Mrs. J. K. Wright Is Hostess To D. A. R. Members

One of the most interesting meetings of the Daughters of the American Revolution this year was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. K. Wright on Pennsylvania avenue. A paper by Mrs. H. Gerber, in which she told about her experiences in the Simonon Islands, was an interesting feature of the afternoon's program. Her husband was in the U. S. navy and spent several years with him in the islands, being the only white man on one small island where they were stationed for about six months. In addition to her paper, she showed many interesting pictures.

Mrs. O. E. Moran also gave an excellent paper on "The Women of the Revolution," which described the women of the period during the Revolutionary war. About 15 members were present at the meeting. After the program Mrs. Wright served refreshments.

The girls of the Scougobahn impfice group entertained their others at a Mothers' and Daughters' luncheon Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Lenore Ely. A buffet dinner, which was prepared by the girls of the group, was served at 6 o'clock to 24 mothers and daughters.

The menu included baked ham, boiled yams, tomato salad, pineapple sherbet, hot rolls and chocolate. After dinner a short program was given, including a reading by Miss Hecy Cook, a piano solo by Miss Dorothy Brown, a dance by Miss Myrtle Dunn and several numbers by the campfire girls' quartet, Miss Lenore Ely, Dorothy Brown, Mildred Bradshaw and Mary Trip. The program closed with several of the campfire motion pictures by the entire group.

On Monday evening, April 16, the Eastern Oregon school of music will present Miss Effie Blanchard, violin student of Leo Cullen Bryant in an individual recital at the Hines-Jacobs Inn. Miss Blanchard will be assisted by Miss Helen Hill, vocal student of Mrs. William E. Parkinson.

An especially attractive program has been arranged and the public is cordially invited to attend. The program will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

The first meeting of the sewing club of the Degree of Honor Protective association was held last evening at the home of Mrs. H. H. Carey. The association has planned to hold a bazaar in the fall and articles for the bazaar will be made when the sewing club meets once each month. During the evening plans were discussed for the bazaar which the Carnation club of the Degree of Honor will hold sometime during the early part of next month. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Carey, assisted by Mrs. E. G. Coleman, before adjournment.

Hope Chapter In Enjoyable Session

Hope chapter No. 13, Order of the Eastern Star, met in regular session last evening at the Masonic lodge rooms. During the evening plans were made to entertain Esther chapter No. 11, of Baker, on May 9. A large delegation from the Baker order is expected to be in La Grande at that time.

Mrs. Andrew Loney Jr., worthy matron of the chapter, presided over the meeting.

The So-No-He club met Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Jean Carnes. There was a large attendance and after the business meeting games were enjoyed for the remainder of the afternoon. The hostess served refreshments before adjournment.

Mrs. Maude Ayers will be the next hostess to the club April 24, at her home at 1502 Z avenue. Mrs. Christine Johansen will assist as hostess.

Mrs. C. E. Hargett entertained at a delightful birthday party last evening honoring the birthday anniversary of Mr. Hargett. Three tables of pinocle were at play during the evening and the first prizes were won by C. E. Hargett and Mrs. John Williams. Mrs. Walter Peesler and Bert Lentz received the consolation prizes.

Besides being the birthday anniversary of Mr. Hargett yesterday was also the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Grace, who were among the guests.

Loyal Sisters Aid Society in Meet

Division B of the Loyal Sister's Aid society of the Central Christian church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. E. Brazz, chairman of the division. During the afternoon plans were made for a cooked food sale to be held in about a week. The date of the sale was not definitely decided upon.

Mrs. C. E. Bunting, president of the general aid, was present and announced the coming of the De Moss concert company to La Grande May 11.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess committee, Mrs. Brazz, Mrs.

Wins in Opera

Arno Voetz, Mrs. Frank Hardesty and Mrs. Walter Price.

The Rebecca lodge met in regular session last evening at the I. O. O. F. temple here. Because of the bad weather the attendance was small and only the regular business of the order was taken up.

The Lutheran Choral society met last evening at the Walter Pehrman home on Cherry street for regular rehearsal. There was a short business meeting followed by practice, and plans were made for an entertainment to be held in the church parlors Friday, April 20, for the benefit of the piano fund.

Before adjournment Mrs. Pehrman served refreshments.

The Royal Neighbors met last evening at the K. P. hall with a large attendance. After the regular lodge session various games were enjoyed, the team headed by Mrs. William Winburn winning in a contest with a team captained by Mrs. L. W. Weeks.

The next meeting of the lodge, April 27, will be a social meeting.

Announcements

The Mothers' Self Culture club will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. H. B. Coburn.

Because of the condition of the roads the meeting of the Westway club, which was scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at the Stange farm, the meeting has been postponed for one week. The same hostesses will entertain the club one week from tomorrow, April 20.

