GRACE SUFFICIENT—If thou, Lord, shouldst mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand? But there is forgiveness with thee, that thou mayest be feared. Psalm 130:2, 4.

Unmarried men are said to commit most of our crimes. And sometimes it looks as if the rest were committed by married women.

The Arkansas Gazette reminds its readers that it was just about 30 years ago that the Rainy Day Club began its agitation for shorter skirts. If the curtailment of skirts had come as fast right at the start as it has in recent years, the threatened complete disappearance of them would have been achieved long ago.

Why do Lowden supporters think he is the only republican who can beat Smith? It is simply because they are Lowden supporters or because a more popular man than Lowden—very apparent in Hoover—can't prove that popularity at the polls? Lowden would make an excellent president and the enthusiasm of corn belt states is easily justified. But the opposition to Hoover is not sufficient to throw those same states into the democratic column in case Lowden loses at Kansas City. Far from it. The strictly agricultural states can gain nothing by such a flop. If Lowden can win them against Smith, Hoover can do likewise.

Chicago is voting today. So is the rest of the state of Illinois but the country's second largest city has a peculiar position. It refuses to take the duty of citizenship as a peaceful proposition. Machine guns, grenades, and bombs seem to be necessary to determine the rule of majority in some precincts. A sad commentary on the American brand of democracy, but who is to blame? Chicago. Most of its people do not object to that kind of government. It must be so or they would voice that objection with sufficient force to secure a change. There are enough respectable people in the city to give it a respectable reputation. But they aren't sufficiently aroused to do it. The same thing applies in every other community. Its conditions are good, but indifferent according to the interest of its citizens.

DRY DRINK

This might be suspected of being propaganda for the coffee industry. If so, let the propaganda fall where it may. Prof. Ralph H. Cheney of the biology department of New York University has been studying the effects of coffee on men and animals, with results cheering to coffee-lovers.

"The property prepared beverage," he concludes, "is highly advantageous to over 90 per cent of normal individuals." It would take 150 cups to produce acute injury, through caffeine poisoning, to a normal person.

He credits the coffee cup with producing mental effects of "amiability, good cheer and a sense of well-being," which records with ordinary experience. The physical effects, he says, are "non-injurious and gratifying." He speaks particularly of temporary relief from hunger and fatigue.

Coffee is a drug, he admits, but not a habit-former. The quantity doesn't have to be increased. The drinker who likes his coffee weak continues to like it weak. It serves as "a mild stimulant of heart, brain and muscles, thereby accomplishing greater power and co-ordination in mental and physical endeavors." There is no unwholesome reaction or let-down after the stimulation, as in the case of most stimulants.

These facts have an obvious bearing on the liquor question. Coffee is a natural substitute for alcohol, and is being used so in ever-growing quantities since the outlawing of the liquor industry. It doesn't make people silly or disgusting, at any rate, and we're willing to disregard any minor disadvantages.

BUTTER PRICES GO STILL LOWER

Storage May Start in Next Two Weeks—Eggs Higher in Portland Market

PORTLAND, Ore., Apr. 10 (AP)—Butter prices are heading rapidly toward storage levels on coast markets with a decidedly weaker tone evident here following a further decline yesterday, both for the chosen product and for butterfat. Extras dropped 1/4c to 23 1/2c per pound and standards went a full cent lower to 23c. The drop in butterfat was more pronounced, with quotations two cents lower, both in Portland and at shipping points, with 42c offered here.

Weather conditions have brought pasture conditions in this region close to normal and cream tonnage is increasing with corresponding increases in the daily make.

Storage of butter will likely start in within the next two weeks, it is predicted. Eggs were higher today. Standard firsts jumped only 1/4c to 21 1/2c, but medium extras rose 1/4c and were quoted higher than standard firsts at 22 1/2c per dozen. Other grades were unchanged.

Receipts of both butter and eggs were heavy yesterday with inter-storage movement of eggs large at 1522 cases, swelling the local holding in coolers to 25,175 cases. Butter receipts were reported at 47,945 pounds with average butterfat at 82.1 at 2740 pounds.

On the poultry markets conditions were little changed today, with demand ranging to heavy hens and broiler chickens, of which supplies continued light and rather large accumulations of leghorns were reported. Turkeys and capons were also scarce and in fair demand.

Country dressed meats were firm today with demand for lamb especially noticeable.

Father Cataldo Passes; Founded Gonzaga College

PENDLETON, Apr. 10 (AP)—Father Joseph Cataldo, founder of Gonzaga university in Spokane and nationally known for his work among the American Indians, died at a local hospital late yesterday afternoon at the age of 92. His death followed an illness of 24 hours and was attributed to old age.

His 92nd anniversary was observed on St. Patrick's day in Spokane and he was feted by ecclesiastics and laymen at a large celebration. For the past few weeks he has been at St. Andrew's mission on the Umatilla Indian reservation.

Father Cataldo was born on the island of Sicily and became a member of the Jesuit order at the age of 14. He had been a priest for 60 years. He came to the Pacific northwest while the Civil war was in progress and founded practically all of the Catholic Indian missions in the northwest.

He took a very prominent part in the Nez Perce Indian war and is credited with having saved a large number of lives, both Indians and whites. Recognized as a friend by all tribes, he was able to carry on negotiations when other whites were barred. His linguistic ability enabled him to speak innumerable Indian tongues and one of his greatest achievements was translating the Bible into Chinook.

He was seriously injured in Pendleton 22 years ago when he was thrown from a horse. His physical services will be held at St. Andrew's mission on Thursday at 10 a. m. with Bishop McGrath, of Baker, officiating.
