ONCE ANTI-SUFFRAGIST WANTS TO BE SHERIFF

MARYSVILLE, Kan. (AP)—Examining a feminine prerogative, Mrs. Mary Van Nortwick has changed her mind about woman suffrage.

When the womanhood of America was clamoring for enfranchisement, Mrs. Van Nortwick contended there were plenty of men to look after public affairs. Now she is a candidate for sheriff of Marshall county. Plenty of men still are willing to look after that particular office, for nine of them are in the race against Mrs. Van Nortwick.

Mrs. Van Nortwick promises the voters she will be a terror to bootleggers.

FRENCH WOMAN OF 83 DECORATED FOR VALOR

ST. ARNONT—EN—YVELINES, France (AP)—Madame Bergoin, aged 83 years, has just been decorated for bravery.

Mme. Bergoin was canteen keeper with the Seventy-third regiment during the Franco-Prussian war and is one of the few living survivors of the year of 1870.

Taken by the enemy on the St. Privaus front, she was confined in a Prussian camp for three days. Woman's wit plus a crafty administration of some of the famous French wines obtained her release.

FAVOR OUTBOARD MOTOR

LONDON (AP)—With increasing interest in motor-boating in England, the American outboard motor is especially favored. Last year 800 were imported, against 217 the year before. British buyers are looking to the United States for further development of all types of motor craft.

Him—For 2 cents I'd kiss you. Her—Well, here's 50 cents, let's get going.

A knocker is a despicable creature and a bore unless he happens to be knocking the thing you don't like.

Shipwreck Sailor—Why does that big cannibal look at us so intently?

His Companion (cheerfully)—I expect he's the food inspector.

ALL IS FORGIVEN

Abe and Mawruss were in business together for twenty years when Abe took very sick and was told by the doctor that he had some strange poison in his system and had but two hours to live. He sent for his friend and said, "Mawruss, I have a confession to make before I die. That bill of goods we lost ten years ago, Mawruss, that wasn't stolen. I took that. Also, Mawruss, that $4,000 we lost from the safe, that wasn't stolen. I took it. And, Mawruss, forgive me, but I have been running around with your wife. Will you forgive me?"

"There, there, Abe," said Mawruss, "be at peace. I forgive you—it was me that gave you the poison."

NOFFACAY

Noffacay, want one? Begin reading that foreign-looking word at V and read it to the left. You'll find it's plain English.

"That ring is only plated, sir," said the jeweler.

"Oh, well," returned the customer airily, "I dare say it will last as long as the engagement."

Wife—There was a poor woman here today after old clothes for her family.

Husband—Did you give her any?

"Yes, I gave her that ten-year-old suit of yours and that dress I bought last week."

Wife—"Pa, what is a parasite?"

His Pa—"A parasite, son, is a man who walks through a revolving door without doing his share of the pushing."

AT THE THEATERS

"Legion of the Condemned" Is Air Drama

Timeliness is always an attribute in appealing to the motion picture public and, as was the case of "Wings," the epic of the air, "The Legion of the Condemned," another screen story of the aviator, which opens at the Arcade theater tonight is bursting with this selfsame constituent.

Following in the wake of Col. Lindbergh's flight, the country has been demanding more and more air stories. With "Wings" and "Paramount is more than keeping abreast of the times.

"The Legion of the Condemned," will give the spectator full entertainment along lines, namely thrills, love interest and entertainment. From the man who takes his flying seriously right down to the flapper who likewise dwells a bit upon the romantic side, no one is to leave the theater where this picture is being shown without a fine reaction.

It is the War again. You cannot get away from that, but it is the war from an angle only touched upon in "Wings" and developed to a high degree in this story. A young American, a newspaperman, thrown together with members of an unattached flying unit at the front; men who have debt against society that can be obliterated only by an honorable death. They fight for the dangerous missions, making their deeds of valor the talk and envy of the fighting front.

It was only natural that Paramount would select young William Wellman to direct "The Legion of the Condemned." In the first place he was a member of the Lafayette Squadron himself during the war and there is little you could tell him about the flying unit at the front. Secondly, this is the young man who handled the megaphone on "Wings" and so there is very little you could tell him about the photographing of air pictures.

Further than that, the story is from the pen of John Monk Saunders, the author of "Wings."

In the leading roles are Gary Cooper, as the young American newspaperman turned ace, Fay Wray, discovered by Eric Von Stroheim and given the lead in "The Wedding March." Both turn in splendid performances. Other members of the cast are Harry Norton, of "What Price Glory," Francis McDonald, Charlot Brud, Freeman Wood and E. H. Culbert.

Proving itself one of the finest pictures of the year, Vera Reynolds' latest Pathe-De Mille star feature, "The Main Event," which will be shown for the first time today at the Colonial theater. That the photoplay should have scored as emphatically as it did is not surprising, for it is beyond question thrilling, dramatic, novel, beautiful and appealing to a degree.

