POUGHKEEPSIE IS READY FOR RACE

Seven College Crews, Two From the West, to Match Strength

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 19 (AP)—Cool and cloudy weather greeted the thousands of visitors here for the Rowing Association annual championship regatta today.

After a night of heavy rain, the skies had cleared up somewhat this morning but there was shadow to come later in the day. There was a slight breeze—enough to ripple the surface of the Hudson—but racing conditions appeared favorable.

The program for today's races follows: Freshman race, two miles, 5 p. m. Eastern daylight. Syracuse, Naval academy, Cornell, Columbia, Washington, California and Pennsylvania.

Junior varsity race, three miles, 5 p. m. Pennsylvania, Naval Academy, Washington, Columbia, Syracuse and Cornell.

Varsity race, four miles, 7 p. m. Naval Academy, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Syracuse, Washington, California and Columbia.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 19 (AP)—Frah, dismal and rainy weather, accompanied by a brisk breeze from the southeast that roughened up the Hudson river today furnished anything but favorable racing conditions for the intercollegiate race or comfortable conditions for spectators.

After an all night rain there was some let up in the morning, but the skies gray and lowering, loomed a steady drizzling stream at noon.

The usual gaiety and color was missing but the enthusiasm of supporters of the contest was not dampened. Equipped with slickers, south-western and umbrellas, instead of the more colorful summer attire the crowds came prepared for the occasion.

Yachts by the score crowded the shores along the race course while trains and automobiles unloaded thousands all morning.

The arrival of the main throng which may not exceed 50,000 or 75,000 because of the weather developed no change in the prevailing sentiment, but there was talk of betting among the rivans on Columbia and California.

If the New Yorkers do so they are likely to win the big race for these two remain the twin favorites with Washington an alternative.

Washington in the Junior varsity, was rated at even money against the field.

Because of the rough water all of the crews kept to the quarters in the morning but several gouts including those of Columbia and Washington were prepared to venture for easy pulls if the weather improved.

MRS. McALEXANDER DIES
PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Mrs. May Skinner McAlexander, wife of Major General U. G. McAlexander, rock of the Marine, died here late last night after an illness of more than eight months.

She became the wife of McAlexander in Toronto, Canada, August 21, 1887, a few weeks after he graduated from the United States Military academy at West Point. He was a second lieutenant then.

where she underwent a major operation, returned Tuesday to her home here much improved in health.

The Misses Helen and Arduth Hutchinson, of North Powder, who spent several days here visiting at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Mary Hutchinson, were met here Tuesday by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson and the party left the same day for Portland where they attended the Rose festival.

Big Aid to Cubs

Meet Mickey McGuire, the young second baseman of the Chicago Cubs who has made "Sparky" Adams' absence unnoticed. McGuire once tried out with the Giants, but was released because he was "said to be weak physically. But when the Cubs traded Adams to the Pirates this winter, Joe McCarthy got hold of McGuire and he has made good on the job.

After riding roughshod over all opposition for three weeks, the high-garbed advance of Hill McKeon's petulant home St. Louis Cardinals has struck a snag.

The Cincinnati Reds, recovering from the slump that cost them first place in the National league's bitter pennant chase, took the Cardinals' measure, 7-2, in a thrilling 14-inning battle at Cincinnati yesterday.

Perry Malone, now pitching for Joe McCarthy the fast ball that made him strike-out king of the American association last year, just missed entry at Boston into that select class of no-hit, no-run hurlers.

After Boston had won the first game of a Bunker Hill day double header, 2-0, Malone pitched the Cubs to a one-hit 12-9 shut out over the Braves in the nightcap.

The only other major league game of the day saw Jesse Petty and the Brooklyn Dodgers turn back the revived Phillies, 4-1.

NATIVES LIKE BASEBALL; WIN TITLE FROM YANKEES

GUAM, Guam (AP)—This beautiful tropical island has enthusiastically adopted baseball, America's national pastime, with the result that a good grade of ball is played by the native natives.

The climax to the season, which opened last Thanksgiving, came recently when the Agana Cubs won the championship of Guam by defeating teams representing the United States Navy and the Marines.

The population numbers about 15,000, and 2,000 of these, mostly native, turned out for the games. The women have shown so much interest in the game that a special stand has been built for them.

FLYING CLOUD STILL AHEAD; KNEE AILING

SEUREKA, Cal. June 19 (AP)—Running with an ailing knee, Flying Cloud, Karok Indian, continued to pull away from the grade in the $5000 race to Grants Pass. He ambled into Trinidad, 2 1/2 miles, north at Seureka at 10 o'clock last night.

One hour later his nearest rival Melika left Seureka where he arrived at 9:55 p. m.

In third place was Klamath, who pulled into Seureka at 10:15 and said he would rest a while.

The remainder of the field of the runners were scattered along the highway south of Seureka, running on the hope that the leaders may not be able to keep the pace in the trying stretch before them.

COVE PERSONALS

COVE (Special)—Miss Beatrice Wardell who has been visiting in Seattle and Sabon for the past two weeks is at home again.

OLYMPIC HOPES

Sabin Carr of Yale is as much a certainty for the Olympic squad this summer as any man in the United States. He was the first man in the world to get over the bar at 14 feet, and holds at this time the world's indoor record with a 12 foot 9 1/4 vault. Carr lives in Dubuque, Iowa, and was a senior at Yale this year. He consistently does better than 12 feet in his event.
