DAIRY NEEDS BIG COWS

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP)—E. H. Loveland, extension dairy specialist of the Vermont state agricultural college, has concluded that a common fault with dairy cows is lack of size. It has been demonstrated many times, he says, that comparatively large cows are the most economical producers of milk. He advocates steady growth of calves, insured by a grain supplement with pasture.

Judging from the number of police dogs seen here and there, the Germans have made almost enough since the war to pay up the reparations.

HEALTH

THE ALARMING INCREASE OF TUBERCULOSIS AMONG YOUNG WOMEN

By S. Adolphus Knopf, M. D., New York City

While the present tuberculosis death rate among young women is compared with that of 25 years ago is not actually higher, the decrease among the rest of the population has been so much greater that whereas the male death rate was formerly higher than the female, now among young women between 15 and 30 years of age it is in many places twice as high as among boys and young men of the same age.

Among the causes for this deplorable situation are first the vast increase in the number of young women in business and occupations formerly pursued only by men. Many of these girls are so young as not to be fully developed nor physically or mentally fitted for their tasks. Then there is the fashion of wearing a little and as little as possible even in the coldest weather, sleeveless waists, short skirts, thin silk stockings. The insufficient dress, causing colds and bronchitis, invites the ubiquitous tuberculosis germs. The high-heeled low shoe cause frequent twisting of the ankles and an unnatural posture. The insane desire for a boyish figure is gratified by undernourishment and the breasts are flattened by brassieres and rubber bands, which limit the expansion of the lungs.

Overheated and badly ventilated offices and workshops also do their part, with insufficient time for luncheon, continued monotonous work without relaxation. It is necessary to dress stylishly to keep the job even at poor pay. Unhygienic and unsanitary home life because of high rents, particularly for the girls without family connection, also failure to seek medical aid when comparatively slight illness and neglect of semi-annual or even annual health examinations, are other causes.

The remedies must be to remove the causes as quickly as possible. Girls must seek the right kind of occupations, dress sensibly according to the season and remember that between the ages of 15 and 30 overweight is not so dangerous as underweight. A womanly figure is not to be scorned. A girl has a right to enjoy herself, but carrying the quest for pleasure to extremes is not good for either her physical, mental, or spiritual well-being.

John (tendely): "When did you first know that you loved me?" Jack: "When I began to get annoyed when people said you were brainless and unattractive."

Teacher: "Now, if your mother gave you 11c, and your father gave you 2c, what would you have?" Tommy: "Sugar cookies and a chocolate ice cream cone."

A little bit of quality Will always make 'em smile; A little bit of courtesy Will bring 'em in a mile; A little bit of friendliness Will tickle 'em, 'tis plain— And a little bit of service Will bring 'em back again.

"Clara," her father shouted upstairs, "I think that bashful young grocery clerk of yours is out on the porch." "Why, Pa," exclaimed Clara, hustling down the stairs three steps at the time, "I didn't hear him ring."

"Neither did I," admitted her father, "but I heard his knees knocking together."

A quarrelsome couple, having exhausted many subjects, came to discussing tomatoes, and the wife asked: "My dear, what kind of stone do you suppose they will give me when I die?" "Brimstone," was the reply.

Teacher: "What is the matter with your eye Johnny? If you and Willie have been fighting again I'll give you both a whipping!" "Yes, miss. But you needn't mind about Bill; he's had his."

Clerk: "Since I married, sir, I find that my salary is not large enough." Cyclical Employer: "The usual discovery, my young friend. And it never will be again."

Advertising Aids Sales of Cigarets

An account of the phenomenal growth in sales of Old Gold cigarettes reads like a "foolishness to president" success story. On the market less than two years today it is the fastest-growing cigarette in the U. S., its makers, P. Lorillard Co., Inc., declare.

Newspaper advertising has played a very important part in the growth of Old Gold sales, presenting a new cigarette before the country from the time of its first appearance. The Evening Observer has continuously carried advertisements for this product in its columns and played an important part in its introduction in this territory.

