Mrs. Richardson Entertains P. E. O. Chapter Members

Mrs. A. L. Richardson was hostess to about 20 members of Chapter 1 of P. E. O. yesterday afternoon at a special summer session at her home on O avenue. The meeting was called for initiation and for the state convention report. Mrs. Richardson, who is president of the chapter, gave a most interesting discussion of the state session at Corvallis June 4, 5 and 6. Mrs. C. C. Clifton, of Des Moines, Ia., was a guest of the chapter and spoke on her chapter in Des Moines. Mrs. Clifton is a guest of her sister, Mrs. P. B. Appleby.

The social committee served following the business session yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Edna Cameron was installed noble grand of the Crystal Rebekah lodge No. 50 last evening when installation of officers took place during an unusually important and well attended session, about 80 members being present.

Mrs. Lucy Gillman, retiring noble grand, presided at the session which opened at 8 o'clock. Initiation of three candidates occupied the major share of the evening's lodge program. Mrs. Mabel Anson, district deputy, assisted by Mrs. Mattie Golden, deputy grand marshal, was the installing officer. They conducted the work most impressively.

Mrs. Nellie Piper was seated in the chair of vice grand. Other officers installed last evening were: Mrs. Minnie Bragg, secretary; Mrs. Olive Chadwick, treasurer; Mrs. Helen Brookfield, warden; Mrs. Edna Horrine, conductress; Mrs. Fay Yeske, chaplain; Mrs. Lou Robertson, musician; Mrs. Sarah Beedee, inside guardian; Mrs. Mabel Oesterling, outside guardian; Mrs. Mabel McPherson, right support to noble grand; Mrs. Christine Nielsen, left support to noble grand; Mrs. Katie Arbuckle, right support to vice grand; Mrs. Rebekah Kochensparger, left support to vice grand; Mrs. Mabel McPherson, captain of the degree team.

Following the lengthy lodge meeting a pleasant social hour was enjoyed when refreshments were served. Mrs. Golden, Mrs. Beedee and Mrs. Oesterling being in charge.

One of the largest of a number of social gatherings that took place here yesterday was a picnic enjoyed by 75 members of the Royal Sisters and the Everyman's Bible classes of the Christian church. The picnicers went to the fox farm of Dr. C. E. McPherson, in the Mt. Emily section of the valley, where they had a wicker roast and a supper. The setting for their picnic gave them a particularly fine view of the valley, La Grande, and the new beacon lights which they watched with interest. An hour or so of jollity brought the evening to an end. This was the monthly social meeting of the two organizations.

Carnation Club Is Entertained

Mrs. S. G. Coleman and Mrs. Orville Doane were hostesses at an attractive dinner-bridge at the Saejawan Inn last evening when they entertained the Carnation club. A three-course dinner was served at the hotel dining room at 7 o'clock at a beautifully appointed table. Sweetpeas and sweet william predominated in bouquets that carried out effectively a pink and white color scheme. Covers were placed for 16. Following dinner four tables of bridge were formed in the ladies' parlor. Mrs. E. E. Hensler won first prize and Mrs. Ernest Walden second. Consolation went to Mrs. Porter Webb, a guest.

The parlor was decorated with baskets of summer flowers, including brown-eyed susans for the occasion.

The Carnation club is the social auxiliary to the Degree of Honor.

The presence of three out-of-town lodge members at the regular meeting of the Royal Neighbors last evening helped to make that session a most interesting one. The visitors were Mrs. Ida Hamilton, of Portland, who is state supervisor of the Royal Neighbors; Miss Hazel May, of Meridian, Ida; and Mrs. Cates, of Portland.

About 25 lodge members were present. Mrs. L. W. Weeks, the oracle, presided at the session, which was devoted to routine business.

A regular business session of the W. B. A. took place Tuesday evening at the K. of P. hall with approximately 25 members attending. Mrs. E. N. Jensen, president, was in charge of the session. The new drill manuals were introduced to the lodge and given out.

Honoring Mrs. Ollie Snodsmith, of Bell Rive, Ill. Mrs. Haskell L. Andrews and Mrs. Lyle H. Kiddle were hostesses to a few friends at an informal afternoon yesterday at the home of Mrs. Kiddle on Oak street. A pleasant afternoon of visiting was spent and at its close the hostesses served.

Mrs. Snodsmith is the guest of her sister, Mrs. S. C. Lapham. She has a number of relatives in La Grande and the Grande Ronde valley and she has been entertained at a number of very pleasant informal gatherings during her stay. Mrs. Snodsmith was an honored guest at the Smith-Conley reunion last month at the city park. Mrs. Snodsmith is a cousin of the mother of Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. Kiddle, who lives at Mount Vernon, Ill.

