Bridge Pointers

Yesterday the following problem was given: The contract is Spades; South is Declarer, North is Dummy; the initial lead is shown. How should Declarer plan his campaign as soon as he sees Dummy's hand and knows the exact twenty-six cards with which he will operate?

Declarer's Plan of Campaign

Declarer will see he can take four Spade tricks, one Heart trick, two Diamond tricks and one Club trick—a total of eight tricks which will be two short of game. His only chance for game will be to establish Dummy's Diamonds and in doing that he must arrange it so that Dummy will be able to get Eshel. He has in his Closed Hand two losing Hearts, one losing Diamond and two losing Clubs. As he has to take the first trick with the Ace of Hearts, it will be impossible for him to avoid losing the two Hearts; but he does not wish to be "forced" by a fourth lead of Hearts from the adversaries as he will need all his trumps to expunge the adverse trumps. Therefore he does not at once lead trumps; keeping a trump in Dummy avoids the risk of a force. After winning the first trick with the Ace of Hearts, he should lead a small Diamond from Closed Hand; and regardless of what Diamond is played by West, play a small Diamond from Dummy.

Trick 3 and 4. East and West will take two Heart tricks and then shift to Clubs as they can see that Dummy could trump the next Heart round. South wins trick 5 with the Club Ace and (tricks 6 to 9) clears up the trumps, if he finds the expected adverse 4-3 division. Then if his luck still holds and the three remaining adverse Diamonds are divided 2-1, he makes the remaining tricks by Eagles lodge will hold a tea at Eagles hall Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All lodge members and friends are invited.

The Ladies' Aid of the First Presbyterian church will meet at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the community room of the church. An interesting program is being arranged for that time.

The Educational Auxiliary of the Methodist church will meet at the farm home of Mrs. Thomas Wallinger this evening. Members will meet at the library at 7 o'clock and go to the Wallinger home from there.

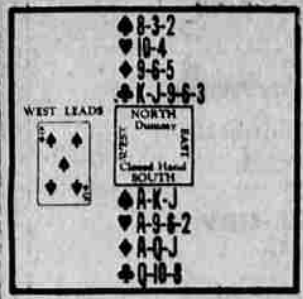

leading his last Diamond from Closed Hand and putting Dummy in.

Of course he may not find the desired divisions of both trumps and Diamonds; if so, he can console himself by knowing that game was impossible, but that he did his best to obtain it.
