A. F. M.

MANY KILLED IN BATTLE REPORTED

Fight Bloodiest Since Insurgents Became Active Dispatches Today Say

MEXICO CITY, Mar. 29 (AP)—Dispatches from Irapuato, Guanajuato, today said 92 insurgents, two Catholic priests, the Chietain Romina Anaya, two army officers and four soldiers had been killed in the bloodiest battle which had occurred since the insurgents became active.

Party insurgents were wounded and 47 captured in fighting at San Isidro ranch near San Francisco del Rincon Tuesday and Wednesday. General Genevivo Rivas, commander of the thirty-third regiment and six soldiers were also wounded.

Military authorities declared that the battle cost death blow to the uprising in the state of Guanajuato.

Capture Horses and Guns

One hundred and eighty horses and 67 rifles were captured from the anti-government forces during the combat.

The insurgents, who numbered 300, fought desperately for 29 hours under chietain Anaya and the two unnamed priests against forty-third regiment. The insurgents were strongly fortified in the San Isidro ranch, but were gradually driven out of the various buildings as the fighting progressed. The combat started at 7 a. m. Tuesday and lasted until Wednesday noon when 47 insurgents surrendered after a final attempt to break through the ring of the federal troops surrounding the ranch.

Prince Of Wales Wins Race After Being Thrown

FRENESHAM SURVEY, Eng., Mar. 29 (AP)—Despite being thrown by a favorite hunter, Miss Muffet II, during the Highland Brigade steeplechase meeting at Stockton today, the Prince of Wales remounted and won the race.

The prince, riding in a race for officers, competed as colonel-in-chief of the Seaforth Highlanders. Weather conditions for racing were atrocious with a heavy wind and pouring rain. Making the pace practically throughout, however, the prince won handsly.

When three fences from the finish Miss Muffet II stumbled and threw her royal rider. But the prince quickly remounted and continued the race.

HUGE MONOPLANE ENTERS 2ND DAY

Plane in Air More Than 27 Hours at 11 A. M.; Record 53 Hours

JACKSONVILLE BEACH, Fla., Mar. 29 (AP)—Their huge black and orange monoplane sailing easily back and forth along its appointed 25-mile strip of seashore, Edie Stinson and Captain George Haldeman today entered well into the second day of their attempt to set a new world record for sustained flight. At 11 a. m. the plane had been in the air more than 27 hours.

The morning sun revealed the monoplane at a greater altitude than that maintained throughout yesterday and aviators explained that west winds during the night had forced the craft for the height of 2500 feet. The engine was functioning smoothly and as the burden of gasoline ever lightened the plane's performance indicated success should weather condition continue good.

Skies Clear

By nine o'clock the skies cleared and springlike weather prevailed. Since taking off yesterday at 7:37 a. m., only one message has been dropped. This note picked out of an empty gasoline can tossed overboard assured the ground watchers that "all is well."

The steady drone of the monoplane kept inhabitants of the beach colony awake throughout most of the night but it gave constant assurance of the welfare of the fliers and their craft. Plans were made to send up planes today to take weather forecasts and other information for the aviators.

Stinson and Haldeman must stay in the air 33 hours and 23 minutes in order to shatter the present world record. They have set out to fly 55 hours and gauged their fuel and oil accordingly.

Fight Against River Waters Is Won By People

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 29 (AP)—Townpeople of the little community of Niclaus on the Feather river had won their fight against the encroaching waters of the river today. Efforts of a crew of more than 100 men recruited from adjoining farms and from Sacramento had piled up a defensive bulwark of timber and sandbags and the small town of Niclaus, East Nicolous and Verona, as well as thousands of acres of rich farm lands were saved from inundation. Communication with Northern California by the Garden highway however, was cut off indefinitely when six spans of the concrete causeway at Niclaus tumbled into the boiling current yesterday.

North Sacramento was slowly getting back to normal today as many families returned to their dwellings, more than 100 of which were free of water. The flood waters which covered the city for three days have receding at the rate of a tenth of a foot an hour.

merely, praised the united workers in every branch of endeavor and told of the duties and needs of the chamber of commerce members. The chamber of commerce needs members, he declared and extended an invitation to the members of the various labor organizations to become members.

J. T. Lanfellow, superintendent of La Grande schools, spoke for the schools, declaring that "the schools is your particular institution and your children profit if you support it."

After Mr. Longfellow's talk Mr. Cullen mentioned briefly the plans for a financial campaign for the 1928 Labor Day celebration and state convention of the Oregon Federation of Labor, to be held here. He also suggested that the chamber of commerce and other organizations represented have delegates attend the regular meeting of the central labor council on the first and third Tuesday of each month at the city hall. He extended the thanks of everyone present to Charles Andrews and the committee of men and women who prepared the banquet, after which he turned the meeting over to Ben Osborne, executive secretary of the Oregon Federation of Labor.
