Relief Society To Convene Here On Next Friday

One of the important and largest women's meetings of the country will take place here Friday afternoon when the annual Union State Relief society will convene at the hotel room of the L. D. R. Recreational hall. Mrs. Evelyn Rosenbaum, who is president of the society, will be in charge. There will be delegates here from all of the wards throughout the state. Prizes, trophies, Mount Glen, flags and La Grande, and a large attendance is expected.

La Grande members are working enthusiastically in preparation of the afternoon meetings into which a host of good things in the way of program will be literally crammed. Then, too, there will be a social hour. This year a contest of relay leaders is to be particularly featured at the session and will be given special stress throughout the meeting. Mrs. G. A. Bean as class leader, will be in charge.

The work of the relief society is divided into four departments, theology, literature, social service, and work and business, each weekly meeting being devoted to one of these. Leadership work for the various departments will be discussed. There is to be a demonstration of a literature lesson on Vachel Lindsay as one feature of the afternoon. Mrs. Clyde Metcalf will read Lindsay's "Gunga" with Mrs. G. A. Bean playing for her. The regular business meeting will also take place and there will be musical numbers and other entertainment features.

The meeting will begin at 2:30 o'clock and at 4 o'clock luncheon will be served. At 5 o'clock there will be a drama contest between the First and Second La Grande wards and the Eaton ward. Prizes and a prize is to be given. The contest will be made up entirely of questions of the relief society. A very interesting meeting is anticipated. The public is invited and there will be a nominal admission charge.

The relief society is one of the oldest organizations of the church and was created in 1842. There are now 6,100 members. The state board members are Mrs. Rosenbaum, Mrs. W. D. Banks who is first counselor; Mrs. Mary H. Bean, second counselor; Mrs. Carl Zundel, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Lewis Adams, Mrs. C. B. Hiram and Mrs. Henry Blankard, and Mrs. G. A. Bean, class leaders. Members of the relief society will have their beautiful new curtains which they have just made up for the occasion.

Mrs. I. M. Dolan was hostess on Friday afternoon to members of the Union State Relief club at a delightful summer party at her home on Island city road. For the affair hundreds of summer flowers were attractively arranged about the rooms. Tea tables were set away during the afternoon. Mrs. Carl Perrine making high scores. Mrs. Arthur Mathland, of Marshfield, who has been the guest of Mrs. Albert Wardell of Island city, for a week was a rich guest. Mrs. Mathland went on to Baker Sunday night and will return here in a few days to complete her visit with Mrs. Wardell. Following the afternoon, Mrs. Gilbert Hunter will be hostess to the club at its next meeting, Aug. 10.

Miss Weimer And Mr. Price Married

Miss Eva Wetmore, of Hilgard, became the bride of John S. Price Sunday at a quiet wedding at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Weimer, of the Pine Point service station. The wedding was solemnized at 2:20 o'clock. Bishop Grant Bean, of the Second Ward L. D. R. church, officiating. Relatives and immediate friends witnessed the impressive ceremony.

IT ISN'T A HOME WITHOUT A TELEPHONE

How in the world can a young person expect to become "popular" — unless there is a Telephone in the home?

We don't say it can't be done. It might. But it's doubtful.

AND YOU CAN HAVE ONE FOR A FEW CENTS A DAY!

THIS NEW OVERNIGHT CASE of striking modernistic design is of brown and tan lizard grain.

The bride was charming in a gown of yellow georgette. Following the wedding a dinner served by the bride's mother. The couple have many friends in La Grande who wish them happiness.

A bride of the week was Miss Olive Rose-Moffitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Moffitt, whose marriage to James H. Clough, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Clough, was solemnized Monday night at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Theodore Smith of the United Presbyterian church read the service.

Miss Iola Ferguson, accompanied by Miss Jean Harper, sang after Miss Jean Harper played a Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was a princess gown of pale pink georgette made with tulle and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. She was attended by Miss Catherine Rhoades as maid of honor, in a frock of jade lace. The attendants, who formed a ribbon train, were the Misses Margaret Tucker, Irene Smith, Virginia Bennett, Iola Kelley, Dorothy Mettler, and Ruth Johnson. Jack Clough, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Entertain Club At Anson Home

Grange Hall (Special)—There were 30 present when Mrs. Sara Anson and Mrs. J. E. Anson entertained members of the Country Women's club at the home of the former Friday afternoon. Following the regular business session at which the vice president, Mrs. William Taylor, presided in the absence of Mrs. Robert MacIntosh, president, Mrs. J. E. Anson, who had charge of the afternoon's entertainment, presented an interesting program made up of songs, recitations and contests. At the close of the afternoon the hostess served watermelon and punch.

"BABY OF NATIONAL COMMITTEE" NOW A DEMOCRATIC VICE CHAIRMAN

WICHITA, Kan. (NEA Service)—A way back in the '70s of the last century, a pioneer Kansas woman named Mrs. Laura V. Gardner was demanding that women be given the right to vote.

"Why shouldn't I be allowed a hand in running the affairs of state?" she used to ask. "Here I am, rearing five children without assistance. Shouldn't I have as much to say about government as a man?"

