JAPANESE ARMY SENT TO CHINA

American Consul Advises Countrymen to Leave City of Tsinan

PEKING, Apr. 20 (AP)—Two nations moved today to protect their subjects in Shantung as the nationalists advanced and the Shantung defense collapsed.
Edwin J. Stanton, American consul advised his countrymen to leave Tsinan with the nationalists in control of Yenchowfu, 75 miles to the south. Japan sent three companies of infantry from Tientsin to protect Japanese lives and property in the Shantung province.
The northern armies which are arrayed against the nationalists were driven back on all fronts. Tsinan just southwest of Yenchowfu was also occupied after a northern army of 20,000 men under General Sun Chuan-Pang, governor of Shantung, was destroyed by nationalist troops under Feng Yuhsiang, once known as the Christian general.
General Sun had hoped to cut the Lumphai railway at Kwei-tan, about 100 miles southwest of Yenchowfu in Honan province. He thus expected to turn the left flank of Chiang Kai-shek nationalist commander in chief.

JAPAN EXPLAINS ACT

TOKYO, Apr. 20 (AP)—The government today issued a statement of its reasons for sending troops into China, revealing that when Japan withdrew from Shantung last year China was warned that Japan was ready to take steps and to send a further expedition to protect Japanese lives and property in peace and order in the locality should be disturbed again.
It was emphasized that the present troop movement did not imply unfriendly intent in regard to China or interference in the military operations of other factions.
It was stated that troops would be withdrawn as soon as the danger to Japanese lives and property should be past.

Obituary

MRS. A. E. IVANHOE (Continued)
A fitting tribute was paid to the memory of a pioneer educator of Oregon Tuesday when last rites were held for late Mrs. A. E. Ivanhoe. The body lay in state at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. Richardson between the hours of 11 o'clock and 1:30 o'clock before the funeral services which were held from the Presbyterian church. The Rev. William Crosby Ross, of Boise, assisted by the local pastor, the Rev. J. George Waltz, conducted the services. Mrs. Ross, the former pastor here, was a close friend of Mrs. Ivanhoe.
The many friends who filled the church and the profusion of beautiful floral offerings bespoke the high esteem in which she was held in the community. Musical numbers were rendered by a quartet composed of Mrs. Hal Dolnenkamp, Mrs. Floyd Sherwood and the Rev. Dyer and Raymond G. Williams. The pall bearers chosen from among her former high school pupils were H. A. Zurbriek, Dr. W. M. Pearce, E. D. Jasper, Dr. F. L. Ralston, Dr. J. L. Inglis, Raymond McKennon and Lowell Williamson. The honorary pallbearers were: R. A. Wilkerson, Judge E. G. Couch, John Hodgkin, E. H. Payne, T. J. Scroggin and E. A. Sawyer. All had been associated with her in community activities in which she took an active interest. For several years Mrs. Ivanhoe has made her home in Portland but to Eastern Oregon she gave many active years of service, first as a teacher and later as school superintendent of Union county. Her splendid traits of character and her high ideal have left their influence on many lives. Like "one who wraps the drapery of his couch around him and lies down to pleasant dreams" she has passed on to her reward.

La Grande Teachers Hear Reports Of Inland Empire Association Meet

Reports from the Inland Empire Teachers association meeting held at Spokane, Wash., were given yesterday afternoon when a general meeting of all of the teachers of the La Grande public school system was held at the high school auditorium. J. T. Longfellow, superintendent of schools, presided over the meeting and told briefly about the association meeting, after which he introduced the delegates from the various schools who attended the meeting.
The first speaker was Mrs. Beatrice Young, teacher at Willow, who reported on the meeting of the primary council, an association of primary teachers. One of the things brought out at this meeting she declared was the value of giving a child an opportunity to express itself. As an illustration of her report she, assisted by Miss Sarah Williamson, presented a puppet show, similar to one given at the Spokane meeting. Several primary children from the school assisted in the presentation. Mrs. Young also told of a visit to the Woodrow Wilson school in Spokane.

Miss Southern Reports

Miss Eva Southern, of the history department of the high school told of the geography and science department meeting, in which she discussed methods of grading. The troubles of the science departments in the small high school was brought out at the meeting. Miss Southern declared, in many cases athletics being the reason for having a science teacher in many of the small high schools.
Miss Blanche Hansen, delegate from the Riveria school, told of the meeting of the vocational guidance section, and reviewed the addresses by Dr. Jewell and the second address given by Dr. McAndrew.

Harold Phinney, from the Central school, reported on the address given by Dr. W. H. Burton, from the department of education of the University of Chicago, in which he urged that children should be taught citizenship earlier in the schools. He told of an examination made of 100 children of 12 years of age taking all of the familiar words regarding political, municipal and economic conditions and asking the meanings. The examination revealed that 97 per cent of the children knew the word bootlegger and what it meant, a large number did not know the meaning of prohibition, and that the terms divorce, sheriff and jail were among the best known. It was also found that the children in the slums knew more about the government than the better homes and that the children in the slums understood savings and did not understand the installment plan of buying, but that the children in the middle class homes knew most about the installment plan.

Wheat Prospects Look Good for Irrigated Areas of Boise Valley

BOISE, Ida., Apr. 18—Farmers of Boise valley and all irrigated sections are feeling encouraged to include large acreages of wheat in their spring planting programs.
E. E. Clark, representative of a milling company, who was in Boise Saturday, held that it was almost certain 1928 would see a high market in the sale of soft white wheat.
The milling houses are confident of the market, but the only thing they are worrying about is the ability to get the wheat, Clark explained. Explaining the reason for the prediction Clark said that a large per cent of the soft red winter wheat acreages of the north central part of the United States had been winter killed.
They supplied the south, where the residents make breads three times a day, and this year a soft wheat shortage of 80 billion bushels looms on the horizon.

Delores Del Rio Seeking Divorce

LOS ANGELES, Apr. 20 (AP)—Another film couple has taken the divorce trail led by three other pairs of screen folk connected with a romantic marriage trip into Mexico.
The last divorce action connected indirectly with that wedding junket across the border was announced yesterday when Dolores Del Rio, Mexican film star, boarded a train here for Nogales, Sonora, with the intention of filing suit to dissolve her marriage to Jaime Del Rio.
In May 1925, Edwin Carew, the director, and Mary Aiken, screen actress, were married in Jaurez, Mexico, while the wedding of Bert Lyell and Claire Windsor, both of the films, who accompanied them, followed the next day. The party was chaperoned by Manuel Roach and Agnes Ayres, the film actress. Since then Roach and Miss Ayres as well as the Lyells have been divorced. Carew's suit for a divorce, recently filed in Mazatlan, Sinaloa, Mexico, still is pending.

Good Market for Northwest

"This year, their loss is our fortune. The northwest can establish a definite market there by supplying the south with soft wheat flour."
