OFFICE CAT

By Junius

No one ever likes the picture he makes in a tramcar.

A young mother who had hired a household nurse to care for her first-born child noticed that in preparing the baby's bath, the nurse did not use a thermometer to test the temperature of the water before placing the infant in the tub. "Why, indeed?" remarked the mother, "how do you know whether the water is right to bathe baby in?"

"Surely I tell by the color of the child," replied the nurse.

"By the color of the child?" asked the puzzled mother, "What do you mean?"

"I put him in the water," said the nurse, "and if he turns red it's too hot, but if he turns blue, the water is too cold."

Just Married (with disgust)

"Why that pie looks just like a wafer!"

Also Just Married (Sobbingly)

"That 10-10-pie is a co-associate!"

Rather a sharp winter storm last night.

"I hadn't noticed," I was talking with my wife all evening."

It did not seem to be doing much on vacation, except smoke, mother and the girls selected the place.

The woman at the cottage door folded her arms defiantly.

"No, I don't want any of your burglar alarms," she snapped to the agent.

"The woman next door told me you wouldn't."

Her expression changed.

"Oh, indeed? What did she say?"

"That if we no use trying here you had nothing to steal!"

"She said that, did she?" Young man, I've changed my mind. I'll take some for every door and window in the place."

Lawyer: "Why don't you settle this out of court?"

Client: "That's what we'd prefer to do, sir, but the police always stop us."

AT THE THEATERS

Corinne Griffith In Comedy Romance

Corinne Griffith makes her United Artists debut in "The Garden of Eden," a comedy romance film based on the stage play of the same name, her picture now playing at the Acme theater. Louise Dresser, Lowell Sherman and Charles Ray head a distinguished supporting cast. Lewis Milestone, who made "Two Arabian Knights," directed "The Garden of Eden."

Ample, satirical, life leaves and Paradise are only symbolically present in this "Garden of Eden."—Or it is a modern clothes version of the oldest story in the world. It is at the Hotel Eden, outside Monte Carlo, that many humorous and romantic adventures befall Tom Tellan, French shop-keeper and a clerk with her friend, the Marquessess de Grey. The startling climax to these adventures is a wedding which ends in a riot.

Rudolph Bernauer and Rudolph Oesterleher, two Austrians, wrote the stage play, "The Garden of Eden," which has been continuously on the boards in Germany for three years. In England Tallulah Bankhead played the stage role; in New York Sylvia Field, Corinne Griffith and Walter Marsden (Corinne in Mrs. Morosco in private life) were in Germany last year and there they saw "The Garden of Eden," calling Joseph M. Schenck promptly that they would like that play purchased, to be on the screen.

"The woman next door told me you wouldn't."

Her expression changed.

"Oh, indeed? What did she say?"

"That if we no use trying here you had nothing to steal!"

"She said that, did she?" Young man, I've changed my mind. I'll take some for every door and window in the place."

Lawyer: "Why don't you settle this out of court?"

Client: "That's what we'd prefer to do, sir, but the police always stop us."

Hoot Gibson Here In "Wild West Show"

Hoot Gibson, famous cowboy star and celebrated for having won hundreds of medals in the United States for his riding ability, has also received numerous prizes in Australia for his skill in managing horses. Gibson, whose exciting Western picture for Universal, "The Wild West Show" will open at the Star theater today, won the championship of the American Congress of Cowboys, an Australian rodeo in which the best riders of that country take part.

Hoot made the journey to Australia with a circus troupe, in which he was featured as the lead rider. After witnessing his daring horsemanship, some of the native cowboys invited him to enter their rodeo and compete with the finest riders that the island could offer.

The screen star had sustained a twisted knee while coming across the Pacific on the boat. As a result, he had been forced to abandon some of his most difficult tricks while the troupe were in Australia.

Not daunted by the injury, however, Hoot entered the rodeo. With his knee tightly bound, he performed in his most brilliant way, although the injured member gave him considerable pain. He not only won the judges' decision for the best riding displayed at the American Congress of Cowboys but also received the most unanimous praise from the audience and the other contestants in this victory of American horsemanship.

Thorough Gulliver, beautiful heroine of the "Colleen" series, plays the leading feminine role in "The Wild West Show." Others in the

"Silent Avenger" Features Dog Star

Over the highest railroad trestle in the United States rushed the express train, headed to absolute destruction on account of the plans of some scheming scoundrel—there was not a human being who could save the train—but a dog could and did!

That's what the producers of the Gotham Production, "The Silent Avenger" promise the patrons of the Colonial theater, Thursday, when "Thunder" the Marvel dog is started in what is claimed as his latest and greatest picture.

The dog stopping the express train is merely one exciting moment in an hour of concentrated thrills. "The Silent Avenger" contains many other things of photographic interest. For instance, a "hand-to-hand" fight between a grizzly bear and "Thunder," the police dog ought to make the most of these film fan take notes. Furthermore, the dog does not beat the bear, which is just as it would be in real life. Mr. Dehn ends the battle by knocking "Thunder" off a high cliff with one sweep of his paw—but this gives "Thunder" the chance to rescue a boy drowning.

Dart Clever, whose movie directorial debut, "George Chasing," Robert E. Homans, Clarence Wilson, "Huck" Black and with Duane Thompson filling the only feminine role in the cast.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause." But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Resalol, or Resalol, has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lax, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation, choose a Resalol Orderly at night. Next day bright, get 3 for 25c today at the nearest Retail drug store.
