AT THE THEATERS

"Night Life" Arcade Film On Sunday

"Night Life" will be the feature picture attraction coming to the Arcade theater on Sunday.

In the cast are such well known screen players as Alice Day, Johnny Harron, Eddie Gribbon, Walter Hiers, Lionel Braham, Kitty Barlow, Patricia Avery, Earl Metcalf, Archduke Leopold, Knitz Edwards, Violet Palmer, and Lydia Yeaman Titus.

The picture was directed by George Archambaud from the original story by Albert Shelby LeVino.

"Night Life" is a dramatic story of life in Vienna, before, during and after the great world war.

A team of sleight-of-hand artists dominated by the younger of the two men, are favorites at one of the Vienna Beer Gardens and are aspiring to higher places for their act when war is declared and both go to the front.

On their return to Vienna they find the city in the throes of starvation and unemployment and to keep from starving start on a career of relieving prosperous profiteers of their easily-gotten visible wealth.

The young man falls in love with a wisp of a girl who, through hunger, attempts to steal his watch. The romance is frowned upon by the older man who sees his younger companion succumbing to the lure of the straight path.

A robbery is committed and the girl realizes that the man she loves is a thief and pleads for him to reform. As a result she is sent to prison.

Bids will be received to the hour of 7:30 P. M. Wednesday, July 25th, 1928, and must be accompanied by a certified check, or bidder's bond in the sum of ten percent of the amount bid as a guarantee of the acceptance and completion of contract if awarded. Mystery Drama At Colonial On Sunday

Don't let anything interfere with a trip to the Colonial theater Saturday where the picturization of that famous old stage melodrama, "On the Stroke of Twelve," by Joseph LeBaron, is showing to enthusiastic audiences as the featured attraction.

Nothing has been left out of the original version and many more thrills have been added than were possible with the limited scope of the stage. It is filled with a variety of breath-taking episodes.

The story concerns a wealthy young man falsely accused of murdering his own father, but circumstantial evidence sends him to jail. There he befriends a prisoner whose main thought in life is to have one day of freedom in order to avenge the wrong done him by a false friend.

There is a jail break in which the youth refuses to take part, in fact he captures a number of the escaped convicts—not that he is a double-crosser, but because he believes they have taken the wrong way out—and saves the small daughter of the governor, which wins him a pardon.

His pal has escaped and comes to him to seek a hiding place until he shall have accomplished his purpose. Then they discover that they have a common enemy—the same man is directly responsible for the incarceration of both. How they get their revenge is one of the most exciting episodes of this thriller.

The final sequence takes place at sea, with the two men dropping from an airplane to the deck of a little schooner on which is the villain and sweetheart of the youth. And revenge is sweet.

Reginald Denny Coming Sunday In Great Comedy

If you should happen to be one of those persons who tells little lies just to avoid a little explaining "That's My Daddy" starring Reginald Denny at the Star theater Sunday was made especially for your joy.

The picture is unparalleled in its supreme humor. It shows just what might happen to a person telling a white lie for somebody else's benefit. It plunges the benign Denny into a labyrinth of situations which require the adding to the original lie to such an extent that Denny is no longer himself.

Denny wrote the story and it proves that this jolly English comedian is more than just actor. The story is perfect.

Barbara Kent is delightful as the nurse-maid. She is very attractive and deserves all the cinema honors which have been heaped upon her in her year and a half in motion pictures.

Lillian Rich is exceedingly statuesque in her society role and as without doubt one of the most stunning blondes on the screen.

There is a little girl in this picture called Jane La Verne. This we are told, is her first picture but it looks as though she had been on the screen about fifteen years she is so clever. But that couldn't be so, for she is just four years old.

Mathilde Brunage and Armand Kalis are exceptional as is the cast supporting cast including Wilton Bengt, Charles Coleman and Art Currier.
