The two new men at the stone quarry had been set the task of unshaping an enormous slab of stone. After half an hour of hard work, involving the breakage of two sledgehammers, the slab remained intact. The foreman was disgusted.

"Give me that hammer," he said to one of the pair, and with one mighty blow the slab was broken in two.

"There," said the foreman complacently, "that's the idea."

"Oh, yes," agreed the other. "But don't forget that me an' Tommy 'ere 'as been softening it for the last 'arf 'our."

"Did you get anything?" whispered the brawler on the ground as his pal emerged from the window.

"Now, the bloke who lives here is a lawyer," replied the other in disgust.

"That's hard luck," said the first. "Did you lose anything?"

Wife: "Did you think as much of your old gold that you don't even remember when we were married?"

John: "Surely I do. It was the day after I sank that 30-foot putt."

"Doctor," said a lady to her neighbor at the table, "can you tell me who that horrible looking man is over there?"

"Why, yes, I can. That's my brother."

"Oh, pardon," stammered the lady, all flustered. "I ought to have known it by the resemblance."

King: "Did you ever see a three dollar bill?"

King: "No."

King: "Well, here's one from my pocket."

Star: "Ed, let me introduce my husband."

Manager: "Delighted. I'm always glad to meet any husband of yours."

A New York lady who punched her husband in the eye probably was only expressing her matrimonial right.

Musical Star At Colonial In F. B. O. Show On Sunday

Particular interest is being evidenced in the coming Broadway production, "Crooks Can't Win," which will open at the Colonial theater on Sunday because in it will be seen the first screen appearance of Joe E. Brown, famous musical comedy star of Broadway.

Brown, who is perhaps best known as the star of the musical comedy success, "Twinkle, Twinkle," recently decided to try the films after having appeared in every other line of show business. In "Crooks Can't Win" he plays the comedy role of a fresh newspaper reporter who does much to unravel the mystery upon which the plot is based.

Although "Crooks Can't Win" is a melodrama, rather an unusual type of production for the first screen appearance of a musical comedy star, the part is said to be admirably suited for Brown's talents. He is one of an excellent cast, which includes Ralph Lewis, Thelma Hall, Sam Nelson, Eugene Strong, James Eagle and Charles Hall.

This story appeared in one of the chief daily newspapers throughout the United States and was received with great acclaim. It is said that the picture is even more thrilling than was the story.

Sally O'Neill At Arcade Tomorrow In Comedy-Drama

It isn't always numbers that make a big act for a picture, and proof of that is offered in "Rachin's Paradise," a Thriller-Comedy feature to be shown Sunday at the Arcade theater. Sally O'Neill, the star, has in a surprisingly short time won a large following and an enviable reputation in roles that are a reflection of her own vivacious personality. In "Rachin's Paradise" she is delightfully cast as "Rachin's Paradise," a comedy genre sprinkled with drama and there are three roles offering comic possibilities, three former Bennett comedians were cast. They are Ralph Graves, Eddie Gribbon, and Jimmy Finlayson. For the motherly Irish woman, Sylvia Ashton was selected, while Jean Lavon, a wily blonde, fills an amusing characterization. Then

A splendid buy in an apartment house, which is well located four large apartments, always filled, income in addition to one apartment occupied by owner, $75 per month. Reason for disposing of property not financial, this property always has been a good investment. A small payment will place you in possession and the income will make the future payments. A small house might be considered as part payment. Here is an opportunity for some happy wife to assist materially in preparing for the rainy days that are sure to come.

LA ROCHELLE, France, Sept. 1 (AP)—The condition of Sir J. Austen Chamberlain, British foreign minister, has shown little improvement on the first two days of his sea voyage to the coast of California. He was carried aboard the steamer Oregon at Liverpool on Thursday and today, when the ship sailed for Los Angeles, he received official French callers.

Lady Chamberlain received the callers and expressed her husband's regret at his inability to see them. She accepted a huge bouquet and acknowledged the French wishes for the prompt recovery of her husband.
