By the Associated Press Philadelphia's bid for some other National league berth than the cellar has been stayed off by Hornsby, Sisler and company.

The first two games of a "crucial cellar series" yesterday found the Boston Braves twice victorious over the Quakers.

The Phillies put up a gallant battle for both games in yesterday's double header, carrying each to extra innings before yielding. Lester Belfrage scratched single with the bases filled in the 14th gave Boston the opener, 4-3.

The Braves won the nightcap, 5-4, in 10 innings.

The Chicago Cubs returned to third place and dropped the Cincinnati Reds to fifth when Art Nehf, left handed his way to an easy 8-2 victory over Kolp and Jabonowsky.

Huber Hall's 21st home run of the year failed to save the New Yorkers from a 4-3 reverse from Washington Senators, Garland and Braxton outpitching George Piperno.

The Philadelphia Athletics reduced the Yankee lead to a matter of 12 games by breaking even in a double header with the Boston Red Sox. Left Grove had no trouble beating the Sox in the first game, 9-2.

Tobie Walberg failed in the second and the A's went down 7 to 4. Six home runs were smashed out in the double bill.

The Chicago White Sox surprised themselves and the St. Louis Browns by taking both games of a double header, 7-1 and 9-8 with Blankenship.

The Detroit Tigers too many liberties with Uhl's pitching and walked with a 7-3 triumph over the Indians.

Indiana has furnished more magazine and newspaper writers than any other state, says a writer. Maybe it's because Indiana gives its young men plenty to write about.

OLYMPIC HOPES

JAMES F. QUINN

Two outstanding performances this year make Jimmy Quinn, Holy Cross sprinter, stand out prominently in a field of candidates that is very strong. Quinn gave one of the outstanding performances of the winter months when he won the 60-yard event at the New York A. C. games in the record time of 6.1-5 seconds equalling the world's record. That one might not think this was just a flash, he entered the I. C. 4-A meet at Harvard several weeks ago and led the parade of brilliant sprinters in the 100 yard dash. His time in this was 9.9. Although he faces most strenuous competition in the final trials at Harvard, Quinn is confident he will be able to gain one of the four places for sprinters on the Olympic squad.

Decathlon Star Pulls Tendon In Olympic Try-Out

MUNICIPAL STADIUM PHILADELPHIA, July 3 (AP) — Chief Elkins, national decathlon champion and leading United States hope in that event for the Olympic games, pulled a tendon in the first heat of the 100 meters event of the national decathlon and final Olympic tryout today.

Elkins won the national ten event championship last year. He formerly attended the University of Nebraska and is now wearing the colors of the New York Athletic club.

Head Coach Lawson Robertson said that the mishap undoubtedly means that Elkins will be lost to the Olympic team.

The misfortune to Elkins came with startling suddenness. He started in a three man heat and was leading at 60 yards when he suddenly pulled up lame and was about only to stagger across the finish line.

"Elkins' injury is a bad case of a pulled tendon," said Coach Robertson after an examination. "Elkins was probably our best bet."

Elkins definitely withdrew from the trials after he had tried unsuccessfully to participate in the broad jump with a rubber bandage and brace on his injured left leg.

Tilden-Hunter Team Victorious Against British

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 3 (AP) — Big Bill Tilden and Frank Hunter, American and British doubles champions, overcame a poor start today to conquer the English pair Cecil F. and Georges C. Crede-Heggs in the series today. The series 4-6, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 3 (AP) — If tennis critics thought that Big Bill Tilden's game had blown up when he was obliged to five by Pierre Landy on Sunday they revised their opinions in view of the big Philadelphia's great victory over Jean Loreta yesterday.

While paying full tribute to the Basque's brilliant game experts were conceding that Tilden never had played a finer tennis here. Samples of the comments follow: "Tilden dictated the game, compelled his opponent to play it and wore him down at it." "Tilden was really awesome." "Tilden played majestic tennis; he was the complete player." "It was an all together different Tilden from the shadow that hovered on the court against Landy."

One Killed, One Expected to Die In South Oregon

MARSHFIELD, Ore., July 3 (AP) — The toll of accidents in the Southwestern Oregon district over the weekend amounted to one dead, a youth probably fatally injured and a girl critically hurt, suffering from a broken back. Nine others suffered minor injuries.

Glenn L. Miller, highway engineer, employed on the Roosevelt highway, ran his automobile off a bridge at Gardiner Sunday and was drowned in the Umpqua river in five feet of water.

Paul Deileson, 18, of Coquille, was still living today, but was expected to die from injuries he received Saturday night when his automobile plunged into the North fork of the Coquille river. He suffered a fractured skull.

Elsie J. Kelly, 17, of Myrtle Point, was in a critical condition as the result of a fractured back, but was expected to live.

Destroyers Arrive At Oregon Port

MARSHFIELD, Ore., July 3 (AP) — Two destroyers, the U. S. S. Stoddard and U. S. S. Thompson, have arrived at Coos Bay for a stay of four days, coming from San Diego. The crews will be feted at Coos Bay cities and will join in the celebration of the completion of the Roosevelt highway at Winchester Bay on July 4.

AN UPSIDE DOWN WORLD STUDIED BY SCIENTISTS

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — This is a topsy-turvy world for three scientists at Clark University. Dr. Walter S. Hunter of the department of psychology and P. H. Eward and Norman I. Munn, graduate students, are conducting experiments believed to be unique in inverted vision and its effect on the co-ordination of the senses.

Each takes turn, for a two weeks' period, in wearing specially made glasses that turn upside down the images of all objects and distort the senses of sight, sound and touch, separating the first from the latter two.

The Open Road

Suppose you came suddenly upon two roads. One straight, well-trodden . . . the other thin and twisting off into undergrowth. If you didn't want to arrive at any place in particular, you might choose the latter. But not otherwise.

Before you, as buyer, run two roads. One is the road of knowledge of an advertised product. Thousands use it. There's no mystery about it, no doubting, nothing hidden. It leads the way definitely to a fountain pen, a floor wax, a tooth-paste that will give satisfaction. When you use an advertisement, you use an open road.

When you don't use advertisements, you go the doubtful road. You have only hazy knowledge of the product ahead. No trade-mark or name to depend upon guides you. The result may or may not be worth the effort. You don't know.

Read the advertisements. Anything widely advertised — breakfast food, hamper, hair tonic — has proved itself by good advertising.

Advertisements put you on the open road to satisfaction

If you are suffering from an unknown illness, you consult your doctor. If you're considering an unknown investment (and very few people know all they should know about any investment), consult your banker.

If you're planning to start a building and loan contract, let him express his opinion. He can tell you whether or not the conditions are fair and favorable, whether you get all you pay for.

He can tell you who is back of the company you are considering, how it operates, whether or not you are forced to pay a membership fee for the privilege of investing.

Talk to your banker. We are particularly anxious that you ask about the La Grande Building & Loan, its plan. It charges no membership fee, levies no fines or forfeitures. We'll be glad to give further details regarding its most popular contracts.
