Miss Irma Lyman, Mr. Zimmerman Married Saturday

The most interesting La Grande marriage of this season took place Saturday evening when Miss Irma Lyman became the bride of Doyle Zimmerman at a beautiful June wedding at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Lyman on N avenue. Mr. Zimmerman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Zimmerman.

The marriage was solemnized at 6:30 o'clock. Large baskets of flowers arranged about the rooms of the home, lent the fragrant atmosphere of a June garden and created an ideal setting for the ceremony. At an alcove corner a semicircle of baskets were banked to form an altar. Bouquets, carnations and peonies in pale shades of pink and delphinium in blue were used in the basket bouquets. About 100 guests, relatives and intimate friends of the couple were present.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Leah Russell sang "Promise" by French, with Mrs. Lester Stoddard accompanying her.

John Stoddard played the wedding march, using Mendelssohn's march from "Lohengrin."

The bridal party was led by the bridesmaids, the Misses Betty and Helen Stoddard, nieces of the bride, who wore dainty lavender and pink organza frocks. Each carried a ring on a lavender and pink ribbon, escorted by her father, followed. She was beautiful in a gown of cream lace, and carried a bride's bouquet of lilies of the valley, butterfly roses and pink sweet peas. The bride wore a lovely old pearl pin, a family possession that has been worn by four generations of brides, herself, her mother, her grandmother and her great-grandmother.

The maid of honor, Miss Lucille Black, followed. She wore a black and white gown of pale yellow crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of salmon sweet peas.

The mothers of the bride and the bridegroom had shoulder bouquets of pink sweetpeas and rosebuds.

The bridegroom and the best man, Floyd Smith, preceded the bridal procession, coming in from the sun room of the home.

Bishop Lester Stoddard, of the L. D. S. church, performed the nuptial ceremony, for which the beautiful double ring ceremony was used.

Following the wedding an informal reception took place at which Mr. and Mrs. Lyman and Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman entertained.

Mrs. Lyman, Mrs. Zimmerman and Mrs. Lee Sawalish, of Astoria, presided at the buffet table, from which an excellent supper was served. The Misses Winona and Marva Lyman and Mrs. John Stoddard, sisters of the bride, assisted in serving. The wedding fruit cake was baked by Mrs. Zimmerman and the pieces were wrapped with pink and blue ribbons. Miss Black caught the bride's bouquet which she later presented to Mrs. Zimmerman.

Rollo Lyman, brother of the bride, was usher for the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman left by car for Portland on a week's wedding trip. They will also go to Seaside and to Astoria.

Upon their return they will make their home at the Lyman apartments.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman are well known in La Grande and have always been active in affairs of the younger folk. They graduated from the La Grande High school, where their romance had its inception, and later attended O. S. T., where Mrs. Zimmerman was a member of Alpha Chi Omega.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sawalish of Astoria, who have been visiting at the Zimmerman home, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Larson.

With Miss Anita Erickson, newly installed wraith advisor, presiding, La Grande Assembly No. 13, Order of Rainbow, had its first meeting until fall Saturday night at the Masonic hall. There was a large attendance of Rainbow members and in addition a number of Eastern Stars and Masons were present.

With the new officers in their chairs the initiatory work was accomplished for two candidates in a very impressive manner.

Committee reports included one from Miss Mildred Bradshaw on the progress of plans for the program which will be given by the assembly at Hot Lake next Thursday evening.

The mother advisor, Mrs. G. N. Tarkington, presiding, announced that those who would probably be an all-day picnic some time in July at which the losers in the attendance contest would be hostesses. The side captained by Miss Bernice McKinney won from Miss Mary Culp's side in the contest.

Following the initiation, C. H. Elmerhart, one of the visiting Masons, made an interesting talk to the members, complimenting the officers very highly on the way in which they had conducted their initiatory work at their first meeting.

COVE (Special)—The Women's club will have a special meeting on June 14 at the Grove and swimming pool. This is to be a social affair with a small amount of business to be transacted. All members are urged to attend.

