

SOCIETY NEWS

Mrs. Ralph Drown Complimented At Informal Party

Mrs. Ralph E. Drown, of Lewellen, Neb., is among the visitors here who have been complimented at informal affairs during the last week. Mrs. Drown (Edith Carter) is visiting here with her sister, Mrs. Hol Baker, at the Baker home on Adams avenue.

Last Tuesday Mrs. L. V. Duncan entertained at an informal afternoon at her home on K avenue for Mrs. Drown, inviting six guests who enjoyed a social afternoon. Mrs. J. G. Miller assisted Mrs. Duncan in serving. The guests were Mrs. Ralph Baker, Mrs. George Chadwick, Mrs. J. G. Miller, Mrs. W. L. Wheatley and Mrs. Duncan.

plutuck lunch will be served at noon.

The Degree of Honor Protective association will meet in regular session this evening at 8 o'clock at Eagles hall.

MENUS

By Sister Mary
BREAKFAST—Fruit, apricots, cereal, cream, scrambled eggs, crisp toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Tongue and celery salad, whole wheat bread and butter sandwiches, fresh fruits, vanilla wafers, milk, tea.
DINNER—Hot meat loaf with tomato sauce, grilled sweet potatoes, steamed Swiss chard, fresh cherry pie, milk, coffee.

The luncheon suggested could be used for a porch or garden meal without change. Or, if a picnic by the roadside is wanted, pack the salad in a strong pastboard container, wash the lettuce and carry it in an airtight pail, wrap the sandwiches in heavy waxed paper and carry the milk and tea in thermos bottles. Don't neglect the lettuce even on a picnic.

Tongue and Celery Salad
 One-fourth pound smoked beef tongue, 1 cup shredded celery, 1 hard-boiled egg, 1 sweet green pepper, 1 small head lettuce, 1 cup French dressing.

Cut tongue in match-like pieces. Wash and crisp celery and cut the same way. Cut eggs white in marrow strips. Mince pepper after discarding seeds and white pith. Mash yolk of egg and add with 1 table-spoon minced parsley to French dressing. Mix thoroughly and add enough paprika to make the dressing pink. Combine prepared ingredients with French dressing and serve with carefully washed and crisped lettuce.

COVE PERSONALS

COVE, Ore. (Special)—The club boys and girls returned Saturday night from their two weeks summer school at Corvallis. Those who attended were John and Frances Comstock, Allen Mills, Robert Bell, Eldon Southwick and Darrel Welmer. John Comstock and Elson Southwick won their scholarships at the Union Stock show. Frances Comstock, Allen Mills and Roberta Bell won theirs at the state fair at Salem and Darrel Welmer won his at the Pacific International at Portland. They came home delighted with their wonderful two weeks at Corvallis.

Mrs. Mattie Powell, teacher at Sheskul last year, has been re-elected for the coming year.

Mrs. Ethel DeHaas was visiting at Cove Saturday.

Mrs. L. M. Lantz who was a delegate to the tuberculosis meeting in Portland last week, is visiting at the home of her son, Roy Lantz, at Albany, before returning to her home here.

The baby clinic sponsored by Miss Alice Marquardt, county nurse, will be held here on Wednesday afternoon, June 27.

Miss Jean Mulligan, of Salem, is the house guest of Mrs. Mattie Powell.

There will be no delegates from the Cove Women's club to attend the state convention of women's clubs at Klamath Falls, June 25 to 28. Mrs. McNeill and Mrs. Lincoln, elected as delegates, have found it impossible to go.

Miss Mabel Lantz with a party of friends from Ames, Iowa, will arrive June 1 to visit her mother, Mrs. Lydia M. Lantz, and her brother, L. G. Lantz. Miss Lantz has been connected with the faculty at the Iowa State college for several years, but has resigned her position there to teach in a missionary school in Egypt.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Rees, Mack Rees, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hefly, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lawson and Miss Bessie Kelly made up a party of penitents who spent Sunday at Five Points and Starkey.

