Visiting Women Complimented At Informal Party

To compliment Mrs. A. V. Lindgren and Mrs. G. L. Upton, of Portland, Mrs. A. T. Hill asked in a number of their friends on Saturday for an informal afternoon that proved to be one of the prettiest affairs of the summer.

A delightfully informal afternoon of chatting was spent at the Hill home on First street.

Pink gladioli of the first cutting from Mrs. Hill's gardens were used about the rooms.

At the tea hour, for which a mulberry color scheme was used, Mrs. Hill was assisted by Mrs. P. B. Appleby. Mrs. A. R. Hunter cut the ices and Mrs. Robert Eakin poured. A centerpiece in mulberry and the dainty charm that only old-fashioned flowers may lend, Canterbury bells, sweet rocket and Japanese hair bells—these were among the lavender of the banquet.

Guests were served from the dining room and were seated at small tables, several of which were placed about the porch.

The flower gardens about the home, in their summer prime, had their share in making the afternoon a particularly happy one.

Mrs. Lindgren is visiting here with her many friends. Just now she is the house guest of Mrs. R. L. Poarch, while for several days she was a guest of Mrs. Robert Eakin. Mrs. Dutton is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Hunter. Both visitors have been entertained on numerous occasions by La Grande friends in club, church and social circles.

An interesting musical and speaking program was a feature of the regular dinner meeting of the Oliver P. Morton relief corps Saturday afternoon with 30 in attendance. Mrs. Laura Braden, president, presided at the session. Dinner was served at 12 o'clock at the dining rooms of the K. of P. hall. At about 2 o'clock the regular business meeting began. Members voted to have a picnic at the city park on the third Sunday of August, Aug. 19. The sons and daughters of veterans are being invited to this affair.

George T. Cochran addressed the W. R. C. members during the afternoon, giving a most interesting talk relative to the work and significance of the organizations. Miss Myrtle Wilcock sang two numbers and Andrew Loney Jr. played two cornet solos. He was accompanied by Mrs. Roy Mattoon.

The next meeting will be held the first Monday afternoon in August and will be purely a business session. There will be no dinner.

McCall Family In Pleasant Picnic

Of the many pleasant picnics that took place yesterday was that which brought members of the McCall family together with their mother, Mrs. Sarah McCall, at the city park. The visit of Mrs. L. A. McAllister, of Wendell, Ida., a daughter of Mrs. McCall, occasioned the gathering. With Mrs. McAllister were her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Deithrich and their children. They left this morning for Idaho after their short visit here. Members of the family who picnicked with the visitors yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McCall, of Haines, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde R. Seitz, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McCall, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Bacon and the mother, Mrs. McCall.

Honoring Mrs. Ada Walters, of Corvallis, who is visiting here with relatives and friends, her sister, Mrs. Jabe Conley, entertained at a most delightful picnic at Radium Springs yesterday. Mrs. Walters is one of the most esteemed of the daughters of pioneers, being the daughter of Ben Brown, who built the first house in La Grande. She attended the Union County Pioneer association picnic last Thursday. Her sojourn here is occasioning many happy visits among old friends and the folk who have resided here always. Mrs. Walters is the sister of Mrs. J. A. Garity, and Mrs. Hester Ellsworth. Those who enjoyed yesterday's picnic were Mrs. Ray Goodnough, Mrs. L. L. McKennon, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Conley and daughters, Lois and Creo, Mr. and Mrs. Jabe Conley and Mrs. Walters.

Wallowa Couple Married Sunday

At a quiet wedding solemnized here yesterday, Mae Birdie Moffit became the bride of Ernest L. Rook, the Rev. F. O. Hess performing the ceremony. The wedding took place at the Baptist parsonage. The young couple will continue to live in Wallowa where both have resided. Mrs. Rook is employed at an office at Wallowa, while Mr. Rook is a Bowman-Hicks employe.

They have many friends in Wallowa county.

A wedding that will be of much interest to La Grande folk took place Sunday morning at the Lutheran parsonage when Mrs. Leah Becker became the bride of George A. Livingstone. The Rev. Leif H. Awes performed the ceremony, which was solemnized quietly. Mr. and Mrs. Jess Towery accompanied the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Livingstone left soon after for Wallowa lake, where they spent the day. Both are well known in La Grande and their friends wish them happiness. Mr. Livingstone is employed at the Bowman-Hicks Lumber company. They will be at home at 2708 North Ash street.

Announcements

Because so many members are out of the city on vacation trips, the regular meeting of the Degree of Honor, which was to have been held tomorrow night, has been indefinitely postponed.

Bridge Pointers

By Milton C. Work

When the initial bid is one No Trump and the next player passes, the No Trumper's partner, whenever he has a sufficiently strong hand of the right make-up, should try to shut out a bid by the fourth player by jumping his partner's uncontested one No Trump to two No Trump. Hands illustrating this jump bid were given last Monday; and today we deal with hands strong enough for the jump but with which, for some reason, it is inadvisable.

When the Third Hand (the No Trumper's partner) has a strong Major of five cards or more, he naturally will bid that Major rather than two No Trumps; with a very long-strong Minor he will bid three of the Minor rather than two No Trumps. But even with a hand containing No Trump distribution and strong enough for the jump (three or four high cards that probably will take tricks at No Trump), the jump should not be made in every case. For example:

No. 1	No. 2
♠A-K-X-X	J-10-X-X
♥K-X-X	A-Q-X-X
♦Q-X-X	K-J-X
♣K-X-X	X-X

In neither of these hands is a jump advisable because, if the Fourth Hand should make the lead-directing bid and it be passed by the two succeeding players, the holder of either No. 1 or No. 2 would be in position to bid two of a Major suit. This would show the original No Trump bidder that the Major suit was a four-carder because a five-card or longer holding would have been bid on the first round. It is not advisable as a rule to take out partner's No Trump with a four-card Major; but if the adversaries have a bid, it is very possible that the four-card Major will work better than the No Trump, especially when the No Trumper knows its length and is not induced to let it stand rather than bid No Trump over it because he thinks it one card longer. So when the Third Hand has a strong four-card Major to fall back upon, he should not jump Dealer's No Trump.

MENUS

BREAKFAST — Baked sweet apples, cereal, cream, little-pig sausages, watercress, crisp toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON — Cream of green soup, toast sticks, rye bread, fresh carrot salad, caramel custard, fruitade.

DINNER — Chicken loaf, scalloped potatoes, beet greens, radishes and onions, chilled watermelon cones, milk, coffee.

The hot weather breakfast demands all consideration and effort. Often children as well as grown-ups experience loss of appetite from intense heat and at noontime are unable to eat. So the hearty breakfast served in the cool of the morning is essential.

Cream of Green Soup

One pound spinach, 1 bunch parsley, 4 cups stock, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon sugar, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1 scant teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1 egg.

Wash spinach and parsley thoroughly. Cook in stock or water until tender, about 20 minutes. Rub through a sieve. Melt butter, stir in flour and add sugar, salt, lemon juice and pepper. Slowly add the stock and puree and bring to the boiling point, stirring constantly. Boil five minutes and stir in egg slightly beaten. Remove from the fire and serve at once.

ENGINEER HURT

MARTINEZ — Engineer W. E. Soby of Richmond was injured when his Santa Fe freight locomotive crushed the road bed to a siding used for unloading gravel cars at Muir and slide into a ditch. He was brought to a hospital here where injuries were pronounced minor.
