200 Attend Club Tea Saturday At Siegrist Home

About 200 persons, mothers of campfire girls and others interested in the work of the campfire organization, called at the home of Mrs. Adolph Siegrist Saturday afternoon when a silver tea was held there from 3 until 5 o'clock, sponsored by the Campfire Guardians' association and the La Grande Neighborhood club, for the benefit of the campfire girls joint service fund.

The rooms of the Siegrist home were attractively decorated in color scheme of yellow and white. Bouquets of daffodils and pussy-willows were used on the table from which tea was served. During the first hour Mrs. Harriett McDonald and Miss Myrtle Hoyt, who is president of the guardians' association, presided, and from 4 until 5 o'clock Mrs. Turner Oliver and Mrs. R. E. Tyler were at the tea table. During both hours Mrs. W. T. Pfy, who was committee chairman in charge of the tea, assisted. The dainty cakes served were furnished by Mrs. Pfy and the other refreshments were donated by the Neighborhood club. Mrs. Leif H. Aves and Mrs. Fleming were in charge of the kitchen.

Mrs. A. T. Hill and Mrs. Clyde Seitz received the guests at the door during the first hour and during the second their places were taken by Mrs. H. S. Brown and Mrs. George T. Cochran.

Mrs. Sherwood Williams, president of the Neighborhood club, had charge of the afternoon's program. The Neighborhood club violin quartet, which is directed by Mrs. Leo E. Miller, played; Mrs. W. H. Bohan sang a group of selections; Miss Ruth Johnson gave a piano solo; Miss Dorothy Brown played a piano solo; Misses Barbara and Beverly Gage played a piano duet number and Adolph Siegrist Jr. played a flute solo, accompanied by Mrs. J. D. Meyers.

During the afternoon the guests viewed the children's garments which the campfire girls made during the month of March, and which will be distributed among the needy by the Red Cross. Some of the garments will be sent away and the remainder will be used in relief work in La Grande.

Miss Vera Middleton and Lloyd Etelson were quietly married yesterday afternoon at about 3 o'clock at the parsonage of the English Lutheran church here, the Rev. Leif H. Aves, pastor, performing the ceremony. They were accompanied by Miss Mae Jennings and Fred Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Etelson will make their home in La Grande. He is employed with the state highway department here.

The regular meeting of the Tanager campfire girl group was held Friday evening at the Riviera school building with about eight girls and their guardian, Miss Myrtle Hoyt, in attendance.

During the meeting plans were made for a mother's and daughter's dinner, to be held April 20. The place for the dinner has not yet been selected.

Tomorrow evening the members of the Young Women's Educational auxiliary of the First Methodist Episcopal church will be the guests of Mrs. Thomas Wallinger at her home on the Lower Cove highway. Mrs. Wallinger will be assisted by a committee consisting of Mrs. W. E. Adler, Mrs. Ray Fuller, Mrs. Everett Wallinger, Mrs. Loren Tucker, Mrs. Melvin Galbraith and Miss Bertha Wallinger.

All auxiliary members are asked to meet at the library at 7:30 o'clock and will leave from there for the Wallinger home. All members having cars are asked to stop at the library. Transportation will be furnished for those who do not have cars.

Children Honor Mothers At Tea

About 60 mothers of the third and fourth grade students of Greenwood school gathered at the school Friday afternoon when a tea was given there in their honor. Miss Lorine Johnson, Miss Ruth Garrick and Mrs. Marguerite Towler are the third and fourth grade teachers.

The tea was from 1 until 3 o'clock and during the early part of the afternoon a program was given in Mrs. Towler's room, where the mothers first assembled. A dramatization of the story "Pig Brat" was the first number on the program. Willard Johnson took the part of the brother; Maribeth Gragg, the pussy cat; Doris Lovely, the tidy angel; Mary Caccio, the little squirrel; Ethel Tyle, the robin; and Steve Lukson, the pig brother.