Mrs. Gardner lived to see woman suffrage a fact. At the time of her death she was a member of the board of education. And now her daughter, Mrs. Florence Gardner Parley, of Wichita, is justifying her mother's faith in woman suffrage. Par Mrs. Parley, "baby member" of the democratic national committee, has just been named one of the five-vice chairmen. As assistant to Mrs. Nellie Tagline Bates, of Wyoming, she is second in command of women's activities.

Announcements

By Sister Mary. BREAKFAST—Peas, cereal, cream, crisp broiled bacon, buttered biscuits, milk, coffee. LUNCHEON—Tomato and ham sandwiches, cream and apple salad, brown bread, milk, tea. DINNER—Salisbury steak, horseradish cream, baked new potatoes, peas, beans, cucumber and lettuce salad, filled cantaloupe, milk, coffee.

MENUS

During the summer months when much fresh fruit is secured "an appetizer" for breakfast, the housekeeper will save herself many stained napkins if she will provide finger-bowls with the fruit course. Fruit can be eaten in a cut in slices about 1/2 inch thick and broiled quickly first on one side and then on the other. Medium-sized ripe tomatoes are peeled and cut in slices of the same thickness. These are dipped in melted butter and broiled quickly. Ham and tomato slices are arranged in alternating layers in a hot dish and they sprays of parsley broasted in the ham fat are sprinkled over just before sending to the table. This makes the tomato and ham sandwiches suggested in the luncheon menu.

Blueberry Biscuits. Two cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons butter, about 1/2 cup milk, 1 cup washed and dried blueberries. Wash berries and spread on a soft towel to dry. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Rub in butter and add berries. Cut in milk. Roll on a lightly floured rolling board. Cut to rounds and bake in a hot oven for 15 or 20 minutes. Serve warm with lots of butter.

COMMITTED TO ASYLUM. OREGON CITY, Ore., July 31 (AP)—Pearl Paquette, 37, mother of a baby found abandoned in the woods near here two weeks ago, was committed to the state institution for the feeble-minded late yesterday. The babe is to be turned over to the St. Anne Baby Home, at Trappist.

result of this friendship was her election, seven years ago, as national committeewoman from Kansas. In that capacity Mrs. Parley attended the Madison Square convention of the democratic party some years ago, performing her share at the game and making new contacts with party leaders from other sections. At the Jackson Day dinner in Washington last winter she was first mentioned for the post of vice chairman.

Parley's suitability to one of her worthwholds. "There is no doubt in my mind that we can carry the country this year if we stand united and work harmoniously," she says. "Our purpose should be the success of democratic ideals. I believe these ideas of representative government will triumph if we work for them."

A few years ago Mrs. Parley's favorite form of recreation was horseback riding. But Wichita now has eight airplane factories, and Mrs. Parley has become an aviation enthusiast. Now she divides her spare time between horses and planes. Not long ago she and several others made an extended tour of the west by airplane.

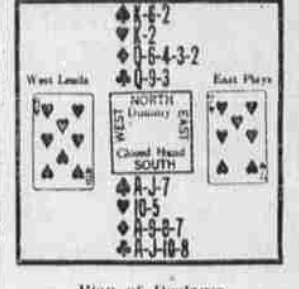

Bridge Pointers

By Milton C. Work

We are giving this week three more situations which show the importance of planning how to make the most of Declarer's 26 cards, and doing it as soon as the Dummy is exposed. Today, tomorrow and Thursday, the contract, the card led and the cards of Closed Hand and Dummy will be given; the question will be how Declarer should plan to play the hand. The answers will appear the same day, but readers are urged to make up their minds for themselves before they read it.

Today South is Declarer; contract No Trump; score love-all (nothing-noting); Giant of Hearts led.

Declarer should play the King of Hearts from Dummy, that being the only chance to take a Heart trick. The rule of eleven shows that there are three Hearts higher than the eight spot in the West hand, Dummy and Closed Hand combined. East must have one also, but it cannot be the Ace. The eight is the fourth best of a Q-J-8, A-Q-9-8, A-J-8-8 and Q-J-8-8; but it would not be led from the first or last named combinations (from Q-J-8-8 the Queen would be led). So the leader must hold the Ace and Nine with either the Queen or Jack and East must have Queen or Jack.

After winning the first trick Declarer, to make game, must take eight more tricks before losing the lead. One adversary or the other must have had at least five Hearts; consequently should Declarer lose the lead before making game, they will run enough Hearts to have game.

Declarer cannot hope to run the Diamonds without permitting the adversaries to win a trick; hence, quickly has only chance for game is to take (in addition to the Heart already won) four Clubs, three Spades and the Ace of Diamonds. This he can do if the spade and Club finesses work. His method of play should be:

Trick 2, lead Queen of Clubs and, unless East covers, play Jack or Ten from Closed Hand. If the Queen wins, follow with the Nine; playing Eight from Closed Hand, and then lead Clubs for the third Club finesse. He should lead next Ace of Diamonds from Closed Hand and, if the King does not fall, follow it with a small Spade, winning in Dummy—making a total of seven tricks; and then try the Spade finesse for game.
