"You have been a good boy, Papa's going to buy you a nice violin."

"Goodie! Now I won't have to get my hair cut."

Her: "Oh, you mustn't blame me for my ancestors."

She: "I don't. I blame them for you."

PROPHETLESS PROPHECY

First Roman (at Christian massacre): "We've got a capacity crowd but still we're losing money. The upkeep of the lions must be pretty heavy."

Second Roman: "Yes, sir, These lions sure do eat up the prophets."

"THREE O'CLOCK IN THE MORNING"

"Heard the 'Waiter Song'?"

"No; what is it?"

"Show me the Waiter Go Home."

Anxious Mother—What did you do with the medicine the doctor left for you, dear?

Johnny—A poor little sick boy around the corner didn't have any so I gave it to him.

Bob—"Yes, certainly I understand women."

Bill—"What do they mean when they hold out their hand in the car ahead?"

Peter was playing at Johnny's home. When it was time to go home it started to rain. Mrs. White, however, gave Peter Johnny's raincoat and katoshes.

"Don't take so much trouble, Mrs. White," said Peter politely. "I'm sure your mother would do as much for Johnny," she replied. "My mother would do more," said Peter. "She'd ask Johnny to stay to supper."

"Mother" asked the young boy, "where do the letters go when teacher erases them from the blackboard?"

"The same place your father's pants go when he spills acid on them," replied the patient wife of a battery dealer.

A couple of neighbors were discussing the respective husbands. "Is your husband generous with spending money?" asked Mrs. Slab. "I guess he must be," returned Mrs. Drab tartly. "I never see any."

Professor—"When will it be convenient for your daughter to take her music lesson?"

Dad—"Any time when I'm not at home."

"This is sure a great country," said the recently arrived Swedish lumberjack. "The foreman just told me you could buy a five-dollar money order for three cents."

"Who gets the most out of married life?" asked a writer. American film stars; they are always getting out of it.

Definition of a rake: "The increase of pay you get just before going into debt a little farther."

ACIDITY TESTS GENERAL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Truog test for soil acidity has come into general use for field work. It is recommended by the department of agriculture as simple and easily carried out, although some apparatus and chemicals are necessary. The degree of acidity is determined by the extent to which contents of the soil darken white paper moistened with a sugar or lead solution.

AT THE THEATERS

"The Enemy" At Arcade Next Thursday

The heart-grIPPING night vigil in Puccini's "Madame Butterfly" has a remarkable parallel in "The Enemy," Lillian Gish's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle coming Thursday to the Arcade theater for a three-day run, in which, under the direction of Fred Niblo, the suspense of a night vigil has almost the same effect, though the situation is one entirely different.

In the picture, based on Channing Pollock's famous stage play, Paul, the heroine, the role played by Miss Gish, and Carl, her lover, are married on the eve of his call to the front during the war. Their last hours together are before the dawn that buries him away with his troops. All night they sit, watching the relentless hands of the clock, ever moving toward their separation, perhaps forever.

As worked out in the screen play, this vigil in the dark is one of the most powerful dramatic touches in the history of the screen.

The new picture is a story of Austria during and after the war, in which Miss Gish plays the daughter of a university professor, who sees her family torn apart by war hardships and the hysteria of battle times. The play, on the stage, was hailed as one of the drama's greatest contributions to the cause of international understanding.

Miss Gish and Ralph Forbes head a notable cast that includes George Fawcett, Frank Currier, Ralph Emerson, Karl Dane, Polly Moran, Fritz Fitzgeway, John Peters, Billy Kent Schaefer and others of note.

Widow" are missing from M-G-M's new play, these are made up for by the grandeur of the scenic backgrounds in the French Canadian north woods story.

John Crawford and James Murray are seen in the featured romantic roles and each is ideally suited to the role. Miss Crawford has oft proved her ability on the screen in other productions but she clinches the matter with the manner in which she has portrayed the role of the daughter of the fur post, Murray, almost unknown on the screen, proves to be a real screen find which we hope producers will not carelessly lose in the shuffle when future pictures are cast.

The supporting players are among the best ever gathered for a single cast and include such film notables as Home Peters, Gibson Gowland, Polly Moran, Creighton Hale, Gertrude Astor, Lionel Barrymore, William Orlamond, Harry Gribbons and others.

"Clytemnestra of Mith" is the latest descriptive term applied to Hal Roach's M-G-M comedy team, Laurel & Hardy. "They're all at that, in their latest comedy riot, 'You're Darn Tootin,' now at the Star theater.

Idaho Cherries And Apricots To Ripen June 20

EMMETT, June 6—Growers of the famous Emmett apricot and sweet cherries are getting ready to harvest the largest crop in the history of this district. Both will ripen about the same time and the first work in June and the first two or three weeks in July promise to be busy ones for the growers as well as for a small army of pickers and packers.

Apricots will be ready for market about June 20. Growers having not less than 80 per cent of the acreage held a meeting Tuesday night and decided to pool their crops and sell to the highest bidder, either in carload lots or the entire output of the orchards, the latter preferred. Bids will be opened June 12 and the best bid accepted. The crop is estimated at 15 carloads.

The sweet cherries will be ready

"Rose-Marie" Now Showing At The Star

"Rose-Marie" which opened yesterday at the Star theater for a three day run, means fully as much to the screen as the famous musical play from which it was adapted meant to the stage.

In other words, the charm of Arthur Hammerstein's stage presentation, by Otto A. Harbach and Oscar Hammerstein III, has lost none of its original charm in its transition to the screen.

It seems to the reviewer that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer deliberately set out to outdo its own good work of several seasons back when that organization adapted and filmed Lehara's "The Merry Widow."

Unlike as these two musical plays are, I know of no other picture to which "Rose-Marie" could be compared suitably. The latter has been every bit as carefully handled as was the former vehicle. Though all of the marvelous and elegant society backgrounds of "The Merry
