BUTTER CARTONS SANITARY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Increased use of cartons for sanitary reasons in packing butter for retail sale is considered advisable by health officials in 117 cities. In a special survey by the federal bureau of agricultural economics officials declared that cartons lessen the likelihood of contamination both in the home and in retail stores, and are a means of checking the absorption of undesirable odors.

HEALTH

MYOCARDITIS
By Anders Frick, M. D.
Chicago

In 1927 nearly 7000 people died in Chicago of heart disease and a large percentage of these deaths was due to chronic myocarditis. The time to guard against this dread disease is before fifty years of age. It is caused by some chronic infection, at times syhilis, and as a rule by habitual overeating and insufficient exercise, which factors combine to lessen the vitality of the heart muscle and to increase its labor.

The first symptoms appear in the sixth decade of life or later and usually the left side of the heart is the first to give way. When it fails properly to draw the blood from the lungs and throw it into the general circulation while the still competent right side continues pouring a normal amount of blood into the lungs, a congestion of these organs is the logical result. The patient then complains either of shortness of breath on exertion or of morning and evening cough or of slight attacks of shortness of breath, cough and expectoration of white or blood-stained froth or finally of severe nightly attacks of choking, coughing, and spitting of a more or less abundant amount of white or pink froth. Later on the right side of the heart also begins to fail and less blood is thrown into the lungs. As a consequence the respiratory symptoms abate and congestion takes place in those organs which empty their blood through the large veins into the right heart.

The stomach, the liver, the kidneys, the lower extremities are affected in turn, and the patient complains of fulness and distress after meals, pain in the region of the liver, scanty urination, and finally of swelling of the feet.

Considerable improvement is to be expected if the heart is relieved by rest, food restriction, and free cathrsis, and if it is stimulated by the proper use of ordinary heart remedies. The periodic examination would, however, have discovered the cause and prevented all the trouble.

Accidents will happen. That is why there are so many different kinds of salads.

FOR SALE

2 Acres, close in in Fruitdale. 4-room house, wired for light, water right that means something, berries and family orchard. Will sell or exchange for larger acreage.

—o—

An exceptionally well improved farm, equipped with high-grade cows and sheep, and a city milk route bringing in $450 per month. Farm produces sufficient hay to feed all the stock and last year there was a surplus of 80 tons. This is no shoestring proposition—a real farm, real equipment selected stock. It requires a few thousand dollars as a first investment. While the owner desires to sell, his reason is not financial, for it is a real money maker and will stand the acid test upon investigation.

—o—

40 Acres well improved on market road near La Grande, all in cultivation, and an additional 10 acres of timber, all for $5,000. Investigate this.

SHORT SHORT STORY

He loved her.
She loved him.
Each had a good job. Both were ambitious.

So they kept working until fame crowned them. But by that time they were so jealous of each other they weren't even on speaking terms, so they remained single unto the bitter end.

* * *

Some people boast that they are wedded to their work. Maybe so, but in some cases it is only a companionate marriage.

* * *

A physician of my acquaintance tells this joke on himself. A woman became very ill and he was called to attend her. After she had lingered for several days, with little change in her condition, the weekly church paper came out with this item:

"Sister ——— is very ill at her home. Dr. ——— is attending her. Will all the brothers and sisters of the church pray for her?"

* * *

It only goes to show, if you wait long enough, fashion will pay a return call. Here's Eve back in style again, and in only two thousand years, too!

* * *

You had best try to save something while your salary is small. It is almost impossible to save after you begin earning more.

* * *

Florist—Want to say it with flowers? Yes? About two dozen?
Robbie—No, about six. I don't want to say too much!

* * *

TOMBSTONE LITERATURE — Here lies the body of Johnny Wise. This is the only thing that ever went over his head.

* * *

Girl Friend—Are you troubled with pyorrhea?
Doctor's Stenog — Only when I have to spell it.

Speaking of crime waves, Chicago seems to have got herself a permanent.

Safest Way to Stop Pain

It is not necessary to take heart-depressing drugs or dope of any kind to relieve nerve torture caused by neuritis, neuralgia, sciatica or rheumatism. Just apply Tyamol over the part that hurts and see how quickly you will be free from discomfort.