A fire here Sunday resulted in the destruction of a barn belonging to Frank Nizer. When the fire was discovered, it was too late to save the barn or its contents, both of which were destroyed. The barn itself was small and not of great value, but it contained about two tons of coal, a good deal of

Bridge Pointers

By Milton C. Work

Continuing the series of bidding questions, how many of the three following can you answer before reading the replies given below? Score in all cases love-all (nothing-nothing.)

Today's Hand

♠K-J-10-X
♥A-Q-X
♦A-X
♣A-X

1. What should South (Dealer) declare, holding the above hand?
2. What should West (Second Hand) declare with it: South having bid one Diamond and West having passed?
3. What should North (Third Hand) declare with it: South having bid one Diamond and West having passed?

The Answers
 1. One Spade. The hand would have the strength to justify a bid of one Spade even if the Ace of Clubs were a small card. In the old days players qualified to start the bidding with King-Jack-Ten suits, but in recent years it has been found advisable to do so whenever the strength on the side is as great as an Ace-Queen, or an Ace and King, in different suits. So in this case the Heart support would be sufficient to justify the Spade bid without the Ace of Clubs.

2. Double. This is a double of the camouflage type. The doubler would make it with the firm intention of overcalling if East should answer by bidding a Diamond. In that case West would bid one Spade, showing that the Diamonds would not suit and that the Spades are distinctly preferred to the Hearts. The advantage of the double rather than bidding the Spade immediately is that if East bids four Hearts and less than four Spades, the double will produce a Heart answer and under such circumstances that might work much better than a Spade bid by West. Camouflage doubles should be used only when facing partners of ability; with a poor partner in this case the bid should be one Spade.

3. One Spade. It is quite true that the partner has bid the only suit in which North has no defense, and it is also quite true that generally with four suits in the two hands, No Trump is the best declaration; but in this hand, with the Club suit consisting of an Ace and one small, and with two possible losers in the long suit, the chance for a game of Spades seems to be more promising than for a game at No Trump.

Copyright, John F. Dille Co.

American Airmen Are Forced Down

LEBOURGNET, France, June 26 (AP)—The two French army planes in which Wilmer Stutz and Louis Gordon, crew of the trans-Atlantic plane Friendship, were returning from Paris to London today were forced down by high winds at Berckplange.

They will probably proceed to Boulogne by train or motor car. From there they will cross the channel by steamer to Folkestone, continuing to London by rail.

The American spent 20 hours in Paris during which they went on several sight seeing trips and were received by American Ambassador Herlick, M. Painleve, French minister of war and officers of the aero club.

A number of tools. The fire was caused by a small boy playing with matches.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Fletcher and their guests, Miss Virginia Haines and Bessie Gley, of Hastings, Neb., were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mills, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Orton and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart French spent the weekend on the Minam.

The I. O. O. F. and Hebekah lodges held a tri-county picnic at the Ascension grove on Sunday.

Misses Thelma Anderson and Geneva Murchison are attending the Normal school at La Grande.

The campfire girls held a council Friday evening at the home of their assistant guardian, Mrs. Larson.

The boy scouts of Cove did a very good deed Saturday by carrying off all the rubbish that had accumulated, when the citizens held a clean-up day.

There will be no delegates from the Cove Women's club to attend the state convention of women's clubs at Klamath Falls, June 25 to 28. Mrs. McNeill and Mrs. Lincoln, elected as delegates, have found it impossible to go.

Miss Mabel Lantz with a party of friends from Ames, Iowa, will arrive June 1 to visit her mother, Mrs. Lydia M. Lantz, and her brother, L. G. Lantz. Miss Lantz has been connected with the faculty at the Iowa State college for several years, but has resigned her position there to teach in a missionary school in Egypt.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Rees, Mack Rees, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hefly, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lawson and Miss Bessie Kelly made up a party of penitents who spent Sunday at Five Points and Starkey.