Mrs. Reynolds does the best work of her screen career in this entertaining picture as a dancing girl who loves "Red" Lucas, a prize fighter. She lends herself to a scheme to aid her sweetheart who, by the way, is double-crossing her, to render Johnnie Rogan, his ring rival, hors de combat by dancing with him night after night at the club where she is employed, the result being that seemingly he is physically unable to meet his ring engagement. Then the girl falls in love with her victim and spouts Lucas' rascally game! Thinking the girl he loves has played him false, Johnnie enters the ring and promptly thrashes Lucas and wins the championship.

The picture is packed with thrilling scenes. The work of the star and her supporting players, notably Rudolph Schildkraut, Charles DeLyne, Robert Armstrong and Julia Faye, is highly commendable. The direction by William K. Howard, the man who made "White Gold" as nearly flawless as can be, so that by and all "The Main Event" is a production worth travelling far to see.

Indians Play Important Part in "Wyoming"

Many famous Indians, who were prominent in the early history of the state of Wyoming, are seen in Tim McCoy's new western film drama, "Wyoming," which will be shown at the Star theater today.

Among these red men are Water Man and Left Hand, two of the five Arapahos who joined the Sioux of Stroheim and participated in the massacre of Custer's command at the battle of the Little Big Horn. Another famous red man is Goes In The Lodge, war chief against a scout for General Crook in the Sioux wars.

More than a thousand feathered and painted Shoshone and Arapaho Indians from the Wind River reservation appear in the thrilling Indian sequences of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture directed by W. S. Van Dyke.

Dorothy Sebastian has the featured feminine lead.

Tim McCoy, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer western star who has gained great popularity in picture based on American historical incidents and is one of the most delightful western melodramas he has thus far brought to the screen.

McCoy appears in "Wyoming" in the role of a United States cavalry officer stationed in the Indian country of the far west just prior to the Civil war. The story, which was written especially for McCoy by Madeline Ruthven and Ross Wills, is based on the invasion of what is now Wyoming by the emigrant trains which set out from the Missouri valley to settle the Indian hunting lands.

Most of the picture was filmed in Wyoming under the direction of W. S. Van Dyke. The leading feminine role is taken by Dorothy Sebastian.

Dorothy Sebastian, who appeared opposite Tim McCoy in "Callifornia," plays opposite that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer western star in "Wyoming," a few film drama of the western frontier to be shown at the Star theater today and Friday.

McCoy, who served in the cavalry throughout America's participation in the World war, is seen as a lieutenant of cavalry in the troublesome Indian days of the far west.

FOR SALE

Modern 6-room bungalow; basement, furnace, hardwood floors, breakfast nook, good plumbing and light fixtures, on improved street, well located. This price for immediate consideration has been cut from $2300 to $2000. Owner has attractive business proposition that he desires to accept, but must sell here before leaving; consequently this sacrifice. Look this up, it is a bargain. Owner will consider light car or truck as part payment. Also would consider a soldier loan.

5 acre tracts adjoining city. 5 acres improved. 10 acres improved. 2 acres improved. There are at least 100 families in La Grande who should be on small acreages. A cow, a garden, fruit and eggs all produced at home takes an awful wallop out of the high cost of living.

MOM'N POP

AS MOM'S INTEREST IN THE RETURN OF HER GIRL HOOD, SWEET HEART, BRUCE DANGERFIELD, INCREASES, POP'S HEART BECOMES FULL OF SUSPICION AND DOUBT—CAN IT BE THE GREENEYED MONSTER?

WE USED TO GO PLACES BEFORE WE WERE MARRIED.

DIDN'T YOU SEE THE PAPERS? THEY'RE FULL OF IT. DOC. WHITFIELD'S WIFE SKIPPED OUT WITH AN OLD SWEET-HEART OF HERS. SHE FLATTENED DOC'S BANK ACCOUNT BEFORE SHE TOOK THE NEAREST ENT. IMAGINE BEING STRIPPED OF EVERY PENNY YOU'D SAVED FOR FIFTEEN YEARS. SO ANOTHER GUY COULD GO GALLIVANTIN' OFF WITH YOUR ONLY WIFE, ON A PREPAID TOUR!

POOR DOC! I GOT SOME IDEA HOW HE FEELS—AN OLD TIME FLAME OF HERS. EH?

A Little Worried

IF HE TIPS HIS HAT WHEN HIS NAME IS SPOKEN HE'S BOBO!

I'LL CALL HIM AND SEE—

WELL, WELL! I'M NOT USE TO ASSOCIATING WITH MONKEYS, BUT ONE NEVER LOOKED BETTER TO ME BEFORE—WHERE'S FRECKLES BOBO? IS HE ALIVE? FRECKLES! FRECKLES!

Bobo Makes a Contact!

LOOK! THERE HE IS NOW! DOESN'T THAT LOOK LIKE BOBO? WHAT WOULD ANY OTHER MONKEY BE WEARING A CAP LIKE THAT FOR? HE'S COMING THIS WAY!!

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

I THINK YOU WERE IMAGINING THINGS WHEN YOU SAID YOU SAW BOBO HERE IN THIS PLACE, AIGGINS!