This was followed by two songs, "Are You a Camel" and "Mother Love" by Edith Bennett, Virginia Rogers, Maxine Pinknell and Emma Pitt. June Smith gave a reading entitled "The Cat Constable," a reading, "The Foolish Girl and Foolish Boy" was given by Joseph and Josephine Brown and Frances Huffel gave a reading entitled "Spring Is Here." Orin Williamson gave a reading "Somebody's Mother," which was followed by a flower play "In the Flower's Window." The children appeared in costume. Wendell Haley took the part of the florist; Alta Tolorica, the Easter fairy; Helen Hollman and Mildred Young, the tulips; Thomas Johnson, the lily; Hugh Kunaava, the rose; Alberta Packard, the hyacinth; Bobby Patterson, lily of the valley; Hollister Rhine, the pansy; Leif See, the pansy; Mathew Stewart, the marigolds; John Ward and George Folsom, daffodils; Dolly Hallmark and Miland Fuller, woodflowers, and Karl Mosler and Ray O'Neil, the gardeners.

A spelling contest in Miss Garrick's room between the third and fourth grades was a feature of the afternoon, which was attended by many of the mothers. Projects were also on display in the various rooms, which the mothers were asked to view.

After the program the mothers went to Miss Johnson's room, where tea was served. Several tables had been arranged here and were prettily decorated with nosegays of violets. Purple, green and white was the color scheme used. Mrs. R. A. Wilkerson poured and each child served his or her mother, assisted by several little girls, Vada Baxter, Margaret Pine, Edith Bennett, Marjorie Smith, Genevieve Bennett and Nina Itayburn. While tea was being served each of the pupils introduced their mothers to the teachers. Each mother was presented with a corsage of violets, which were also sent to all mothers who were unable to attend the tea. An explanation of the development of the projects in the various rooms was also given.

At 2 o'clock the children enjoyed a social hour, consisting of stories, games and music. Avery Millering furnished several instrumental numbers and stories were told by the teachers. Mrs. R. A. Wilkerson was the children's guest. Refreshments consisting of candies made especially for the children were served by the three teachers.

IMBLER (Special)—May 26 has been set as the date for the district convention of the Pythian Sisters to be entertained this year by the local organization. The district, whose representatives will sit in the convention, comprises the two counties of Union and Wallawalla and an attendance of at least 100 is expected by the hostesses here, judging from the attendance at similar gatherings in previous years and also the location of Imbler, which is easy of access to all.

The program of the convention usually follows the same general order, with closed sessions when the business of the convention is transacted and another when the degree work of the order is explained, and one open meeting. The Imbler organization will also provide a number of social and entertaining features.

There will be some official dignitaries in attendance. It is expected, and already the presence of two state officers is assured. These are Mrs. Baugh, of Medford, Ore., who is the grand chief, and Rose Farrington, of Portland, grand mistress of records and correspondence. Mrs. Hugh Huron of

In this place, who is very active in Pythian Sister work, is district deputy grand chief and will be prominent in the program of the day as well as in all preliminary preparations.

The local group is very small in numbers, as there are but 16 who hold membership at the present time. The order is very active, however, as is often the case in the smaller organizations, since it is necessary for each one to be active and feel individual responsibility. The Imbler Pythian Sisters have carried through to a successful completion a number of quite large projects and while the approaching gathering will probably be of larger proportions than usual, they are commencing their work in plenty of time and expect the convention to be one of the best ever held.

Parisian men who earn their living by dancing will be chased hereafter as laborers. All honest gentlemen just past 45 can see the justice in this.

A farmer came in this morning and said that Monarch is everything you claim it to be. Another man called up this morning and said he was going to paint his house right away and I asked him where he got his paint. Oh, he said that a certain painter was painting his house for him and I saw at a glance that I was sitting pretty because that painter buys all of his material from the place where he can get the 100 per cent pure. Two cartons of Royal coal are being unloaded today. A lot of you people know that we were out for several days and some of our best customers had to order common coal until the Royal got in. Most any little school child can tell you what kind of paint we handle. You ask your little girl and find out. If she doesn't tell you that we handle Monarch paint she will probably tell you that Royal coal is the coal that Claud Pratt sells. I don't know of a better name that could be given to the best grade of Royal coal or a better name that could be given to Monarch paint.