A special meeting of the officers of the Women's club was held at the home of Mrs. T. C. Hefty a few days ago. The officers of Mrs. H. Comstock, president, Mrs. T. C. Hefty, vice president, Mrs. Helene Lincoln, recording secretary, Mrs. Harriet Thomas, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Tom Harris, treasurer. After the business session, Mrs. Hefty served.

Mrs. Mollie Buck and Mrs. Laura Beaton were hostesses to the Good Will club at the home of Mrs. Buck, on Spruce street, Friday afternoon. The meeting was held at 2 o'clock.

Roses and white peonies predominated in the bouquets that were arranged effectively about the room.

After a short business session the afternoon was spent socially. A delightful luncheon was served by the hostesses. The club will meet again in two weeks.

Quiet Wedding Is Performed Friday

At a quiet wedding at the Presbyterian manse Friday afternoon, the Rev. J. George Wilz read the ring ceremony uniting in marriage Florence MacKenzie and Dr. Robert A. Jayne. Dr. and Mrs. Jayne are both of Elgin where they will make their home. They were accompanied by Mrs. Bertha Weeks and Miss Della Weeks, both of La Grande, at the wedding which was at three o'clock.

IMBLER (Special)—Virgil D. Sanderson, a member of the graduating class of 1927 of the Imbler High school, and Miss Wanda Neilson, of the Dry Creek neighborhood, near Summerville, were married on Saturday, June second, at Baker, Justice George Miller performing the ceremony in the presence of the necessary witness, who, in this instance was Lloyd Woodell of Pleasant Grove, a close friend of the bride and bridegroom. Mr. Sanderson and his bride had planned to have the little event of a week ago kept as a secret from their families and friends but visitors at Baker the following day were given some knowledge and the secret was out. The young couple has returned to Summerville and will make their home car for Boise where they are to make their home.

with the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Sanderson, for the remainder of the summer. Mrs. Sanderson is the daughter of Elmer Neilson, a farmer of Dry Creek. The bridegroom, since completing his high school course, has been associated with his father in operating their ranch five miles north of Summerville.

Continuing our series of questions concerning Bidding at Bridge I am asking three more today. How many can you answer? Score in all cases love-all (nothing nothing). Try to determine the correct answers before reading the replies given below.

Today's Hand

1. What should South (Dealer) declare, holding the above hands?
2. What should West (Second Hand) declare with it: South having bid one No Trump?
3. What should North (Third Hand) declare with it: South having bid one Diamond and West having passed?

The Answers

1. One Spade. This is a hand in which one of a suit should be bid, although it does not contain two quick tricks in the sense of having an Ace-King, two Aces, one Ace and one King, Queen or two King-Queens; but the Spade Ace is one quick trick, and the hand contains much more than the equivalent of another. The Queen of Spades accompanying the Ace has two-thirds of a chance of being worth a trick; that is, it will take a trick with Spades trump if the King of Spades be in partner's hand or on the right. It has a half chance of taking a trick if the King be adversely held. Each of the two Kings has the same chance of taking a trick that the Queen (accompanied by the Ace) possesses, so the two Kings and the Queen together are much more than the equivalent of a quick trick.

2. Pass. This hand cannot be counted worth more than six tricks against a No Trump, even with every break favoring it. When sitting over a No Trump, suits should not be bid unless the bidder is within two tricks of game; so this hand falls two tricks short of the requirement. It also falls well short of a doubling hand. It needs another high card; and its distribution is not suitable to doubling, as any answer the partner might make—except Spades—would involve great danger.

3. One Spade. This hand has more than normal support for partner's Minor and, if there were any score, the Minor should not be disturbed; but without a score a better game-keeper should be found if possible. The hand contains two such possibilities, viz., No Trump and a Spade. In view of the general make-up and the defenses Hearts, the Spade seems to be much the wiser selection.