DUST EXPLOSIONS COSTLY WASHINGTON (AP)—At least 28,000 industrial plants, employing more than 1,324,000 persons and manufacturing products of an annual value in excess of $14,000,000,000 are subject to the hazards of dust explosions, it is revealed by David J. Price, department of agriculture.

AT THE THEATERS

"Big Killing" Opens Run At the Arcade

Powderhorn Pete and Dead-Eye Dan. The greatest shrapnelshooters of all time" came to town last night when Paramount's latest Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton team comedy, "The Big Killing," opened at the Arcade theater. Beery takes the part of Powderhorn Pete and Hatton is Dead-Eye Dan. The audience went wild about these two boys who couldn't hit the side of a mountain at 15 paces but who are experts at heading glass balls with blank cartridges.

"The Big Killing" is another of those delicious satiric comedies which Beery and Hatton introduced with a recent production, "Partners in Crime." This time they have taken to mountains and the backwoods mountaineers for their inspiration and they succeed in throwing an effective wedge.

PLAN PARIS HOP

ALBANY, N. Y., June 24 (AP)—Governor Smith visualized the day when his own present position as chief executive of the Empire state will be held by a woman.

NEA Philadelphia Bureau A Philadelphia to Paris flight, with one intermediate stop in Maine, is the plan of Lieut. Arthur Gavia, top crack navy flier and holder of the world's endurance record. He will be accompanied by Capt. Louis V. Zuberger, below, of Philadelphia. They will use a giant Sikorsky twin-motored seaplane.

into a neat little feud war, developed over the romance which threatened to mix the opposing families. The picture has a well-sustained plot with genuine story interest. The side-splitting comedy situations are cleverly woven into the fabric of the tale and there is a sincere romance running throughout.

Supporting Beery and Hatton in the cast are several notable players, including Mary Brian, whose recent successes with this comedy duo have won her an enviable place in the hearts of film audiences. Lane Chandler, who played opposite Clara Bow in "Hot Hair" and several others.

Novel Mystery Film Showing At The Star

"Eyes of the Totem," the Pathé picture which will be the feature of the program today at the Star theater, may cause some to wonder what the word "Totem" really means. It was from the Slavic or Alaskan Indian lore and is descriptive of superstitious beliefs that families or entire tribes are under the protective influence of the spirits of departed hosts, birds or fishes and that a pole carved with huge and hideous faces, meant to represent the unseen gods, would serve as a warning to would-be enemies to keep away.

Smith Speaks At Son's Graduation In Albany, N. Y.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 24 (AP)—Governor Smith visualized the day when his own present position as chief executive of the Empire state will be held by a woman. "The chief difference I notice between exercises like this now and 30 years ago," he said in address at the graduation of his youngest son from the academy of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, "is that both boys and girls take part now together. "In my youth there were exercises for the boys of the class one day and the girls the next. The reason for that was that the things you'd tell the boys in that day you wouldn't tell the girls. You'd advise the boys so that they might train themselves to be captains of industry, professional men, or statesmen. You never would have thought of telling that to the girls. Not then, but now you tell them both the same things, because they are doing the same things."

He turned with a smile to a plump classmate of his son who had won several prizes for scholarship, Mary McManus.

ACTOR SINKING ATLANTA'S HIGH AND DRY, N. J., June 25 (AP)—Robert Bruce Marshall, veteran actor, ill at his home here, was reported to be growing weaker today. He has been confined to his bed six weeks by a complication of ailments.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 26 (AP)—Still claiming right to make their homes in the Fish creek desert, part of the Umpqua national forest, Emory Davis, and E. H. Best, war veterans, were in jail again today. Federal Judge McNary sentenced them to five months late yesterday on charges of contempt of court.

The two men yesterday pleaded they were prospecting for quartz, and therefore had a right to be on the forest. Judge McNary branded this as subterfuge.