Another farmer is now reaching in his pocket laying out the money on the desk while I greet him with a nod and a smile. He'll be back. Another man is just coming in the door and two other men are standing looking wise. I must quit advertising for today and get busy waiting on my good customers before they get uneasy and leave.

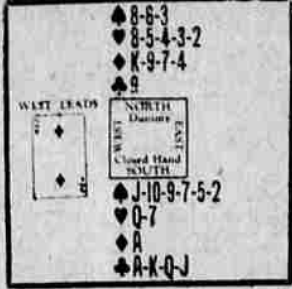

The young man up in the art department just bottled in and said to tell you that he frames pictures.

This week we shall give three more illustrations of hands in which the Declarer may gain material advantage by carefully planning his campaign as soon as the Dummy is exposed. How shall the Declarer plan to play today's hand with Spades the contract?

Declarer's Plan of Campaign

Declarer will see that he must lose two trump tricks and will lose three if the adverse trumps are divided 3-1 as if every possible, or 4-0 as is possible but not probable. He also will lose two Heart tricks and game unless he can get a Heart discard; so it is evident that such a discard is essential. His plan therefore should be, after winning the first Diamond trick with the Ace, to obtain a Heart discard before leading trumps. To trick 2 and 3, he should lead the Ace and Jack of Clubs (the Jack so as to make his Club holding) trumping the good Jack in Dummy. Trick 4 he should lead the King of Diamonds from Dummy, discarding a losing Heart from Closed Hand. After winning with the King of Diamonds, he should lead a trump from Dummy to trick 5. This plan will give him game if the adverse trumps are evenly divided. If they are not evenly divided, it will give him three-odd which is the best that he can hope to do under the conditions.

Tomorrow's Hand

Snade contract: South Declarer. Question: How should the Declarer plan to play the hand? Plan now how you would play the hand if you held it, and then

COOPERATIVE STORES

SABEL (AP)—Swiss housewives buy household necessities through cooperative retail societies active in Switzerland for over 50 years. More than 80 per cent of the purchases are groceries, meat and other foodstuffs, while fuel, footwear, hardware and utensils make up the balance.

MENUS

By Sister Mary

BREAKFAST—Baked winter peas, cereal, corn, codfish and potato puff, cream muffins, strup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Creamed veal, buttered new carrots, rhubarb betty, milk, tea.

DINNER—Planked hamburger steak, lyonnais potatoes, creamed cauliflower, stuffed celery salad, cabinet pudding, milk, coffee.

Many housewives will prefer not to serve a meat for luncheon and dinner both but when children must be considered, a hearty meal is necessary for them at noon time. While the adult members of the family will undoubtedly want their hearty meal at night. In this particular day's menu children will be well provided for without the dinner meat; and in the dinner itself they will find plenty nourishing and wholesome food without the hamburger steak.

Creamed Veal
Two and one-half cups diced cooked veal, 4 hard cooked eggs, 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1½ tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, few drops onion juice, 6 small triangles of toast, parsley.

Cut eggs in dice about the size of the veal. Combine eggs and meat and sprinkle with grated lemon rind, salt and pepper. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Add onion juice and bring to the boiling point. Add prepared meat and eggs and make very hot over hot water. Allow twenty minutes for the mixture to become thoroughly heated. Serve on a hot deep platter and garnish with triangles of toast and sprigs of parsley.

Look for the red tins with a black or a green stripe

The tins are different from all others + so is the coffee + so is the tea. Whether they are better is for you to decide. Printed on each tin is a money back offer. Briefly stated it is this: If you don't like Schilling's best, your grocer returns your money at once. Your statement is enough. He pays you. We pay him. The finest things usually come from those who specialize in fine things only. Only Schilling specializes on top grade coffee only -- no 2nd or 3rd grades. Only Schilling brings you the tender tea leaves as fresh and fragrant as they left the Oriental tea gardens.
