Davis, accounted for two scores. La Grande counted once in the first inning on a three-base hit by Powell and a single by Marlow.
In the second the Davidites scored two more, on a two-base hit, two singles and a wild pitch by Henlon. La Grande came back with three runs in the second, both made after two men were down. Spellman walked, Bigges singled and then Knight hit into a double play, which left Spellman on third. Henlon singled to score Spellman. Davis singled, Stokke's hit brought Henlon in and Powell's hit permitted Davis to come home.
Then in the third the Pirates breezed past the visitors, working on a new pitcher. Degenigan walked two men in succession and then two singles, a sacrifice hit and an error by Tucker, he-whiskered third baseman, let in three runs and gave La Grande a 7 to 5 lead. That's the way the score stood until the fifth when Atherton's scratch homer evened the score. In the sixth Pederson hit a single. Kendall sacrificed and Tony LaSalle went home for Henlon. Three hits and an error let in four runs, giving the Davidites a victory.
That was all the scoring except for Powell's homer in the eighth inning. In the last three innings, Harrison pitched no-hit ball, only one visitor ever reaching first base. He started a rally in the ninth with a short single but fast fielding made it of no avail.
The House of David plays at Baker today, according to reports, and Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the Baker team will play La Grande here in a league contest. Erickson and Buckner are scheduled to pitch, and a hurling duel may result.

INVITATIONS FOR JUBILEE PREPARED
* * * with sincere desire to again greet old friends who abide in fields nearby and afar off * * * ever alert to make new friends * * * fully aware that home ties never loosen and that new contacts are pleasant * * * firmly convinced that you have a warm spot for your old home still in your heart, and believing it would be a jolly good plan to arrange a Home Coming Jubilee at which old gang of ours can come back home at the same day and hour * * * we the present-day citizenry of La Grande have decreed that thus shall it be.
* * * To better serve a common purpose, a series of reunions will be held in connection with wholesome festivity, festival fun and circus thrills.
* * * The following partial list of scheduled reunions will convince you many joyous occasions are afforded in which to meet old cronies:
* * * Principal fraternal orders, Blue Mountain university alumni, old-time athletic organizations, military organizations and service men, former public school teachers, numerous pioneer families, former city officials, reunions too numerous to list.
* * * To our friends and neighbors:
* * * Good folk, who have never had the privilege of living in La Grande, yet who have relatives and personal friends here, we salute you! Will you join our glad some family, break bread with us and be of us? You will find us an hospitable people, proud of our surroundings and anxious to inscribe your name upon our book of friendships.
Describes La Grande
The last page is printed in the same type as the third, and bracketed with orange, saying:
* * * A thousand miles of fishing streams, an hundred sparkling lakes, towering peaks draped with eternal snow, awesome gorges and God-built palisades—all within easy reach of our paved highways and improved mountain trails—and their all set to this invitation. What more entrancing, we ask, than an unique, refreshing, restful vacation in America's Switzerland, coupled with the La Grande Home Coming Jubilee?
The first invitation to go, left by this morning's mail, Mr. Malbone having the distinction of being the first and George Merrill was second.

Circuit Court Will Open June Term On Monday
The June term of circuit court with Judge J. W. Knowles presiding, will open at 10 o'clock Monday morning when the case of J. A. Snyder versus W. S. Kael, will be heard. H. J. Kitchen and Green and Heas are attorneys for the plaintiff and L. Denham and Cochran & Eberhard for the defense. The case is an outgrowth of a previous circuit court suit. The plaintiff is charging malicious prosecution.
Every court day on the docket is filled now until next Wednesday. At two o'clock this afternoon grand jury was still in session. It is likely that, following their report, arraignments may be made before the judge and criminal cases set, officers say. A number of cases of interest, including that of Fred Collins, who has been held in connection with the knitting of "Pete" Kinsey, were expected to come up before grand jury.
