WOMEN AFTER DRY PLANK
KANSAS CITY, June 8 (AP)—Women from sixteen states have arrived here to place the demand of the women's national law enforcement committee for a dry plank in the republican platform before the resolutions committee of the national convention next week. The group is headed by Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, chairman of the committee, and includes Mrs. Herbert J. Coney of Boston, Mrs. A. Haines Lippincott of Camden, N. J., and

Mrs. Nettie R. Schuller of New York City.

A mass meeting will be held by the women Sunday at which representatives of the law enforcement committee will present their demands for a dry plank and enforcement officials who will enforce the law.

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant United States attorney general, Senator William E. Borah, and William Allen White will address the women at a luncheon Monday. Mrs. Margaret Hill McCarter of Kansas and Mrs. Frank P. Hayes of St. Louis also will address the meeting.

NO PERSONALITIES INVOLVED
KANSAS CITY, June 8 (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Hannah McCormick, director of publicity for the anti-Hoover coalition, declared today that the campaign of the opposition was not based on personalities and that if Hoover is nominated, all republicans will support him.

Believe Message Of Death a Hoax

PORTLAND, Ore., June 8 (AP)—"We have them. Will send their bodies later" said a collect telegram received at the home of J. S. Phillips, after Stella Phillips, 15, and Marian Luciano, 14, disappeared from the Phillips home last night. Police believed the girls themselves sent the message. The girls went to their room, and Phillips missed them, and a telephone call with garbled words was received shortly after 10 o'clock. Then came the telegram. Police ascertained that the message was telephoned to the Western Union office by a girl.

County Nurse On Duty in Wallowa

WALLOWA, Ore., June 8—Miss Beryl Delphine Kalgler of Mart, Texas, has been employed as county nurse, as authorized in the budget last spring, and Tuesday afternoon arrived to begin her duties. Miss Mary P. Billmeyer, field supervisor of the Oregon State Board of Health, also came in Tuesday afternoon to meet Miss Kalgler and to help her get settled. It was on the recommendation of the state board of health that the county court employed Miss Kalgler. For the time, at least, it is expected Miss Kalgler will have her office in the county court room of the courthouse.

OREGONIANS WEAR ROSES
SALEM, Ore., June 8 (AP)—Oregon delegates to the national republican convention at Kansas City wear bouquets of Salem roses. Before his departure for Kansas City, Secretary of State Kozser, who is one of the delegates, made arrangements for the roses to be sent, one consignment from the state house grounds going Thursday by express, and another to leave by airmail Saturday night. Florists say the roses will be in a perfect state of preservation upon their arrival.

Will Haul Rock To Kilns Again At Enterprise

ENTERPRISE, Ore., June 8—In about ten days the road from the lime kilns to the quarry of the Black Marble and Lime company will be in shape so that the tractor outfit can resume hauling rock, and the supply then will be continuous and the plant can be operated steadily. The company has contracted for the hauling of the rock and the tractor and trailer outfit has a rated capacity of 24 tons each trip. This outfit, it is thought, can deliver rock enough to keep the kilns and plant running this summer while the business is getting established. Later an aerial tram will be constructed.

No matter how good the lime, it takes time to introduce it and that is the task to which President C. A. Bingham and the directors are applying themselves this year. They believe the superiority of the company's Chieftain brand products will be recognized wherever they are tried fairly and this in the long run will insure it a large market.