A fire here Sunday resulted in the destruction of a barn belonging to Frank Nizer. When the fire was discovered, it was too late to save the barn or its contents, both of which were destroyed. The barn itself was small and not of great value, but it contained about two tons of coal, a good deal of

The boy scouts of Cove did a very good deed Saturday by carrying off all the rubbish that had accumulated, when the citizens held a clean-up day.

A VERY CHIC beach costume accessory is the new wooden jewelry which comes in various bright colors. This necklace consists of groups of red, yellow, blue, green and black beads.

AH! CLARA HAS THE INDIAN SIGN!

You can pile up all the Friday thirteens you want to, or drive a regiment of black cats under a ladder and across her path; but it wouldn't even perturb Clara Bow, flaming haired Hollywood screen star. She's adopted the swastika, ancient symbol of the Indians, to ward off jinxes—and we'll say she and the swastika make a snappy ensemble.

Dems' Keynoter, To Be Heard By Millions, Is New National Figure

NEW YORK, June 26 (NEA)—You can take a true Hoosier far from his native state, bury him in the anonymity of newspaper editorial writing and turn him into a scholarly, retiring historian; but sooner or later he will turn back to the only pursuit a real Hoosier ever enjoys—politics.

That's what happened in the case of Claude G. Bowers, anyway. Bowers, born and bred in Indiana, moved to New York five years ago to become an editorial writer for the New York Evening World. In his spare time he studied and wrote history. But last winter he plopped back into politics so zealously that he was at once chosen to deliver the keynote speech at the coming Democratic convention in Houston, Tex.

It all happened because Bowers was invited to address last January's Jackson Day dinner in Washington. This is a traditional feast of the Democrats, marked in recent years by a notable absence of love. Bowers had written absorbing biographies of such Democratic heroes as Andrew Jackson and Thomas Jefferson, and through some happy inspiration the committee asked him to speak.

Electrified Party
 Bowers did. He urged his hearers to make Jackson and Jefferson something more than mere patron saints of the party, contrasted conditions in their eras with conditions today and, before he had finished, aroused the Democratic chiefs to real enthusiasm. A man who could do that seemed worth keeping; so Bowers, by general consent, was chosen to do the keynoting at Houston.

To most of the country, thus far, he has been just a name. When his election as keynoter was announced, the rank and file of the Democracy murmured, "And who the dickens is he?" After he delivers his speech at Houston, politics and to express his opinions thereon, it might have seemed to his friends that he had left active political life.

Fame as Author
 This impression probably was strengthened when he began to attain fame as an author. In 1914, while browsing through the Congressional Library, he had gathered the data for his first book, "Irish Orators." Two years later he had written a biography of Senator Kern. In New York his talent really came to flower in two books that gained large circulation. The first was "Party Battles of the Jackson Period"; the second, "Jefferson and Hamilton—the Struggle for Democracy in America."

Democratic leaders in New York knew him as an exceptionally able, clear-thinking speaker, and it was their influence that made him Jackson Day speaker last winter. His speech there, delivered with the fire of a polished orator, made his selection as keynoter at Houston practically a foregone conclusion.

His speech in Houston will be heard by millions all over the United States, by means of the radio.

A novel true to life would, no doubt make a big hit. Nobody acts like the characters in a present day novel.

PUTMAN'S
 La Grande's Exclusive Ready-to-Wear and Millinery

These are the days of Wednesday evening band concerts on the town square. As one Illinois reporter described the event the other day: "Walter French brought over his crack band of 30 pieces."

Many try to keep up with the neighbors and many more try to get ahead of them.

Iced TREE TEA
ORANGE PEKOE

When the weather man announces that the mercury is headed up, there's a quick way to pull it down: Tree Tea Orange Pekoe Iced. Iced tea needs a tea of full flavor and strength enough to withstand the dilution caused by pouring over ice.