Miss Tiss Married In Boise Cathedral

A wedding that will be of interest to a number of La Grande folk was solemnized quietly on Saturday morning at the St. John's cathedral in Boise when Miss Lucretia Mary Tiss and Franklin J. MacFarland were married. The Rev. Father Verhoeran officiating.

The bride was attended by Miss Catherine Mott and little Inez Nelson, who scattered rose petals in the bridal path. The bride's gown was french white chiffon over ivory satin. Her veil of tulle was held in place by a bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and sweetpeas. The bridesmaid wore a soft rose frock of Elizabeth crepe with a rose hat and carried shell-pink sweetpeas. The flower girl wore a dainty frock of turquoise blue.

The bride was given away by her father, William J. Tiss. The bridesmaid was attended by the brother of the bride, Nicholas Tiss, of Los Angeles.

Miss Tiss is the daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. William Tiss, of Boise, and is a sister of George Tiss, of La Grande. She is a graduate of St. Teresa's academy and took training for work with the deaf at Gooding, Ida. Miss Tiss, after training at the University of California, was appointed head of the deaf department of San Diego, and became well known in her work there. She was entertained extensively at San Diego following the nuptial announcement.

Mr. MacFarland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John MacFarland, of Chicago. He is a member of Kappa Delta Rho and attended school at Cornell and the University of Illinois. He was formerly chief accountant of the California highway commission and has accepted a position in New York City.

A wedding breakfast was served following the ceremony. The couple left on a honeymoon, keeping the itinerary a secret. They will be at home in New York after Oct. 15. Mr. and Mrs. George Tiss and their son, of La Grande, attended the wedding.

The home of Miss Nancy Young, on D avenue, was the scene of a pleasant afternoon yesterday when 20 members of the Home department were entertained by Mrs. G. H. Baker and Miss Young. A short business meeting at which the Home department president, Mrs. A. S. Anderson, was in charge, preceded an afternoon of visiting. At an appropriate hour the hostesses served refreshments.

LADD CANYON (Special)—One of the largest children's parties in Ladd Canyon for several years was the birthday party given last Saturday by Mrs. Henry Council for her little daughter, Barbara (Bobby) on her sixth anniversary.

The children spent the afternoon playing games, little Marjorie Brown, of La Grande, winning the girls' prize, and Clifford Crawley, of La Grande, winning the boys'.

The feature of the afternoon was a beautiful birthday cake with six lighted candles, served during the refreshment hour. The honor guest, "Bobby," received presents from all of the 17 guests. Those in attendance were: Wayne Peebler, Laverne and Margaret McCauley, Mabel Austin, Jack and "Dempsey" Ferguson, Jack Matott, Leona McClure, and Daisy and Beale Nantz, all of Ladd Canyon, and Glenn and Juanta Clark, Marjorie and Junior Brown, Lyle Hansen, Jack Koyte and Clifford Crawley, of La Grande.

Bridge Pointers

By Milton C. Work

Today we give the third of a series of three playing situations which apply equally to Auction Bridge and Contract Bridge. The cards of the Dummy and Declarer are given below; contract No. Trump, score love all (nothing-nothing). To the first trick West leads the Ten of Clubs and East plays the Four. What should Declarer play from Closed Hand on the first trick, and how should he plan his campaign? Make up your mind what you would do before you read the answer that follows.

The Correct Play
Inasmuch as Dummy has the first trick won, and consequently the apparently natural play for Closed Hand is presented here as a problem, the astute reader doubts will surmise that South should play his Ace. Correct; and this seemingly foolish play ensures game. If South play low, game would be far from assured.

By winning the first trick with the Club Ace and then leading Diamonds until the adverse Ace is forced out, Declarer must make two Spades, two Hearts, four Diamonds and two Clubs—a total of ten tricks, or one more than game. With nine Diamonds established in Dummy and a Club entry in that hand, there is no way the adversaries could manipulate their cards to prevent the above result.

If declarer should permit Dummy's Club Queen to win the first trick, he would have Jack-Ten left in Dummy and Ace-Eight in Closed Hand; then, if the adversaries play their cards correctly, Dummy would never get in via the Club route. The chances are that the five Diamonds held adversely, are divided 3-2, and that the Ace is in the hand that has three rather than in the hand that has two; it would be a very foolish adversary who, holding Ace-x-x and seeing five Diamonds in Dummy, would part with the Ace until the Closed Hand had no more of the suit with which to put Dummy in the lead.
