Announcements of a double wedding that will be of much interest throughout La Grande, particularly in school circles, have been received here, telling of the marriage of Miss Zaida Peard to W. W. Thomas and Miss Ruth Peard to Norman Riley at Yakima last Thursday, May 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas have been members of the high school faculty for the past two years and their romance had its beginning in La Grande.

The pretty double wedding was solemnized at the home of the two brides' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peard. The season's flowers decorated the home for the occasion. Immediate friends of the two couples were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will spend most of the summer in Bellingham. She is a graduate of Lathrop college and has been English teacher in the high school here, in addition to being dramatic director. ## Mothers, Daughters at W. W. G. Lunch

An important event of the W. W. G.'s year was their mothers' and daughters' luncheon given Saturday by the members at the Baptist church. The affair was a pretty one. At 12 o'clock luncheon was served in the primary rooms at a table attractively decorated with spring wild flowers and snapdragons. The room was cleverly decorated with W. W. G. banners and the blue and white colors of the organization. About 20 mothers and daughters were seated at the table and a three-course luncheon was served.

Preceding the luncheon a short program honoring the mothers was enjoyed. Miss Marvel Rhine sang "Mother Machine" with Miss Mildred Fox accompanying her, and Miss Fox gave a reading "A Letter to Mother."

During the business meeting, held at 1:30, at which the president, Miss Jennie Dolbow was in charge, plans were made for a rummage sale to be held at the Baptist church basement next Saturday from 8:30 to 5:30.

Discussion of the annual W. W. G. house party also took place and it is thought that six girls will go from La Grande. It will begin July 14.

The Sacajawea campfire group met Friday afternoon with their guardian, Mrs. Luff Awe, at their room at the Lutheran church. During the business meeting the girls resolved that every girl should become a "ragged-finder" during the summer, an honor which is one of the requirements for the third and highest rank, cyclops, etc. Several of the girls attained the ragged-finder honor last year and they will strive to be trail-makers this year. Following the meeting the girls worked on the church lawn. They plan to make a bird bath on the lawn and later in the summer.

Bridge Pointers

By Milton G. Work

Continuing the series started last week, I am giving another Auction Bridge Hand today, and urge my readers to determine the correct answers for themselves before they read the replies given below.

Today's Hand
♠ A-J-X
♥ A-K-10-X-X-X
♦ X-X
♣ X-X

How many of the three following questions concerning the above hand can you answer? Score in all cases love-all (nothing-nothing).

1. What should South (Dealer) declare, holding the above hand?
2. What should West (Second Hand) declare with it? South having bid one No Trump?
3. What should North (Third Hand) declare with it? South having bid one Spade and West having passed?

The Answers
1. One Heart, in spite of the fact that the hand is strong enough to bid more than one Heart and unquestionably would rebid the Hearts if an opponent overcalled with two of a Minor, nevertheless an initial bid of more than one would be inadvisable. To bid two would show six Hearts. Heated by Ace-King-Queen and consequently would deceive the partner. To bid three would announce more tricks than the hand contains, and also would convey the message, "the trump must be Hearts." With a hand of this character, a better reply would be inadvisable. To bid two and reserve aces would be caught in the strong current of the creek and swept down the creek and drowned before aid could get to it.

The weather at The Park has been very warm this week. The thermometer registered 96 degrees one day.

An Illinois man has sued for divorce, charging his wife put carpet tacks and needles into his food. Maybe she was merely trying to patch up their differences.

A Russian chemist says he has discovered a means of making our bodies transparent. A sad blow to those who had been counting on television for entertainment.

Small children should not be allowed to eat cucumbers. The seeds are difficult to digest and the vegetable has little food value. Lettuce served plain or with olive oil and lemon juice should be substituted for the cucumbers.

How Do You Buy?

When you enter a store to buy anything, how do you ask for it? Do you call for the articles by name, or do you generalize—a can of tomato soup; a bag of flour; an aluminum kettle; so many square yards of linoleum; a meat grinder?

It is much better and far more satisfactory to specify the article you want by name, for merchandise that is good enough to be sold by name is almost always better in quality, and usually no higher in price, than goods of uncertain lineage and less certain quality.

The advertising columns of this newspaper carry advertised names that are familiar to millions of people. Soap, flour, sugar, cereals, kitchen ware, rugs, linoleum, automobiles, etc. They represent those articles that stand for the best in their respective classes of merchandise—quality all through.

Advertising keeps these names before you constantly. Advertising is a constant reminder that the articles you want are the same articles that you see advertised day after day—that justify their being by the service they render. And advertising brings you news—of inventions, discoveries, improvements that keep you up to date.

Tell the sales-clerk what you want by its advertised name. You'll get it—and your money will purchase full value. It pays to read advertising and remember advertised names.