Tree Tea Orange Pekoe is that kind of tea

Mrs. Grover Grinnett was hostess yesterday afternoon to members of the Lion Tion club at her farm home in the Grande Ronde valley. A delightful social afternoon of sewing and visiting was spent by the seven members who attended. Mrs. Grinnett served refreshments.

The annual Hug reunion at Elgin drew many La Grande families Sunday who took part in the yearly gathering that has come to be such a large and important event, for both friends and members of the family. This year about 200 attended, many of them from La Grande.

Aunt Ann Hug, loved and respected matriarch of the clan, who is 92, was there and during the afternoon a poem written for her was read by Miss Lydia Hug, J. H. Blumenstein is author of the poem but was unable to be there. He has called it "Good Old Aunt Ann." Mrs. Hug expressed her heartfelt gratitude to Mr. Blumenstein for the beautiful and sincere tribute he has paid her in the verses. The program of the day was an interesting one and included talks by Dr. A. N. Mayville and by Bernal D. Hug, the association's historian.

Leo Nebelner was elected president of the association for the coming year. Al Hug was chosen vice president, and Bernal Hug and Miss Lydia Hug were re-elected historian and secretary, respectively. Vern Hug is retiring president of the clan.

Mrs. Conklin Is Hostess To Club

COVE (Special)—Mrs. T. R. Conklin was hostess to the Fun and Joy Bridge club at her home on Saturday afternoon. Pink roses furnished the floral decoration and the dainty refreshments carried out the same color scheme. Three tables were at play. Miss Bessie Kelly making high score. The women present were Mrs. T. C. Hefly, Mrs. G. E. Barker, Mrs. L. J. Chadwick, Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. A. H. Orton, Miss Bessie Kelly, Miss Ethel Hansen, Mrs. J. E. Mills, Mrs. W. J. Halfmark, and Mrs. Fannie E. Conklin.

COVE (Special)—The Dorcas society of the Baptist church will meet at the home of Mrs. Walter Richards on the Cove-La Grande highway Thursday afternoon, June 28.

COVE (Special)—The Ladies Aid of the Methodist Episcopal church will give a party on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Chadwick to which the public is cordially invited. A short program is planned and refreshments will be served during the event which promises to be a pleasant one.

Announcements

The last meeting of the season for Hope chapter, No. 13, O. E. S., will be held tomorrow evening at the Masonic hall at 8 o'clock. There will be initiation and a report will be made from Grand chapter.

The Riverside Ladies' Aid will meet at the city park Wednesday for its annual all-day picnic. A

IT ISN'T A HOME WITHOUT A TELEPHONE

THE Bashful Fellow may hesitate about calling at a Girl's home and risking a "cross-examination" from her inquisitive little brother.

He much prefers to call her on the Telephone—

If she has one.

Home Independent Telephone Co.

AND YOU CAN HAVE ONE FOR A FEW CENTS A DAY!

Krause's MARSHMALLOWS

$57 Recipe Book FREE

Last summer we offered $1.00 apiece for each original recipe using Krause's Marshmallows. Hundreds of recipes were paid for. From this choice selection we have taken 57 of the best—all we could get into a book that would fit the new 12-ounce tin. A remarkable collection by the housewives of the Pacific Northwest. You will find one of these new books in each 12-ounce tin of

Krause's Marshmallows
 Druggists, Confectioners, Grocers Sell Them

...SPECIAL...

Shoe Sale

Pumps and Sandals

BEGINNING WEDNESDAY

Quality Summer Footwear at Greatly Reduced Prices

300 PAIRS Women's high-grade Pumps, representing broken lines and lines from Earl E. McDonough stock, which we are discontinuing—values to $9.50, now—

$6.85

See Our Windows

Hosiery Special

To win more friends for the famous lines of hosiery which this store features. During sale only

ALL-SILK CHIFFON $1.69
 Regular $1.95

HOLEPROOF, THEME or ROLLINS HOSIERY

BURNETT SHOE CO.
 Quality Shoes --- Economy Prices