UNION PERSONALS

UNION (Special)—Twenty-eight pupils from the South school were awarded certificates for perfect attendance during the last school year. They were neither absent nor tardy during the entire nine months. They were Vera Halling, Verda Halling, Egan Halsey, Alice Gamble, Richard Bonney, Roy Lovhaug, Cedric Gale, Dorris Sturgill, Viola Anderson, Lela Barrett, Maxine Harris, Ethel James, Billy Sturgill, Sylvan Tidball, Evan Vanhouten, Alma Miller, Robert Rode, Marie Cavallo, Leah Davis, Helen Davis, Margaret Parent, Clifford Pease, Raymond Reuter, Russell Rode, Bernard Atkins, Waldron Parker, Kathleen Parent and Marie Miller.

Henry Cadwell, son of C. L. Cadwell, who recently moved to Nyssa, Ore., was here last week visiting with relatives and enjoying the stock show.

Headquarters company of the national guard, under command of Lieutenant Adrian Goodbrod, is making its preparations to attend the encampment at Camp Clatsop this week. The company will go practically 100 per cent, unless one man who has an injured hand, is excused from the trip on that account. A few who could not make the trip were transferred to the reserves and new recruits have been secured so that the company has its full quota of members. The boys will have dinner at a restaurant here in Union on Tuesday afternoon, then set out for the camp that same evening.

Verne Hug, of Elgin, and Walter Furman, of Imbler, members of the Elgin band, were at the stock show Wednesday and played with the Union band. Roberts and Hale, of the La Grande band, also came out and played with the local band.

With a jitney dance going on inside and a group of stands and carnival booths doing business just outside, the high school gym was quite an attraction each evening of the stock show.

Mrs. Mary Gustaf, who has been visiting with her mother, Mrs. Compton, and other relatives and friends at Haines, came home yesterday. She was accompanied by her brother Will Compton and her mother who made a short visit at Union.

Hershal Halsey, who has been in Portland for several days arrived home this week.

Owing to a change in the plans by the state commission the salmon racks which were to have been installed about two miles above Union along Catherine creek, are being placed at the state fish hatchery just east of town. This change was made in order to cut down expenses, as the former location would have meant the paying of an additional man to care for the racks. The upper set of racks has been placed just above the hatchery grounds and the lower set is being placed at the lower end of the grounds.

Members of the local Epworth league were running a stand last week to raise funds to help defray expenses of the summer institute which will be held at Wallowa lake. The Union league plans on sending about ten delegates to the institute.

One new feature of the 1928 stock show was the work of the Boy Scouts in directing traffic, preventing accidents, and aid to the injured. State Traffic Officer Walter Lansing, of Baker, sponsored the work and his purpose was to minimize accidents in auto traffic. The scouts also helping in the grounds and in the grandstand. Baker, La Grande and Union camps participated. Officer Lansing re-

North Powder Thursday June 28 in the forenoon and Union in the afternoon and La Grande Friday June 29. This clinic includes infants and children of pre-school age.

Mrs. Reed Blacker, of Union, was a guest of Mrs. L. R. Lay recently. Leonard Allen, assistant club leader of Corvallis spent a few days here visiting with his mother Mrs. Alice Allen.

UNION PERSONALS

UNION (Special)—Twenty-eight pupils from the South school were awarded certificates for perfect attendance during the last school year. They were neither absent nor tardy during the entire nine months. They were Vera Halling, Verda Halling, Egan Halsey, Alice Gamble, Richard Bonney, Roy Lovhaug, Cedric Gale, Dorris Sturgill, Viola Anderson, Lela Barrett, Maxine Harris, Ethel James, Billy Sturgill, Sylvan Tidball, Evan Vanhouten, Alma Miller, Robert Rode, Marie Cavallo, Leah Davis, Helen Davis, Margaret Parent, Clifford Pease, Raymond Reuter, Russell Rode, Bernard Atkins, Waldron Parker, Kathleen Parent and Marie Miller.

