Party Given In Honor of Helen Bridgeman Friday

Mrs. D. N. Mosby entertained at a delightful party Thursday evening at her home on Spring avenue, complimenting Miss Helen Bridgeman, of Spokane, who entertained here yesterday. Miss Bridgeman has been the guest of her sorority sister, Miss Marveline.

Music and "500" were the chief features of the evening. The room was prettily decorated with flowers. At a late hour, hostess served a luncheon. The guests of the evening were the Misses Jean Chandler, Marjorie Vaillette, Hester, Mabel Hug, Evelyn Rhine and Miss Bridgeman, and Jack O'Connell, Richard Kluis, F. C. Swift, Mr. Kelly and Gilbert Dahl.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Guild entertained informally at dinner Thursday evening at their home on avenue. Ten guests were seated at dinner at 6:30 o'clock. Following dinner bridge was the diversion of the evening.

A potluck supper at 7 o'clock was an enjoyable feature of the Pythian Slates' meeting at K. of P. hall last evening. The lights of Pythias joined their voices and children at the supper, at which 55 were seated.

The lodge meeting, at which Eva Koyie presided, was at a session and was followed by a pleasant evening of social visit and card playing.

A quiet marriage was solemnized in the Christian church parsonage Sunday when Anna Pratt became the bride of John A. Simmons. Both are from Enterprise.

Women of Cove Burn Mortgage

COVE (Special)—The Women's club held a special meeting Thursday, June 14, at the library. The meeting was to have been held at the grove at the swimming pool but a shower of rain in the early afternoon sent the women scurrying to the library.

Several minor matters of business were transacted. Then the newly-elected president, Mrs. Comstock, appointed her committees for the coming year. The program committee consists of Mrs. W. A. McNeill, Mrs. J. R. Price and Mrs. L. M. Laird. The membership committee is composed of Mrs. C. Bertach, Mrs. A. G. Conklin and Mrs. S. H. Weimer. The house committee is Mrs. George McDaniel, Mrs. Alice Tripper, Mrs. W. Smith. Finance committee is Mrs. Albert Becker, Mrs. Cora Bloom, Mrs. T. Harris. The press committee appointed was Mrs. T. C. Hefty, Mrs. Helene Lincoln, and Mrs. Harriet Thomas.

Mrs. Jack Fletcher was asked to be custodian of the picture library and Mrs. Harris was given charge of the dishes. A committee consisting of Mrs. T. C. Hefty, Mrs. Albert Becker and Mrs. L. M. Laird was appointed to look after the matter of reorganizing the Girls' club.

After the business of the day was completed, the real matter of interest was introduced, the joyous task of burning the mortgage. After these years of working and striving the club has finally accumulated enough to complete payment on the building and a little ceremony was made of burning the mortgage. The retired president, Mrs. W. A. McNeill, introduced the speakers and herself paid a fitting tribute to the club members and their share in the work. The actual task was shared by four past presidents, Mrs. A. G. Conklin, Mrs. S. H. Weimer, Mrs. L. M. Laird and Mrs. W. A. McNeill, named in the order of succession. Tea was served by the hostesses for the day, Mrs. McNeill, Mrs. George McDaniel, Mrs. Lantz, Mrs. Millie and Mrs. Martin. Monthly meetings will be held during the summer instead of semi-monthly sessions.

Announcements
The Parkdale club will meet Wednesday, June 20, at the city park, with Mrs. Fred Young and Mrs. Nell Thacker as hostesses.

Members of the Yeomen lodge and their friends will hold their annual picnic on Catherine creek by the log caves, Sunday, June 17. Cars will leave the Eagles' hall at 9 o'clock and all are asked to bring a basket lunch. Coffee will be served.

COVE PERSONALS

COVE, Ore. (Special)—The summer school grows daily more interesting. Mr. Austen's half hour in the morning discussing "Jesus' Way of Life" is found all too short, as are also the lectures on the various subjects. ## MENUS

By Sister Mary
BREAKFAST—Baked rolled bacon, cereal, cream, crisp broiled bacon, pop-overs, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Casserole of spring vegetables, prune bread, floating island, hermits, milk, tea.
DINNER—Braised mutton cutlet, tomato and cabbage salad, strawberry cobbler, milk, coffee.
The main dinner dish is an excellent one to keep in mind for those evenings when dinner must wait. A slice of veal cut from the leg or round steak is very good cooked this way.

Braised Mutton Cutlet
One slice mutton cut 1 1/2 inches thick, 4 potatoes, 4 or 5 new carrots, 4 or 5 white onions, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 cup boiling water.
Choose meat from the largest part of the leg. Trim and slash meat in several places through to the bone to prevent curling up. Pare potatoes, scrape carrots and peel onions. Put into a good-sized covered baking dish or roaster. Sprinkle with half the salt and pepper. Broil meat quickly on both sides until brown and place on bed of vegetables. Sprinkle with remaining salt and pepper. Add boiling water and cover closely. Bake two hours or longer in a moderately slow oven. Serve on a hot platter arranging the meat in the center and the vegetables as a border.

In Contract, just as in Bridge—and, because of the increased valuations, even more important in Contract than in Bridge—it is essential that a game-going contract should be reached but not overreached. The Contract pair who frequently fail to bid for game when there is game in the hands or who are apt to bid for it when it is not there, have a sorry record to produce at the end of the year. The number of slams made in every hundred hands dealt has never, as far as I know, been determined with any great accuracy; but it seems safe to say that in the long run not over two deals in a hundred will produce hands which justify any kind of slam bidding.

After such an understanding has been reached, subsequent bidding by either partner is solely for the purpose of showing trick-taking ability, and is designed to discover whether the partnership may venture to a bid of six or seven—i. e., a bid for Small or Big Slam.

How, the "set declaration" is arrived at and other questions of slam bidding will be considered on Friday and Saturday of next week.
