

THREE ATHLETES HAVE 2 CHANCES

Hahn, and McGinnis Hope to Score Double Victories in Olympics

By Alan J. Gould

(Associated Press Sports Editor) NEW YORK, July 10 (AP)—Three American athletes, Joe Ray, Hahn and Charles McGinnis, all attempt to score double victories in the Olympic track and field championships at Amsterdam.

It is doubtful whether any one of them will succeed. Of the trio, Hahn perhaps has the best chance to score a double, though his efforts will be put to rest in two events, the 500 and 1000 meters, in which the keenest part of competition will be forthcoming from European rivals.

Hahn stands out now as the greatest 500 meter runner in training. The performance of the famous Nebraskan in shattering the American record and then the world's mark for the distance surpassing anything so far registered abroad by his foremost rival, Dr. Otto Peltzer of Germany, Douglas Lane of England, the champion, and Kenneth Martin of France, has not recovered from the effects of an ankle injury and may not even reach the Olympic final.

Lane, at his best, never touched the 500 meter mark for either the half-mile or 800 meters but the Englishman is a great competitor and may be the American's leading opponent. Hahn's opposition in the 1500 meters will come chiefly from Finland.

Charles McGinnis, Wisconsin's great pole vaulter and high jumper, will likely have his own competitors to beat if he is to land on top in either event. He tied Bob King in the high jump trials and beat the Olympic champion, Hal Bohrer, but it is doubtful whether he can surpass such pole vaulters as Sabu Carr, Lo Barnes or Bill Froemuel, all three did 13.5 at the final trials, while Barnes and Carr have surpassed 14 feet. McGinnis did 13-6 between high jumps last Saturday and on a day when he can concentrate on vaulting may be able to go higher.

Sectionally, the 1928 team is the best balanced and most representative America has ever produced, the east still maintains the lead but its traditional supremacy is pretty well wiped out by the onrush of talent from the Southern, Middle West and Pacific coast, which furnished most of the individual sensations of the final days.

Of the 52 athletes on the squad, 31 represent Eastern clubs or colleges, 22 each the Middle West and Far West with 5 from the South. This compares with the 1924 squad, a bigger group totalling 117, with 48 from the East, 28 from the Middle West, 29 from the Far West and 4 from the South.

Bobby Has Best "Average" Card For U. S. Open

By Horace C. Renegar (Associated Press Sports Writer) ATLANTA (AP)—Robert Tyre Jones—the amazing "Bob o' the links"—did to surrender eventually to Johnny Farrell, handsome fisherman of New York, in the 1928 National Open, but in so doing he continued his record of averaging "championship" card for all of the nine American opens he has entered.

Bobby has averaged 297 strokes for these nine rounds of 72 holes each. His grand total for the 648 holes of nerve wracking combat, not to mention the three playoffs, stands at 2,674 strokes.

Table with 2 columns: Club, Card. Rows include Inverness, Columbia, Skokie, Wood, Oakland, Worcester, Columbus, Oakmont, Olympic.

In all of Jones' rounds, including the four years he was either champion or runner-up, he never had a bird better than 79, or worse than 99. In the national opens in which he has played he has carded four 6's and four 7's.

Holder of at least one national title since 1924 and for the past two years holder of two crowns continuously, Jones finds the outlook slightly changed this year with his last chance for such an honor remaining in the national amateur in September at Braeburn.

MAJOR LEAGUE LEADERS

- (Including Games of July 9) (By the Associated Press) Batting—Hornsby, Braves, .407. Runs—Hottelmyer, Cards, 74. Hits—Douthett, Cards, 117. Doubles—Hornsby, Braves, 28. Triples—Rice, Senators, 11. Home Runs—Ruth, Yankees, 22. Stolen Bases—Mottill, White Sox, 16. Pitching—Lucas, Reds, won 9, lost 2. AMERICAN Batting—Goslin, Senators, .409. Runs—Ruth, Yankees, 85. Hits—Manush, Browns, 116. Doubles—Flagstead, Red Sox, 36. Triples—Rice, Senators, 11. Home Runs—Ruth, Yankees, 22. Stolen Bases—Mottill, White Sox, 16. Pitching—Crowder, Browns, won 10, lost 1.

Outstanding

Here's Larry Benton, pitcher with the New York Giants whose sensational mound work is one of the outstanding features of the major league season to date.

Pirates Knock New York Over; Cardinals Win

American League Standings table with columns for Team, W, L, Pct. Rows include New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Cleveland, Chicago, Washington, Boston, Detroit.

National League Standings table with columns for Team, W, L, Pct. Rows include St. Louis, New York, Cincinnati, Chicago, Brooklyn, Pittsburgh, Boston, Philadelphia.

By the Associated Press Perhaps the Pittsburgh Pirates aren't going anywhere in particular this year but they seem determined to keep the National League championship in the west.

