Campbell Gives Sketch of Life And His Beliefs

Orin Campbell, superintendent of Wallowa schools, and candidate for the republican nomination for joint representative from Union and Wallowa counties, was in La Grande Saturday. Mr. Campbell gave a biographical sketch of himself to The Observer, which follows in part:

Mr. Campbell was born at St. Johns, Kansas, Oct. 19, 1894 of pioneer parents. He completed his education in Rocky Ford, Colo., then moved to Albion, Ill., graduating from Albion state normal in 1917. Mr. Campbell was in the service during the World war, receiving his training at Mare Island. Mr. Campbell spent most of his early life on a farm.

Mr. Campbell was married in June, 1920, to Miss Nora Pockason, of Manipuley, Idaho, and the following two years taught at Burley, Idaho. In 1922-23 he taught at Klamath, Wash., and then returned to the University of Idaho, where he completed his education. For the last four years he has been superintendent of schools at Joseph and Wallowa. He is a member of the K. P. lodge, a scout master, president of the Wallowa chamber of commerce and a member of the Christian church.

Mr. Campbell believes in equitable adjustment and sensible application of the present laws on taxation, a conservative program for the disbursement of public funds, a more unified control of state institutions of education, enforcement of the prohibition law, maintenance of law and order, good roads, conservation and development of natural resources, establishment of a national park in Eastern Oregon, and a revision of the school program involving standardization, health study and sanitation.

"It gives me the opportunity to serve Union and Wallowa counties as joint representative. I commit myself to co-operative serving in my community and state; active and intelligent service as a legislator and immediate attention to the urgent needs of my state and commonwealth," he pledges.

BAND IS PLACED FIFTH IN STATE MUSIC CONTEST

or instrumentation and other similar points.

La Grande High School Youngest Eight high school bands participated and there were only five points difference in Medford, in first place, and La Grande, in fifth, in second place.

Each band played three numbers, La Grande playing: march, "Little Rangers" by King; overture, "Berlin in Smiles and Tears"; "The Glow Worm"; "The Glow Worm" was the highest to play of six selections of which the bands had a choice and La Grande and "Glow Worm" were the only two to attempt to play this number.

The contest was sponsored by Kappa Kappa Psi, national honorary band fraternity with Capt. H. L. Beard, director of the Oregon State band, in charge of arrangements.

Big Crowd
The contest was held in the O. S. C. gym and it was packed to capacity with many persons standing.

There were three judges who scored individually each band. The final result was obtained by adding the score of the three judges and dividing it by three. Judges were Mr. Bert Brown, of Portland; Mr. Atwood, of Bandon, and Andrew Loney Jr., of La Grande. The final result was as follows: Medford, 92.41; Astoria, 91.82; Corvallis, 88.75; Jefferson, 88.25.

LINDY GETS WILSON PEACE PRIZE

Colonel Lindbergh, adjudged to have done more to promote international good-will during 1927 than any other living man, receives the Woodrow Wilson Foundation's peace medal at New York from Norman H. Davis, the foundation chairman. With it went a cash award of $25,000.

La Grande, 87.5; Grant high, of Portland, 84.16; Franklin high, of Portland, 79.33; and Seaside high, 77.5.

Loney Gives Prize
"La Grande high school band, under the direction of Mr. Nussbaum, made a very fine showing and the people of La Grande have every reason to be proud of their high school band. They were the recipients of many favorable comments from musical people present. In another year's time the bands finishing in the first three places will have to look to their laurels for La Grande was the youngest band present and compared favorably with the more experienced bands. The La Grande band gave Corvallis high and Jefferson high, of Portland, a close scoring for third and fourth place," Mr. Loney said.

Every detail in connection with the contest was attended to admirably by Capt. Beard, assisted by the members of Kappa Kappa Psi fraternity.

The leaders of the various bands present went on record as opposed to a movement of the Music Teachers association to bring the contest to Portland under their auspices, they being unanimously of the opinion that the proper educational environment could best be had by holding the contest at Corvallis under the auspices of Captain Beard and the Kappa Kappa Psi fraternity.
