SINCLAIR TELLS OWN OIL STORY

any were given to me by Mr. Osler I do not know."

This reference was to H. S. Osler, president of the Continental company. Sinclair said he kept a record of the deliveries, but did not have that record now.

Sinclair said he had given Will H. Hays a net total of $160,000 to help wipe out the republican deficit after the 1920 elections but insisted that no inducement was offered to him. He said he had been a republican in politics, but did not know now what he was.

Sinclair also said he thought Hays had lost some money in the stock market and that he had loaned him $100,000 which he believed Hays sent to his broker as margin.

Sinclair could not say whether the bonds he turned over to his company were the same as those he received.

"What did you do with them as you received them?" he was asked.

"I may have put them in my vault or in the Empire Trust company."

Senator Walsh asked about the $232,000 payment Sinclair made to M. T. Everhart, of Pueblo, son-in-law of Albert B. Fall.

"I made that payment for a third interest in Secretary Fall's ranch property," Sinclair said. "I paid $198,000 in Washington and $35,000 later in New York."

Asked where he got the $35,000 Sinclair said it came from his vault, but he could not remember which one.

ELGIN GYM CASE IS NOT FINISHED

Arguments Expected to End This Afternoon in Circuit Court

The injunction suit of Dwight Barnes, et al vs. Scott Harris, et al., was still being heard by Judge J. W. Knowles in equity court this afternoon. Attorneys completed the presentation of their cases yesterday afternoon at about 4:30, and then after a short argument as to whether they should present their arguments orally or in briefs, the judge set the time for oral argument at 10 o'clock this morning. Whether the judge would make his decision from the bench this afternoon, following the completion of the arguments, was not known. Witnesses called yesterday by both the plaintiff and defense attorneys included a number of Elgin business men and leading citizens. The plaintiffs allege that the election, held Nov. 3, 1927, at which citizens authorized the building of a $5,500 high school auditorium, was not conducted legally. R. J. Green and Eugene Ashwell are attorneys for the plaintiff and Jesse Crum and E. R. Ringo for the defense. Scott Harris is chairman of the school board of Elgin.

HOUSE VOTES TO END FARM BILL DEBATE

although a sharp fight is in prospect with democrats prepared to ask for $325,000,000 reduction program, leaders expect to dispose of the measure by the end of next week.

Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, ranking democrat on the committee, announced today he would file no minority report because "the issue between the democrats and republicans on tax reduction is so simple that no explanation is necessary. He said he would present the democrats' $325,000,000 plan on the floor. TELL OF TERRORISM

SHANGHAI, May 1. (AP) — Refugees from northern and western Hupeh today brought stories of red terrorism in the districts from which they fled. They confirmed earlier reports of the sacking of Kingman and the slaying of 5000 inhabitants by bandits.

Messages from Hankow said executions of communists were occurring there daily. A girl of 17, who acted as a member of the red tribunal which is held responsible for the many sentences of torture and death, was one of the victims.

Nationalist troops have been sent to suppress the communist movement in the province which is not involved in the present battle between North and South China.