Bottomley Gets Homer Two homers, accounting for five runs, featured the Cardinals' 8 to 5 triumph over the Braves, Jim Bottomley hit his 19th of the year with two one's. A thumb injury kept Frank Felsche on the Cardinal bench for the first time since he joined the club in April 1927.

Yanks Break Even The American league campaign saw the New York Yankee's lead shaved to 11 games, when the champions hit a double header with the St. Louis Browns 6-4 and 12-5, while the Philadelphia Athletics were crushing Cleveland, 14-4.

Knocked out Johnny Hocksdra, Niles, Mich., (7). Syd Mirault, Montreal, knocked out Plum Ross, Chicago, (6).

Indians—Mike Dundas, Rock Island, Ill., outpointed Henri Dewannaker, France, (10). Red Holloway, Indianapolis, won from Paul Anthony, Omaha, Neb., (8).

Cincinnati—Jimmy Harkley, Los Angeles, won from Johnny O'Keefe, Columbus, O., (10). Johnny Nasser, Terre Haute, Ind., shaded Johnny Brown, Cincinnati, (6).

Allentown, Pa.—Gene McHugh, Chicago, defeated Sam Weiss, Nazareth, Pa., (10).

Memphis, Tenn.—Frankie Dugan, Memphis, technically knocked out Red Herring, Utica, N. Y., (3).

Jersey City—Kinny Jones, Youngstown, O., won over George Ward, Elizabeth, N. J., (12).

DAZZY VANCE IS SERIOUS PITCHER

Great Strikeout Chukker Afraid of Riling Batters by Smiling

Dazzy's Strikeout Record table with columns for Year, G, I.P., SO, W, L. Rows include 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928.

By Jay R. Vessels (Associated Press Sports Writer) BROOKLYN (AP)—Dazzy Vance, with the best strikeout record in the major leagues, can't see anything funny in fanning a batter.

Out of the game Dazzy is the funniest man on the Brooklyn bench, but on the mound he has the face of a sphinx. He whiffed 15 batsmen in a recent game and never cracked a smile.

"Why," snapped Dazzy, "should I laugh? Those fellows are in there trying just as hard as I. If I laughed in their faces the next man might get nervous and knock the ball out of the park."

That's the philosophy of one of the greatest speed ball pitchers the game has ever seen. "They're in there trying just as hard as I am"—that, say his teammates, is Dazzy through and through. And that's why he is one of the most popular players, yet the most feared, in the big show.

Can't Rudge Him Fans and umpires alike can't rudge the big six-footer, though, if the home half of an inning ends abruptly, leaving the Dazzer in the wrong mood to take up his position promptly.

There's one thing about this big, sandy-haired hurler whose pitches in the pinches streak across the plate like bolts of lightning. He is never accused of doctoring the ball or nicking the cover to improve his grip.

In fact, Dazzy is more particular about the ball than the most fastidious batsman. He has been known to toss out as many as three balls while pitching to one man.

Vance is just as particular about his windup. It is the full old-fashioned Walter Johnson style. One big swing of the arm upward, around and back upward to catch the full weight of his towering body on the delivery.

They're All Hard "Who's the hardest batter to pitch to?" he was asked. "They're all hard," he replied with a tone indicating the futility of further questioning.

The Dazzer's indifference was quite excusable as he was trying to cool off under the shower after a particularly demoralizing ball game. He had been beaten by one run in a torrid 13-inning battle. A rookie was responsible, so Dazzy was inconsolable. With a man on third and one out, the great speed ball performer was ordered to walk two men and fill the bases to get at this recruit.

This purported soft boy had driven out a homer earlier in the game, but still the strategy seemed of the best. This time he waded into a smoke ball, two men scored and the game was over.

And it took a big, long hot shower to wash the worried look off Dazzy's face.

One of the delegates to the democratic convention asks why aviators test their endurance by flying across the Atlantic. Why not a non-stop Galveston-Amarillo flight?

One of the delegates to the democratic convention asks why aviators test their endurance by flying across the Atlantic. Why not a non-stop Galveston-Amarillo flight?

One of the delegates to the democratic convention asks why aviators test their endurance by flying across the Atlantic. Why not a non-stop Galveston-Amarillo flight?

