Open Toasted Sandwiches

One cup finely chopped meat, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 small onion, 1 teaspoon curry powder, 2 or 3 tablespoons milk, 4 rounds of toast, 4 slices tomatoes, 3 tablespoons minced parsley. Carefully remove every bit of skin, bone or gristle from meat before chopping. Melt butter in frying pan, add onion finely minced and cook until a golden straw color. Add curry powder and cook and stir over the fire for three minutes. Add meat and milk and simmer over a slow fire while toasting the bread. Brush over each slice of tomato with melted butter and broil on both sides. Put a slice of broiled tomato on each round of toast and pile the meat mixture on the tomatoes. Put into a hot oven to heat thoroughly and sprinkle with parsley. Serve at once. Fish or chicken is good when used this way.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

When to Take Out Partner's Bid of Two No Trumps Yesterday's article on Contract Bridge considered various situations which arise for the partner of a player who, at a love score, opens the auction by bidding two No Trumps. With a score of 30 or more toward game, the two No Trump bid is a game-producer and it rarely is wise to overcall it unless "stamming" (a subject we will discuss later); but when the two No Trumps is not a game-producing bid, the partner who is strong should either jump to three No Trumps or bid three of a suit. Illustrations are given today of the various types of hands which may embarrass the partner of a two No Trump bidder. Suppose that South has bid two No Trumps and that West has passed; North with any one of the following hands should bid three of his long suit, not three No Trumps. Major examples are given first.

Diagram showing bridge hands and bidding sequences. No. 1: ♠A-K-X-X, ♥X-X, ♦X-X, ♣X-X. No. 2: ♠A-K-X-X, ♥A-Q-X-X, ♦X-X, ♣X-X. No. 3: ♠X-X-X, ♥X-X-X, ♦X, ♣X-X-X. No. 4: ♠A-Q-X-X, ♥X-X-X, ♦X-X-X, ♣X-X-X. No. 5: ♠X-X, ♥X-X, ♦X-X-X, ♣X-X-X. No. 6: ♠X-X, ♥X-X, ♦X-X-X, ♣X-X-X. No. 7: ♠X-X, ♥X-X, ♦X-X-X, ♣X-X-X. No. 8: ♠X-X, ♥X-X, ♦X-X-X, ♣X-X-X.

In Nos. 1 and 2, bidding the Major shows strength and gives the partner the option between bidding three No Trumps or four of the Major. The bid does not affirm or deny side strength. In Nos. 3 and 4, bidding the Minor shows a strong long Minor with no other assistance for a No Trump. In the four following hands, three of a suit should not be bid over partner's two No Trumps.

Nos. 5 and 6 are too weak for anything but a pass; Nos. 6 and 7 are No Trump jumps, not suit-bids. In No. 6, with every suit stopped, the partner does not need a Major suit option; and in No. 7 a bid of three Diamonds would deceive, as it would announce "no other assistance for a No Trump" and the hand has such assistance in both Hearts and Clubs.