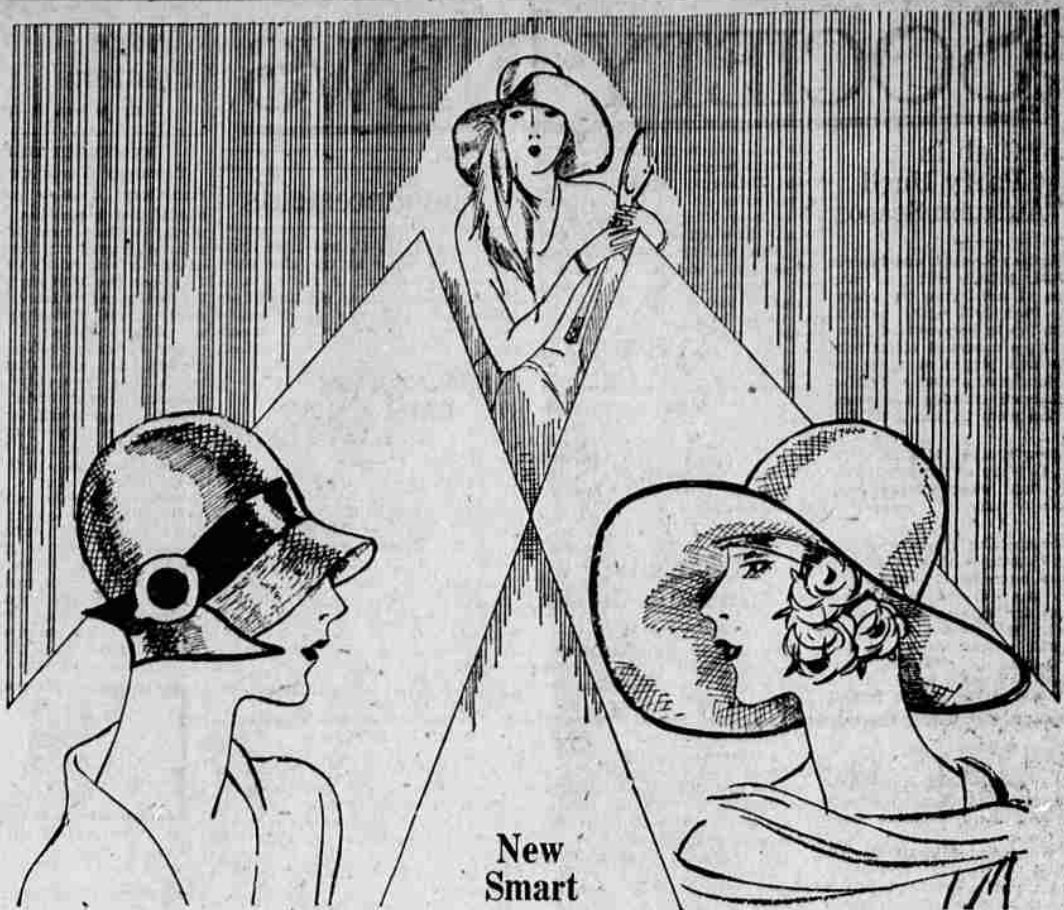

As an illustration of how the lime strikes the trade, a letter came recently from a concern at Payette, Idaho, asking for prices for carload lots, for use in orchard spray. The writer said the Chieftain lime he had tried was the "best lime we ever used."

Trusty Escapes From Oregon Pen

SALEM, Ore., June 8 (AP)—The first state penitentiary escape under the administration of Governor Patterson and Prison Superintendent H. W. Meyers took place last night when Jesse W. Collins, a trusty, got away. Collins was sent up from Multnomah county in April, 1925, for a statutory crime, to serve 15 years. He is an electrician and was made a trusty after seven months in the prison. He was sent to the prison barns last night to adjust electric light troubles and did not return.

JACK GLOVER WINS
SALEM, Ore., June 8 (AP)—Jack Glover, 1927 East Couch st., Portland, student in Laurelhurst school, is again winner of first prize in Oregon in the safety essay contest conducted under the auspices of the highway education board. He was also winner in this contest a year ago.

PAY WELL FOR FISH
TRIESTE (AP)—American taste for anchovies and other Italian canned fish draws an estimated $250,000 to this country yearly. About 2,000 workers are employed in the industry, half of them working in a single factory which has an output of more than 6,000,000 pounds and most of which is exported.

Seeking Man Who Murdered American

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, June 8 (AP)—A man hunt was on hand for a fanatic believed to be responsible for the killing of an American by derailing the railroad motor car in which he was riding. The car struck a spike which had been placed on the rail and overturned, killing James D. Wedgewood, an auditor, employed on the Pacific railroad of Nicaragua by the J. G. White Engineering company of New York. General Carmen Diaz, a brother of the president of Nicaragua who was with Mr. Wedgewood, was thrown some distance.

commendations to be submitted to both the republican and democratic national conventions, which it accepted would pledge each party to "initiate and enact legislation that will secure for agriculture a place of equality along with industrial, finance and other groups in our American protective systems."