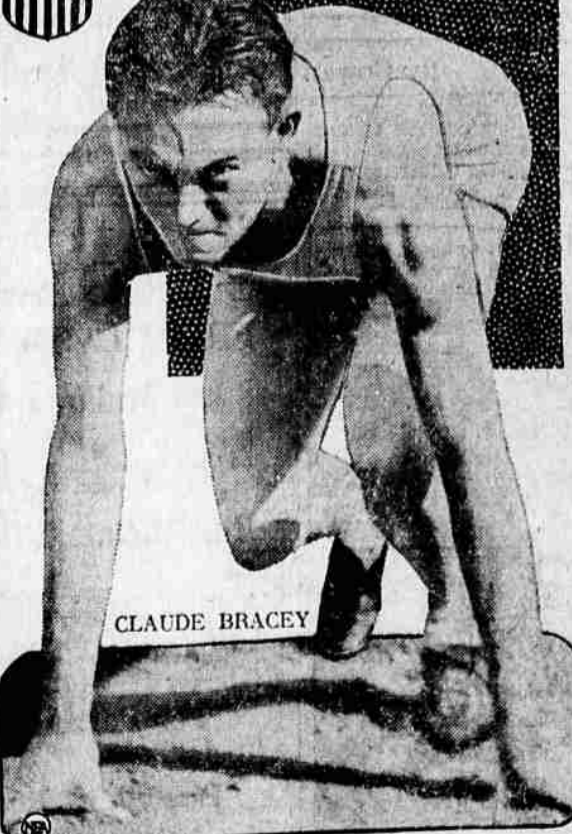

One of the delegates to the democratic convention asks why aviators test their endurance by flying across the Atlantic. Why not a non-stop Galveston-Amarillo flight?

One of the delegates to the democratic convention asks why aviators test their endurance by flying across the Atlantic. Why not a non-stop Galveston-Amarillo flight?

Brooklyn (AP)—Dazzy Vance, with the best strikeout record in the major leagues, can't see anything funny in fanning a batter. Out of the game Dazzy is the funniest man on the Brooklyn bench, but on the mound he has the face of a sphinx. He whiffed 15 batsmen in a recent game and never cracked a smile. "Why," snapped Dazzy, "should I laugh? Those fellows are in there trying just as hard as I. If I laughed in their faces the next man might get nervous and knock the ball out of the park." That's the philosophy of one of the greatest speed ball pitchers the game has ever seen. "They're in there trying just as hard as I am"—that, say his teammates, is Dazzy through and through. And that's why he is one of the most popular players, yet the most feared, in the big show. Can't Rudge Him Fans and umpires alike can't rudge the big six-footer, though, if the home half of an inning ends abruptly, leaving the Dazzer in the wrong mood to take up his position promptly. There's one thing about this big, sandy-haired hurler whose pitches in the pinches streak across the plate like bolts of lightning. He is never accused of doctoring the ball or nicking the cover to improve his grip. In fact, Dazzy is more particular about the ball than the most fastidious batsman. He has been known to toss out as many as three balls while pitching to one man. Vance is just as particular about his windup. It is the full old-fashioned Walter Johnson style. One big swing of the arm upward, around and back upward to catch the full weight of his towering body on the delivery. They're All Hard "Who's the hardest batter to pitch to?" he was asked. "They're all hard," he replied with a tone indicating the futility of further questioning. The Dazzer's indifference was quite excusable as he was trying to cool off under the shower after a particularly demoralizing ball game. He had been beaten by one run in a torrid 13-inning battle. A rookie was responsible, so Dazzy was inconsolable. With a man on third and one out, the great speed ball performer was ordered to walk two men and fill the bases to get at this recruit. This purported soft boy had driven out a homer earlier in the game, but still the strategy seemed of the best. This time he waded into a smoke ball, two men scored and the game was over. And it took a big, long hot shower to wash the worried look off Dazzy's face. One of the delegates to the democratic convention asks why aviators test their endurance by flying across the Atlantic. Why not a non-stop Galveston-Amarillo flight?

Lucky Strike Cigarettes advertisement featuring a portrait of Johnny Farrell and a pack of cigarettes. Text includes "Cream of the Crop", "Wonderful flavor", and "It's toasted".

OLYMPIC HOPES

When Claude Bracey, Rice Institute sophomore, ran the 100 at the Texas Relays in the remarkable time of 9 3/4 seconds, the comers back was that he had the wind behind him. Rice officials, however, said that Bracey was one of the best sprinters in the country and sent him up to the national intercollegiate at Chicago try and make good their word. He did. He won the 100 a few weeks ago to make good their word. He did. He won the 100 from a great field of sprinters, including Hester of Michigan and Simpson, of Ohio State in 9 3/4 seconds. This tied the world's record and set a new record for first and a new back in the 220 with a 20 2/10 performance for first and a new record. Olympic officials regard Bracey as one of the most likely members of the college sprinters who performed most likely members of the college sprinters who performed this year.

A true description of Lucky Strikes. The finest tobaccos thoroughly matured by nature, then toasted to create the most pleasant and satisfying smoke ever produced. Due to the removal of impurities and irritants by toasting, 20,679 doctors state that Luckies are less irritating than any other cigarette.

"It's toasted" That's your pleasure - your protection!

© 1928 The American Tobacco Co., Manufacturers