Two Pig Clubs Organized For Season's Work

Already two pig clubs are reported as having been organized for the season's work by boys in different sections of the county, and the prospects are for a number of other pig, calf and sheep clubs to be started in the very near future, according to county agriculturist Harry Avery who has charge of this branch of county club work.

Boys of Union who are interested, met in the ag room at the high school at Union, with Mr. Avery, Prof. Cecil Griggs and others last Tuesday evening and organized their pig club. There were six members the first evening and several more have since been lined up. The leader of the club has not yet been announced. The second meeting of Union boys called for the specific purpose of considering the organization of a calf club will be held at the same place on next Tuesday evening.

The pig club at Gordon creek was reorganized one evening last week, five boys taking out membership at that time, with the number probably to be increased. Eldon Rush is the leader of the club. This club is sponsored by the Rock Wall grange, which has always had a practical interest in club work. Last year they gave a purebred pig as a prize for certain attainments on the part of the members, but this year are varying their plan and announce rather a series or number of prizes.

appreciative audience. The parts were all well taken and as a whole it was a very good production. "Clipping A Husband" was the play presented.

Returns From Ashland—Miss Clara Friese of Dry Creek who has been at Ashland with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Friese accompanied them home the first of the week. Miss Friese will take up her duties at the Grande Ronde hospital next Monday.

Club Closes Contest—The Medical Siring Women's club had a membership drive recently. The club was divided into two teams, the red and the blue. The red side failed to get as many new members as the blues did, so were the losing side and were obliged to entertain the winners. This they did last Monday afternoon, and they did it in royal style. The blues were seated at a dainty luncheon, which the reds had prepared and served. Toasts were given and all present had a jolly good time. Just before the company dispersed a linen luncheon set was presented to Mrs. Jay McKinley who is soon to leave these parts.

Mrs. Win Duncan was captain of the losing team and Mrs. Jay McKinley was captain of the winners.

Students Visit Ranch—Prof. Cecil Griggs, agriculture teacher in the Union high school recently took the members of his class in animal husbandry to visit one of the largest sheep ranches in Union county, that of S. E. Miller on Catherine Creek. The boys went at this particular time to observe lambing and docking, the Miller ranch where there are 4500 ewes affording the boys of the class the very best opportunity to see every detail of the first stages of sheep management. Much of the work of the agricultural classes during the remainder of the spring will be outdoors as long as the fine weather lasts. Trips being planned frequently to see desirable agricultural practices under practical conditions. Concrete work, surveying and field trips to visit successful farms, will largely take the place of indoor laboratory work, particularly for the class in farm management.

Mrs. Murchison ill—Mrs. K. Murchison, who lives at the home of her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Murchison has been rather indisposed for the last week or more having had a severe cold and a touch of the flu. Mrs. Murchison is past 82 years of age.

Buys Purebred Short-horns—C. D. Bramlet of Lower Valley in Wallowa county, who has been partial to the Short-horns in his dairy in that locality, last week received three head of purebred Short-horns calves. The calves, which are all heifers, are two months old and were shipped in from Linden, Washington. They were bred from the best milking Short-horn strain in the country. Mr. Bramlet purchased a purebred sire last year and expects to bring in another shipment of calves within the next few months. Mr. Bramlet contends that the Short-horns are to be desired not only as dairy animals but also for beef.

A Successful Project—It developed at the nutrition school held yesterday at Pleasant Grove grange with Miss Lucy Case, that this group of ladies had started a very practical project at the Pleasant Grove school since the class met for the first time. The children at the school had been taking a hurried half hour lunch period during which time a cold lunch was quickly eaten and the remainder of the time devoted to play. The women and the teachers,

SOLICITATION FOR ONE DAY COMPLETE; SUCCESS ASSURED

With but one day's solicitation completed for the proposed Union County Caw Testing association, promoters of the project feel that its ultimate success is assured. On this first day, Dr. W. T. Phy, S. T. Hallie, E. H. DeLong, T. E. Kennedy and Homer Wilson agreed to affiliate with the organization, and the herds of these men will demand the attention of the tester for several of the required number of days. Mr. Avery, with some volunteer assistants, is continuing the canvass today, which was interrupted by the sudden change in weather and accompanying bad roads and by the pressure of other business.

County Agriculturist Harry Avery has set April 15th as the final date for the solicitation of members and he is, hoping that by that date enough owners of larger or smaller dairy herds in the county will have signed the agreement, that the tester may actually be on the grounds and the work started.

Should the work make good progress and the number of farmers cooperating appear to justify it, Mr. Avery will endeavor to have Mr. Jamison, state dairy specialist, come to La Grande for a meeting with the members on April 14.

The movement which is thus being started is an effort to assist dairy herd owners to place their herds on a business basis, to weed out the unprofitable cows, etc. To secure the full time of a tester.

26 days service must be contracted for, and these may either be 26 men who will take the entire day (and these will probably be few) or those who have smaller herds who will sign up for half day's