Henry Cadwell, son of C. L. Cadwell, who recently moved to Nyssa, Ore., was here last week visiting with relatives and enjoying the stock show.

Headquarters company of the national guard, under command of Lieutenant Adrian Goodbrod, is making its preparations to attend the encampment at Camp Clatsop this week. The company will go practically 100 per cent, unless one man who has an injured hand, is excused from the trip on that account. A few who could not make the trip were transferred to the reserves and new recruits have been secured so that the company has its full quota of members. The boys will have dinner at a restaurant here in Union on Tuesday afternoon, then set out for the camp that same evening.

Verne Hug, of Elgin, and Walter Furman, of Imbler, members of the Elgin band, were at the stock show Wednesday and played with the Union band. Roberts and Hale, of the La Grande band, also came out and played with the local band.

With a jitney dance going on inside and a group of stands and carnival booths doing business just outside, the high school gym was quite an attraction each evening of the stock show.

Mrs. Mary Gustaf, who has been visiting with her mother, Mrs. Compton, and other relatives and friends at Haines, came home yesterday. She was accompanied by her brother Will Compton and her mother who made a short visit at Union.

Hershal Halsey, who has been in Portland for several days arrived home this week.

Owing to a change in the plans by the state commission the salmon racks which were to have been installed about two miles above Union along Catherine creek, are being placed at the state fish hatchery just east of town. This change was made in order to cut down expenses, as the former location would have meant the paying of an additional man to care for the racks. The upper set of racks has been placed just above the hatchery grounds and the lower set is being placed at the lower end of the grounds.

Members of the local Epworth league were running a stand last week to raise funds to help defray expenses of the summer institute which will be held at Wallowa lake. The Union league plans on sending about ten delegates to the institute.

One new feature of the 1928 stock show was the work of the Boy Scouts in directing traffic, preventing accidents, and aid to the injured. State Traffic Officer Walter Lansing, of Baker, sponsored the work and his purpose was to minimize accidents in auto traffic. The scouts also helping in the grounds and in the grandstand. Baker, La Grande and Union camps participated. Officer Lansing re-

Bridge Pointers

Bridge Pointers

Continuing our series of questions concerning Bidding at Bridge I am asking three more today. How many can you answer? Score in all cases love-all (nothing nothing). Try to determine the correct answers before reading the replies given below.

Today's Hand

1. What should South (Dealer) declare, holding the above hands?
2. What should West (Second Hand) declare with it: South having bid one No Trump?
3. What should North (Third Hand) declare with it: South having bid one Diamond and West having passed?

The Answers

1. One Spade. This is a hand in which one of a suit should be bid, although it does not contain two quick tricks in the sense of having an Ace-King, two Aces, one Ace and one King, Queen or two King-Queens; but the Spade Ace is one quick trick, and the hand contains much more than the equivalent of another. The Queen of Spades accompanying the Ace has two-thirds of a chance of being worth a trick; that is, it will take a trick with Spades trump if the King of Spades be in partner's hand or on the right. It has a half chance of taking a trick if the King be adversely held. Each of the two Kings has the same chance of taking a trick that the Queen (accompanied by the Ace) possesses, so the two Kings and the Queen together are much more than the equivalent of a quick trick.

2. Pass. This hand cannot be counted worth more than six tricks against a No Trump, even with every break favoring it. When sitting over a No Trump, suits should not be bid unless the bidder is within two tricks of game; so this hand falls two tricks short of the requirement. It also falls well short of a doubling hand. It needs another high card; and its distribution is not suitable to doubling, as any answer the partner might make—except Spades—would involve great danger.

3. One Spade. This hand has more than normal support for partner's Minor and, if there were any score, the Minor should not be disturbed; but without a score a better game-keeper should be found if possible. The hand contains two such possibilities, viz., No Trump and a Spade. In view of the general make-up and the defenses Hearts, the Spade seems to be much the wiser selection.
