Young Swimmers Eager For Gun Tomorrow Night

Some 20 juvenile swimmers, all 12 years of age or under, are primed and eager for the water carnival that will take place at the Elk's pool tomorrow night. Windup up two successful weeks of instruction under John Elliott Allen, University of Oregon letterman and Red Cross examiner.

They are to be 51 prizes given in all for the numerous races in which both boys and girls will take part and there will be special demonstrations and water stunts to entertain the spectators, that it is hoped, will run well into the hundreds.

"I heartily approve of this swimming school which the Red Cross of the county is sponsoring and feel that they have done a wonderful and practical service in giving 200 persons a chance to learn to swim and to save lives," said A. T. Hill, president of the city commission today.

To those who have not witnessed any of the classes tomorrow night's carnival which is free will give them an opportunity to review the work of the two weeks.