Tyamol is a soothing, healing absorbent that goes in through the pores and drives out inflammation which has settled in the nerves. The minute you rub it on you can feel it beginning to relieve. Pains and aches soon stop, congestion is removed, and soreness and inflammation gradually disappear.

Although Tyamol is put up especially for nerve pain and inflammation, sufferers have found it equally good for taking the misery out of stiff, swollen or aching joints. Also fine for lame back and muscular soreness. Pleasant, harmless and easy to use. Don't fail to try it if you want genuine, lasting relief. You get a liberal supply for $1 at any drug store. AT THE THEATERS

"Fools For Luck" Showing At The Arcade

When the bunco man comes to town hide the children's banks and double lock the doors, but don't fail to see one of them in action. It can be done without jeopardizing the family fortune by going to see W. C. Fields and Chester Conklin in their Paramount team comedy "Fools for Luck," now playing at the Arcade theater.

This scintillating comedy of the professional promoter's adventures in a small town is an entertainment masterpiece. It is a riot of fun from start to finish and the laughs are made more enjoyable by being woven into an interesting story that has its full quota of thrills as well as a dash of intriguing romance.

The picture shows Fields as a silver tongued promoter who can make people scramble for the opportunity to turn over good money for worthless paper. Chester Conklin is shown as the leading citizen of a small town and an expert with a pool cue.

The pool game is only one of the many extremely amusing incidents which liven this sparkling comedy. There is a scene where Conklin, thinking he is getting into bed with his wife, climbs in with Fields. And Conklin is the last man in the world Fields wants to see.

Thrilling Fire Rescue In Film at Star

Gotham Productions present an unusually exciting and interesting screen production at the Star theater today in "Heroes of the Night" which, as the title indicates, is a tribute to the uniformed police and firemen of every large city.

The story is exceedingly well worked out and the many thrills with which the picture abounds come as the natural outcome of the events which precede them.

Two spectacular and realistic fire episodes stand out as the most prominent scenes pictorially, with the raging flames consuming tall buildings and the fire fighters heroically risking their lives to save the lives and property of others. The more dramatic moments fall to the police officers but the entertainment balance is about equally maintained.

Cullen Landis and Rex Lease are the two brothers who represent the two departments. The fireman and the policeman both meet and love a girl, portrayed by Marion Nixon. Neither brother knows of the other's love for the same girl. Then comes the realization that they are rivals. They do not let their personal conflict of love interfere with their duty however and at a crucial moment both are ready to sacrifice themselves. There is a happy and logical denouncement which untangles the situation and the picture closes with both brothers still wearing the uniform but with the honors of promotion ahead of them.

Director O'Connor and the members of the cast win well merited praise in all direction. Mr. O'Connor has injected an atmosphere of realism that is astounding even in these days of movie miracles. "Heroes of the Night" not only offers excellent entertainment but provides an object lesson every citizen should learn.

Last Showing Of "Girls of The Underworld" Today

Love in the Underworld — a strange story of an outcast girl, is told in the atmosphere of the road to ruin, and is the theme of the Girls of the Underworld at the Colonial theater for the last day.

There will be special matinees held for the ladies only and the performance at night will be given for men only. All children under the age of sixteen will not be permitted at any time only when accompanied by parents.

Among the well known stars in the principal roles are Ben Lyon, Gaston Glass and Peggy Lynne.

The Girls of the Underworld had a long run in New York before coming to the coast where it played for fourteen weeks in Los Angeles, ten weeks in San Francisco and three weeks in Oakland.

Special music of the theme and the "Humantone Singing Interlude" are introduced.

A bargain sale is an arrangement whereby a woman can ruin one suit and buy another.

THE LITTLE BERET is revived in the new yachting theme in women's fashions. This one is of navy serge embroidered with a white anchor.

IT ISN'T A HOME WITHOUT A TELEPHONE

Mr. Jameson is in a hurry. He is on his way to the Telephone office.
Last night he and his wife agreed they "couldn't do without a telephone any longer."
This was just after he had to go out in the rain to make a telephone call.