THE GARDEN

FINE ART OF DIGGING

"Well begun is half done" is one of those ancient maxims that usually aren't more than half true, but it comes very close to being true in the case of gardening. The preparation of the soil is half the battle and at least half of the hard work of gardening. Digging is the basis of good gardening and the better the job of digging the better the garden. There have been many traditions handed down from generations past as to trenching and other forms of digging, digging being necessary for a successful garden. Not much of it is necessary.

The depth to which the roots of a plant descend normally into the soil is the test of the necessary depth of digging and none of the

CONTRACT BRIDGE
In these articles, almost all phases of jumping suit-bids at Contract—including jumps of initial Major bids of one or two and Minors of all kinds—have been covered; it only remains to consider jumps of initial Major suit bids from three to four.

When an initial bidder opens the Auction by bidding three of a Major suit, he asks his partner for a jump to four provided the partner has just a little help. The three-bidder's hand is very near a game-goer and needs only a little assistance to reach the goal; and when that little is forthcoming, the jump is desired. Normal assistance in the suit bid by the partner is not required to justify the jump. To bid three initially the suit-bidder must have such length and strength in his suit that he needs little if any assistance in it; what the bidder is looking for mainly is help on the side. Consequently the jump from three to four should be made with a hand that contains an Ace, a side singleton or blank suit (provided the jumper will have trumps for ruffing purposes) or any combination of high cards which probably will produce the trick the partner needs. It is impossible to define accurately the "combination of high cards which probably will produce the trick." Queens and Jacks unaccompanied by other honors are of little value; two Kings or a King and a Queen of the same suit would furnish the needed strength; but a King and a Jack of the same suit, or a King and a Queen of different suits would be borderline holdings. Any high card, combined with ability to ruff in some other suit, would be amply sufficient to justify the jump. The partner of an initial bidder who had called three of a suit should jump to four with any of the following hands:

Hand 1: X-X-X X-X-X
Hand 2: X-X-X X-X-X
Hand 3: X-X-X X-X-X

A great majority of gardens do not get that deep digging for the average man doing the digging doesn't get a full spade's depth of soil or even a good half as he puts the digging tool into the soil at an angle and therefore comes up with only a portion of its depth of soil. The right way to dig thoroughly is to thrust the spade or fork into the soil in a vertical position to its over the soil. It is slower and harder work than the usual haphazard depth and then lift and turn hazard turnover which last more than six inches as a general rule, but it pays and is ample for all the vegetables anyone wants to grow.

Having turned over a spadeful of earth, break it up with the edge of the tool into fairly fine lumps. Do not leave clods. With this preliminary breaking up as it is turned over it is an easy matter to go over it with a garden rake and hoe and pulverize the surface to the proper texture for seed sowing.

The drainer who builds his castle in the air is always looking for an heirress to go with it.

WINS IN OPERA

Called as "an absolute and complete success" by Italian music critics in her debut in Italy, 19-year-old Kathleen Kersting, child-singer of Wichita, Kas., is to sail for home soon. The Wichita Rotary Club financed Kathleen's musical education abroad after Mrs. Emma Calve, famous French opera star, became interested in the girl six-years ago after hearing her voice.

MENUS

By Sister Mary

BREAKFAST—Sliced bananas, oranges, cream, crisp broiled bacon, cornmeal pancakes, maple syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Creams of corn soup, popcorn, eggs stuffed with beet greens, rhubarb whip, milk, tea.

DINNER—Savory beef's tongue, baked squash, French endive with Roquefort cheese dressing, peach up-side-down cake, milk, coffee. While bananas served alone are rather too bland a fruit to whet the breakfast appetite if they are combined with a tart and juicy fruit their effect is stimulating. A faint sprinkling of salt improves bananas amazingly.

Rhubarb Whip

One cup cooked rhubarb, sugar, whites 3 eggs, ¼ teaspoon salt.

If the rhubarb was baked with sugar more sugar will not be necessary but if the rhubarb was stewed and is quite juicy more sugar will be needed. Rub fruit through a sieve and add sugar if necessary. Heat and fold in the whites of the eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Turn into a buttered baking dish, place in a large pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until firm to the touch. It will take about forty minutes. Serve with a soft or "hot" mustard sauce made with the yolks of eggs.

Blindfolded . . . in scientific test of leading Cigarettes, Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt selects OLD GOLD

"I wonder if one can really tell the difference, when blindfolded," was my first thought when invited to make this test.

"After smoking the four brands, as they were handed to me one after another, I discovered there was one that was noticeably smoother than the others and richer in taste.

"This proved to be an Old Gold. I hope I shall be able to buy them in Paris . . . they are surprisingly free from any trace of throat irritation and have a delightful aroma which to me is very important."

Flora W. Vanderbilt

How Test Was Made

Mrs. Vanderbilt was blindfolded, and, in the presence of two responsible witnesses, was given one each of the four leading cigarettes to smoke . . . To clear the taste, coffee was served before each cigarette . . . Mrs. Vanderbilt was unaware of the identity of these cigarettes during test . . . After smoking the four cigarettes, Mrs. Vanderbilt was asked to designate by number her choice . . . She immediately replied: "Number 3" . . . which was OLD GOLD.
